WHERE IS YOUR SPIRIT?

Universities are beginning to judge the spirit of each other in terms of its comic as well as their athletic teams. They are parts of the institution—the outward manifestation of student life. It takes the backing of the entire student body to make a good football team and it takes the backing of the entire student body to make the College Comic a success.

The AGWAN is the SPIRIT of N. U.—it is not the product of a few students who have journalistic aspirations,—rather every student should feel it not only his privilege but his duty to submit some original jest, cartoon or idea for each issue of the Awgwan. It is yours and it will be what you make it.

The subscription campaign is on! We will be nationally recognized according as our circulation list grows. Other comics of universities with enrollment much smaller than Nebraska have larger circulations, some even twice the enrollment. So we feel justified in asking every loyal Cornhusker to do his part in making the circulation 100%.

Your part is small—just a dollar and don't be afraid you won't get your money's worth. But it is not the dollar we are after we want you to make us feel that we have your interest and support and that it is your determination to help us put the AWGWAN in the rank of the best.

4000 IS THE GOAL!

THE CORNHUSKER STAFF

The Editor-in-chief of the 1922 Cornhusker has evolved a plan for the selection of students to work on his book that is most commendable. Instead of the "political spoils system" that has reigned in the past, this year merit, and merit alone will be the deciding factor.

Here's the idea. Each person who wants to work on the staff will be given an application. This application calls for the previous experience in a journalistic way that this person has had. There is another space for the organizations to which the applicant belongs and from which he could easily get material. Another space provides for the preference as to work to be done on the year book. The last line is left blank for the approval of the Executive Dean of the University.

This new method will accomplish a lot. First, merit as suggested above, will be the biggest factor in the choice. Second, it is possible to make a quick, efficient, organization of the different departments in the annual. Third, there will be no question about the eligibility of the workers on the publication. Fourth, the printing of the names of the workers will show the school who is responsible for the work in the book. Fifth, the republishing of the names of the applicants who do not work will be a spur to keep all successful applicants at work all the time.

We hope that soon all departments of University life will be so governed that merit rather than political power or cunning will be the things that make men big at Nebraska.

CONTEMPORARY OPINION

(Ohio State Lantern) TO THE FRESHMEN

Three thousand freshmen, more or less, will have entered the University before the week closes. A few individuals will be mature men who have come to college after knocking about the world. The great majority, however, will be fresh from high school.

It is to these hundreds of yearlings that this editorial is addressed. It is simply a tip as to how to get along at Ohio State.

Freshmen always find themselves plunged suddenly into a new, strange world, full of strange people and strange customs. Their friends are new, the distance between classes seems interminable, and the place is vast and borders on the infinite. It is this awe of magnitude that has stifled ambition in many a freshman.

This should not be. The men who come here to achieve success in athletics, in dramatics, in journalism, in scholarship, should not be sucked under by the maze of incomprehensible things. They should keep their heads above water, peer long distances ahead to the time when they will be upperclassmen, and go after the things they want.

There will be an adjustment that will be upon the new men before they know it. In a month or two the words "U. Hall" and "midterms" and other college colloquialisms will be fixed in their vocabularies. They will feel themselves at home.

It is never too late to start, nor too early. The freshman class now coming in will be entrusted with the management of student affairs in four years. It should start now to develop big men. Everyone has an equal chance.

WITH THE COMMERCIAL CLUBS OVER THE STATE

Rev. Samuel Hardman, pastor of the Grace Episcopal church at Red Cloud has been elected as secretary of the Red Cloud Chamber of Commerce. It is the intention of the club to effect some kind of a re-organization and make of the club a live organization. The question of taking part in the Golden Rod Highway booster trip to Denver was discussed and arrangements were made to serve luncheon to the boosters when in that city on Wednesday of this week.

The secretary of the Chappell Commercial Club has been co-operating with the postmistress of that place in an effort to secure an improvement in the parcel post service. As a result, a letter was received from the chief clerk at Omaha stating that satisfactory arrangements would be made in caring for this service.

The Merchants Bureau of the Falls City Chamber of Commerce at its last meeting emphasized the necessity of closer co-operation between the merchants. The co-operative sales plan was discussed and the bureau decided to continue the sales plan idea, thirty-eight merchants announcing their intention of taking part in the next sale. The Falls City Chamber of Commerce has been busy the past few weeks making preparations for the live stock show and the float parade held in that city this week. The Chamber of Commerce of Humboldt, Shubert and Hiawatha were each asked to select a representative from their organizations to act as judges for the float parade which occurred on Friday of this week.

The weekly luncheon of the Sidney Chamber of Commerce on Wednesday of last week was well attended; community matters in general were discussed.

Harry Ziegenbein of Lincoln has been secured to instruct and conduct the city band and high school band and orchestra at Gothenburg. This action was taken after a conference with the city officials, school board and community club.

The Ogallala Community Club will again resume its monthly banquets and the first of these will be held on Monday, September 26, a good program being arranged in connection with the banquet. It was also voted at their last meeting to hold noon day luncheons the first and third Mondays of each month. A campaign for new members will also be made at an early date.

Six candidates were initiated into the Superior Order of Shifters on Tuesday evening of last week, following which a general business session was held. A report of the big pageant held at that place a few weeks ago, showed the total cost of the same to be $9,526.56. Receipts did not quite cover the costs so it was voted to pay the same out of the club's treasury. The question of the club's being represented at the meeting at Lincoln to consider the work that is being carried on by the Great Lakes Tide Water Association, was discussed as well as the club's sending a representative to accompany the Golden Rod Highway booster delegation to Denver.

The Beatrice Chamber of Commerce is making preparations for the entertainment of some six hundred delegates to the State Christian Endeavor convention which will be held at that place October 13-16. Secretary C. E. Jones of the Chamber will act as convention chairman and committees to have charge of the convention have been named on transportation, registration, hospitality and music, and the business houses of the city have been asked to display welcome cards in their windows. At the last meeting of the Chamber, arrangements were made for the resumption of luncheons, the first one being held on Tuesday of this week when the municipal swim-
