HUSKER EDITORS GET INTO LITERARY DIGEST

Gayle Grubb and Story Harding Write Editorials on Modern Feminine Dress.

Articles written by Gayle Grubb, '21 editor of the Awgwan, and Story Harding, '22, editor of the Daily Nebraskan, appear in the Literary Digest for May 14 as part of a resume of the present-day mode of dress for the younger generation of the feminine sex. Editors of college publications throughout the country were asked to contribute criticism, suggestions, defenses and advice as to the dress of the modern girl. Nearly every university paper and comic in the country responded with an article.

The following excerpt from the discussion shows what Awgwan has to say on the subject: "The editor of the Nebraska Awgwan assures us that he approves of the Digest's attempt to make this world safe for masculinity and adds his own comment thus: 'Dress reform is sorely needed. This cry has never seemed to materially affect the kind and cut of modern feminine togery except for the worse. Modesty has given way to daring, beauty to undisciplined attempts to exhibit charms, and form has been supplanted by shape.

"The hobble skirt, slit skirt, and decollete waist of the short long-ago brought a cry for dress reform. What have the reformers to say about the modern knee-length, kid-glove-fitting gown, with abbreviated top and bottom, to say nothing of the short-sleeved or sleeveless waists which accompany these modern 'creations.' The bathing girl of today is merely a foresight of the average girl of tomorrow. It would seem, from the trend of modern feminism toward elimination of essential apparel."

The Literary Digest quotes the Nebraskan as follows: "The Daily Nebraskan says that they have not been bothered much by 'the Eastern dances,' but does admit that the 'knee-length dresses of the modern girl have cast modesty from the dictionary' and says that recently some of the girls in the upper classes, 'who are by no means the prudest at this school,' at a large mass meeting 'passed resolutions to the effect that an era of simple dress for co-eds should be launched at Nebraska University,' and advises:

"If our country is to return to normalcy again in regard to dress, we must not look on with a critic's eye and take on the guise of reformers, but we must wear sensible clothes ourselves. If we start this as the 'fad' of the day, it will not be long until every body is wearing simple garments because it is 'being done.'"

CATHEDRAL HIGH WINS STATE DEBATING TITLE

Takes Honors from Wayne High School—Decision Was Unanimous.

The Cathedral high school of Lincoln won the state debating title from Wayne high school, champions of the northeastern district and conquerors of the Wymore team, champions of the southeastern district, in Memorial hall yesterday afternoon.

Although the first year that the Cathedral high school has entered the tournament, the team composed of Clarence Riorian, Paul Haberman and James Cody, won the decision by a unanimous vote of the judges who were Prof. G. N. Foster, Prof. H. H. Foster, and Prof. G. O. Virtue. Prof. M. M. Fogg presided.

The Cathedral boys upheld the negative of the question "Resolved that the literacy test restricting immigration should be repealed." The Wayne team, composed of Ruth Ringland, Valdemar F. Peterson and Leila Mitchell defended the affirmative of the question.

Prof. M. M. Fogg, director of debating of the University and manager of the tournament introduced Miss Ringland who opened up the affirmative at 10:15.

The main line of arguments used by the Wayne debaters was based upon the assumption that the present literacy law had failed to restrict sufficiently and that an intelligence test similar to that used by the army would be much better.

The winners used as their basis for attack the idea that the present law was sufficiently restrictive, that a test of literacy excluded those who could not be readily assimilated.

NEBRASKA TAKES VALLEY MEET. "Nebraska wins first place in Missouri Valley Telegraphic Meet." This was the substance of a message received by Coach Schulte from Washington University last evening. The complete results of the meet will probably be published Tuesday.

Winning first in every event on the schedule the Husker track team easily defeated the Haskell Indians in a dual meet Saturday morning on Nebraska field. The final count was 86 1-3 to 20 2-3 in favor of Nebraska.
