NEBRASKA CONSIDERED SYRACUSE MURDERER

Professor Beckwith of Syracuse University, who murdered the dean of the college of business administration of that university and then killed himself, was at one time seriously considered for a place on the University of Nebraska faculty, according to Dean J. E. LeRossignol of the College of Business Administration.

Dean LeRossignol said that Professor Beckwith was highly recommended and that it was only after careful examination of his qualifications that his application was rejected. Dean LeRossignol pointed out that the moral of this coincidence of such potentialities is that recommendations are made too carelessly and that more caution should be exercised in them.

NEBRASKA ACADEMY OF SCIENCE HOLDS MEETING

Thirty-first Annual Gathering of Organization Held in Bessey Hall April 1 and 2.

The thirty-first annual meeting of the Nebraska Academy of Science was held in Bessey Hall April 1 and 2. Prof. J. C. Jensen, of the Nebraska Wesleyan University, was elected president to take the place of Prof. Elda R. Walker, of the botany department.

Grading students is an exact science, according to Professor Jensen, who addressed the Academy. "There is a wide variance among the marks given to students by different instructors, even in identical courses. Since honors and recommendations for positions are based largely on grades recorded it is desirable that there be uniformity of marking in all departments of a school. Studies extended over a period of nearly six years at Nebraska Wesleyan University show some progress toward uniformity of grades can be obtained by a publicity method in which teachers are apprised of their shortcomings as compared with the faculty median grade. The habit of marking high or low is partly a matter of personality and therefore it seems necessary to adopt a scaling system on the Missouri or Nevada plan in order to reach the desired goal fully."

Dr. Miles J. Breuer, Lincoln physician and scientist, in the course of discussion of the "Principles of Dream Analysis" Saturday morning brought out the method of dream interpretation, and gave examples of dreams illustrating the principles. Dr. Breuer said the study of dreams has assumed a definite place in medical practice, affording a key to the diagnosis and treatment of certain types of nervous diseases.

Causes for the decline and increase in population in the various sections of this state were discussed by Miss Esther S. Anderson, instructor in geography in the University of Nebraska, before the earth science section of the Academy.

Two more lectures of special interest will be printed in a later issue.

FIRST GOLF CLASSES BEGIN THIS WEEK

A class in golf for University students will be organized at the course at Antelope park Tuesday and Wednesday of this week at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, according to announcement by the athletic department.

The class will be divided into sections of four and six for purposes of instruction. The class will be held for 75 minutes twice a week for three weeks in the form of golf strokes.

The fee is $3 for registration in a University class besides an additional fee of $3 to the Golf Club for the use of the municipal links. For credit of one hour it will be necessary to report at the course twice each week until November 15, 1921 (during school terms) and to play or attend the class practices three hours each week.

Further announcement of the nature of this week's program will be made Friday.

ORGANIZATIONS DELAY WORK ON CORNHUSKER

Lack of Data and Keys to Pictures Hampers Staff in Getting Year-Book to Press.

Data and keys that have not been turned in by different organizations and fraternities are holding up the organization section of the Cornhusker. People who are responsible for these write-ups should get busy at once and get their work in. Several sections of the book are now at press and the other departments should be completed at the earliest possible time. No doubt some of these write-ups are not in because of some misunderstanding on the part of the people who are responsible for this work. Officers in the different organizations are asked, if the name of their society appears in the following list, to turn in the required data, thus helping the staff. This data is essential and the officers should take it upon themselves to see that it is in by the end of this week.

The following organizations are lacking in either data or keys to their picture:

Data Not Turned In.

Fraternities—Beta Theta Pi, Delta Sigma Delta, Phi Delta Theta, Phi Kappa Psi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Chi, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Silver Lynx.

Sororities—Alpha Iota Phi, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Pi Beta Phi, Delta Delta Delta, Alpha Xi Delta.

Picture Keys Not In.

COMMITTEE OF 200 TO HOLD OPEN HOUSE

Open house for all University students, especially those who do not have any regular social activities, will be held by the Committee of Two Hundred Saturday evening of this week from 8 to 11 in the social rooms of the Temple.

The group in charge of the entertainment and refreshments are chosen from the Congregational students. No written invitations will be given but a general reception for all students will be given. The two previous socials held by the Committee of Two Hundred have brought large crowds and those in charge are anxious to continue them through the year. The purpose is to create new friendships for students.

COACH DAWSON BEGINS PRACTICE

Spring Gridiron Training Inaugurated By New Mentor Monday Afternoon.

MANY VETERANS OUT

Thirty Candidates Don Moleskins at First Call—Only Light Work-outs Prescribed.

Spring football got away to a good start Monday afternoon when about thirty candidates reported to Coach Dawson for preliminary training. More men are expected out daily to the workouts which will continue for a period of three weeks.

Passing, kicking and a few simple line formations make up the greatest share of the work. Coach Dawson has "Bill" Day, last year's captain, assisting with the work. With the present array of material now on hand the Husker eleven should set a dizzy pace for the rest of the Missouri Valley teams next fall.

The Cornhusker camp will be filled with a wealth of backfield material next fall and the line will no doubt present an appearance that will not be duplicated throughout the middle west. Practically all of last fall's Freshmen team is getting into action for the pre-season training.

Veterans on Hand.

Coach Dawson has a large number of veterans to work with in developing next fall's Varsity and with the new additions from the Freshmen eleven Nebraska can without any hesitation look toward the Missouri Valley championship next fall.

The Huskers had a strong team last season but were not in the Valley conference at that time. Coach Dawson plans to keep in touch with all the men throughout the summer vacation and football practice will probably begin a week or two preceding the opening of school.

The first contest of the season will be played on Nebraska field the first of October when the Cornhusker team will meet the Wesleyan eleven. This contest will no doubt give the followers of the Husker team an idea as to the strength of the 1921 combination.

GREEK BOWLING TOURNEY OFF TO FLYING START

Delta Sigs, A. T. O's, Kappa Deltas and Xi Psi Phi Win in Opening Round.

The inter-fraternity bowling tournament started last night with the Delta Sigs, A. T. O's, Kappa Deltas and Xi Psi Phi winning in the first part of the preliminary round. All of the winners in last night's contest took their opponents' measure by winning two straight games.

Tonight the Silver Lynx will meet the Bushnell Guild, and the Alpha Sigs will take on the Delta Chis. The Farm House and Sig Eps will roll their series and the Acacias meet the Sig Alpha. Games begin promptly at 7:30 p. m. at the Lincoln alleys.

Entrées and fees for the inter-fraternity track meet to be staged Saturday afternoon must be in by Thursday at 6 p. m. Fees and entrées can be given to John Pickett or left at the Student Activities Office.

GRID CANDIDATES.

All who desire to become candidates for the 1921 football team next fall should report to Coach Dawson immediately. Practice will be held daily at 3 p. m. Candidates at present engaged in other sports should see Coach Dawson for modified work.

FRED W. LUEHRING,
Director of Athletics.
