FIELD DAY IS BIG EVENT IN WEEK OF CELEBRATION

The championship of the college. The Freshmen will play the Sophs and the Juniors will combat the Seniors. The managers of the different teams are: Freshmen, N. A. Easter; Sophs, G. L. Gray; Juniors, V. S. Acton, and Waig. Poirr for the Seniors. While the baseball prelims are being played a tennis tournament will also be in progress. If you swing a wicked racket or an unsophisticated one you can get in on this tournament. Two level races will be run, one for the men who have had one semester of surveying and one for the men who have two or more semesters to their credit.

It will not be necessary to return to the city for luncheon and in order to save time the State Farm cafeteria will serve luncheon to the engineers. In the afternoon the band will again sound of fanq will lead the gang back to the field. Three big boxing matches are being promoted. Kreutch will box Peterson in the 175 pound class, Day has challenged Reed in the 140 pound class and Mendelson has been matched with a man of his weight. After the boxing fest the track meet will begin. Many events are scheduled but more entries are needed to make this part of the program a success. If you can't give your name to the committee, be at the field and enter anyway. Nobody barred, men.

And last comes the big event of the day. The horseshoe tournaments for all instructors. This contest will be governed by the Marquis of Booneville, Mo. rules. The mechanical engineering department is now working on a beautiful shell rimmed, hand-turned equine tribly protector which will be given as the prize in this event. This masterpiece is now in the vitrifying process and it will be ready for presentation to the champion horseshoe pitcher of the faculty next Wednesday.

MAY QUEEN ELECTION TODAY AND WEDNESDAY

Senior Girls May Vote for Favorite at Booth in Lobby of Library.

Annual election of May Queen will be held today and Wednesday under the auspices of the Black Masque chapter of Mortarboard. The booth will be located in the lobby of the library and all senior girls will be given an opportunity to vote between the hours of 9 and 5 on these two days.

The Black Masques hold an election each spring for the Queen who is crowned on Ivy Day. The crowning of the queen and all the accompanying exercises will be held this year on Wednesday, May 15. The May Queen is chosen from the girls of the senior class as the one most representative of the ideals of the school, and among the most prominent in class and school activities.

The girl who receives the next highest number of votes in the election Tuesday and Wednesday will be the queen's attendant, an honor which is considered in Nebraska tradition to be second only to the position of May Queen itself. Ivy Day, which is one of the most cherished traditions on the campus, will be a holiday this year as has been the custom in other years. The crowning of the May Queen followed by the Ivy Day oration takes place in the morning.

The masquing of the Black Masques and of the tapping of the Innocents, senior women's and men's organizations respectively, follow in the afternoon. These impressive ceremonies are not held on the campus but are usually held on the picnic grounds and are open to the whole school.

It is expected that almost every girl in the graduating class will cast a vote in this election. In order no one will be deprived of a vote on account of conflicting classes on Tuesday the polls will remain open for two consecutive days. Members of Black Masque will be in charge of the election booth both days.

with the engineer's activities in school, e is president of the Student Council, a member of the Innocents society and is prominent in other school activities.

J. A. Bruce, '03, for six years city engineer of Omaha, is now acting in the capacity of consulting engineer with the firm of Bruce and Grupe. He is a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers and past president of the Nebraska section.

R. E. Campbell, '10, is at present a director of Miller and Paine. After graduation he spent five years with the National Electric Lamp association of Cleveland. He has been active in Lincoln chapter A. A. E. Mr. Campbell was toastmaster of the engineers' banquet in 1917, and has shown a continued interest in the University.

R. L. Cochran is division engineer of the department of public works, bureau of roads and bridges of Nebraska, being stationed at North Platte. He is an associate member of A. S. C. E.

George A. Lee, A. B., '05, LL. D., '05, was formerly assistant attorney general of Washington; also chairman of the State Railway Commission. He is now council for several corporations in Omaha. Due to his experience with engineers and engineering problems Mr. Lee has acquired an enviable knowledge of his subject and the presentation of the same cannot fail to be of interest.

to do strenuous service in the training of soldiers in their vocational courses. Following the close of the war, Professor Ferguson resumed his teaching duties in the department of electrical engineering until called away from them again by the permanent retirement of Dean Stout from connection with the University in 1919.

In 1911 he published a book entitled "The Elements of Electrical Transmission." In 1920 his second book appeared under the title "Electric Lighting." Both have been widely used as texts in technical schools.
