"PAL" CELEBRATES SEMI-CENTENNIAL

Literary Society Has Been on Campus for Fifty Years—Oldest Student Organization.

ALMOST AS OLD AS UNI

Self-Supporting and Self-Governing With Membership Including Both Boys and Girls.

The Palladian literary society of the university is celebrating its fiftieth birthday this week. To be old is not a great honor in itself, but with that goes the distinction that Palladian is the oldest student organization on the campus. The members past and present will join forces in a big reunion and homecoming Friday and Saturday.

Palladian is a self-governing and self-supporting society whose membership includes both boys and girls, in equal numbers so far as is possible. During its fifty years as a factor in the university life it has welcomed within its circle probably between 1,500 and 2,000 students, and almost to a person, they are thought of as brother "Pals" today, no matter how long since they were classed as students. "Once a Pal, always a Pal" is the dominant idea.

Palladian is nearly as old as the university itself. Within a few weeks after the opening of the university in 1876, a group of students met together and the result of their gathering was the Palladian society. The charter members included Walter J. Beecher, Grace E. Benton, Myra Caldwell, Cassius Cropper, Anderson A. Cummings, J. Stuart Dales, William Dilworth, Allen W. Field, Christian A. Hohan, Fred A. Hovey, Jennie Hull, Maggie Hull, Frank Hurd, Alvah Kennard, Steptoe Kinney, Uriah Malick, H. K. Metcalf, Paul Morton, Mate A. Peck, C. W. Rhodes, William H. Snell, Mary A. Smith, W. M. Stevenson, Franklin Street, Alice E. Sweet, Willis E. Sweet, Hollis M. Thurston, John Wallingford, O. G. Whipple, and E. H. Woolley.

For the first few years Palladian was coeducational only in theory. The girls had no part at all for two years, and it took the boys four years to come to the point to surrender an equal share of the activity with the girls. Even then, in 1876, their contribution to the programs was limited to musical numbers, with select readings and a very occasional essay. Gradually conditions and opinions changed, and today the society is entirely a fifty-fifty proposition in every phase.

First Headquarters.

The first headquarters of the Palladians was a little room on the first floor of the east half of the north wing of the present U hall. U hall was then the only building that graced the wide expanse of campus. By special arrangements with the faculty, the society was allowed to hold its meetings in that hall every Friday evening from 6:30 to 9:30 (Continued on Page Six.)

TRADE SCHOOL WILL HAVE PRINTING SHOP

Practical Instruction in Trade to Train Men for Good Mechanical Positions.

EXPECT SOLDIER STUDENTS

Equipment Will Consist of Job and Rotary Presses, Linotype and Large Cylinder Press.

First official announcement of the opening of a printing plant as a part of the University of Nebraska trade school, one of the new mechanical courses and courses in a few academic courses are designed so that men may step into good mechanical positions in newspaper plants or may learn to operate a small country newspaper of their own.

If the plans as outlined develop and Dean Buck is certain that they will, the printing plant will in a very short time take over the printing of the Daily Nebraskan. In case this is done, Dean Buck says that the news for submitting copy to the university daily will be changed so that the press can stop running no later than 10 o'clock in the evening and preferably earlier. Under the present system at least one member of the Nebraskan staff must be present at the print shop until the paper goes to press early in the morning. As the school progresses it is hoped that it will be able to take over the work of publishing the Nebraskan, all the bulletins and publications for the school. There will be in all probability a head instructor and two assistants in the school and these men, with the work which the students in the school will be able to do, should manage to take care of practically all of the work.

Equipment for Plant.

Equipment in the plant will consist of linotype machines, job and rotary presses, several fonts of different size type, stones, and all other necessary tools for the practical working of a print shop. A Babcock cylinder press large enough to take care of the printing newspaper will do the large work and the job presses will take care of the smaller work.

In most small newspaper plants, the owner, or the man who runs the paper for the owner, has not only to gather and write the news but also must set it up and tend to the printing of it. Men who have taken the courses in printing given in the school here should be able, if they have also had journalistic instruction, to run a small paper. It is probable that printing will be required for certain journalistic courses.

The laboratory work will consist of practice printing. Students will learn to operate a linotype machine, to make repairs for it, to set type by hand, and the general makeup of a newspaper. Practical experience in this will be acquired through the publishing of the Daily Nebraskan.

Subjects Required in Course.

Academic subjects which will be required in the course are English and Mathematics. Bookkeeping and cost accounting such as is necessary to the running of a newspaper will also be given. News writing will also be given. If a student has the ability and wishes he may select other subjects.

All style of composition, from newspaper to small job work will be included in the course. Instruction in how to buy, cut and use different styles and grades of paper will be given. Proof-reading and correcting mistakes, instruction in punctuation (Continued on Page Six.)

INITIAL YELL-FEST AT ARMORY TONIGHT

Loyal Cornhuskers Will Cheer Team Before Redskins Invade Nebraska Camp Saturday.

WOMEN EXPECTED TO HELP

Fraternities, Sororities, and Dormitories Promise To Attend En Masse First Rally of Year.

The rafters of the Armory will be shaken tonight with "U-U-Ui" and the chant when the first football rally of the year calls every spirited Cornhusker—both men and women—to the campus from 7 until 7:30 o'clock, for a period of cheering for the team before the clash with the Haskell Indians tomorrow.

Every student who reads this article is urged to see that at least ten other students attend the initial yell-fest.

"If you expect Nebraska to win by a big margin tomorrow, you must show the members of the team that every one in the student body is ready to yell his lungs out for the Scarlet and the Cream," is the way one of the faculty members put it today.

Every fraternity and sorority is asked to attend en masse. All dormitories and other places where a large number of students congregate have promised that they will swell the attendance tonight one hundred per cent, more than the attendance at last year's rallies.

Practice "The Cornhusker."

Because Nebraska students do not sing "The Cornhusker" with as much enthusiasm as should be shown when the college anthem is sung, they have been practicing it for several days so that the football field Saturday will echo with spirited singing.

The band will be at the Armory tonight to furnish the accompaniment for the Nebraska spirit that is expected to eclipse all former showings. Members of the team, with Coach Dawson, will be seated on the stage and will be introduced to the students. A few short "pep" talks will be made by faculty members.

The hours 7-7:30 were set in order that the rally would not affect the usual number of "Friday night dates." For this reason the Innocents society, which has the gathering in charge, announces that no Nebraskan will be excused from attending this meeting. "The Cornhusker" appears on the front page of this issue of the Daily Nebraskan. Students are asked to clip this out of the paper and take it with them to the rally tonight.

HUSKER TENNIS TEAM WINS COYOTE MEET

Limjoco, Skallberg, Crawford, Peddicord and Colby Win Hotly Contested Meet From Wesleyan.

Nebraska's racquet welders in some spirited contests won the tennis meet with Nebraska Wesleyan yesterday afternoon by count of seven to two. Nebraska won all three of the double matches and four of the six singles. Limjoco lost to Mahood by count of 5-2; 3-6 and 6-8; and Salter, playing in the place of Matthews, lost to Fleming, 6-3; 6-2. The other singles matches went as follows:

Skallberg won from Archard, 1-6; 6-2; 7-55.
Crawford won from Huribut, 6-0; 6-3.
Pediccord won from Magee, 10-8; 6-1.

Colby won from Carrell, 6-4; 6-1.
Ekallberg and Crawford matched together in the doubles won from Archard and Mahood, 1-6; 11-9; 6-4. The sets were hard fought throughout and nobody could tell how the match was going until the final point.

Limjoco and Salter won from Fleming and Huribut, 6-4; 6-4.
Pediccord and Colby won from Magee and Carrell, 6-1; 6-2.

The scores in many of the matches are not indicative of the tennis ability of the Wesleyan players and many close sets were played as show by many of these going extra games.

The following week the Nebraska team will meet the fast Lincoln city team and some interesting sets are anticipated.

Captain, McLemore, chief of the Indians and quarter-back on the invaders' eleven.

HUSKER WARRIORS ARMED READY FOR INDIAN FIGHT ON SATURDAY

Coach Dawson Put Scarlet And Cream Gridiron Scrappers Through A Terrific Scrimmage in Thursday's Practice Preparing For The Haskell Aggregation.

TWENTY-FIVE REDSKINS ARRIVE WITH COACH TODAY

Lineup Will Be Changed From That Which Worked Against Wesleyan A Week Ago—Nebraska Mentor Has A Wealth of Material For The Backfield.

Husker football fans will have their second chance of the season to see the 1921 Cornhusker machine in action tomorrow when the Scarlet and Cream warriors will mix with the Haskell Indians. Coach Dawson put the entire squad through a terrific scrimmage last evening and will finish off tonight with a long signal drill.

The team will present a somewhat changed lineup against the Indians than worked against the Wesleyan Coyotes two weeks ago. Captain Swanson and Klempke will probably be the choice for ends with Pucelik and Lyman almost sure to start at the tackle positions. "Bub" Weller and and Wenke will fill the guard holes with Nixon at the center of the line.

In the backfield Coach Dawson has a wealth of material to pick from but indications point to Preston starting at quarterback and Dewitz at full back. Wright and Noble are slated to fill the half back positions. These two men are two of the fastest men in the University and are of the highest calibre of football athletes. Coach Dawson figures on using a number of the squad in tomorrow's contest and give some of the men a chance to show what they can do under fire.

The 1921 eleven is one of the heaviest in the history of the school and every man on the team has had a large amount of football experience. Dewitz, Klempke, and Noble are a few of the stars that were developed on last year's Frosh eleven and are proving to be valuable men this year. A number of last year's yearling performers are on the Varsity squad this year and all of them are giving good accounts of themselves.

Redskins Arrive Today.

The Redskin warriors are due to arrive in Lincoln about noon today and will be quartered at the Lincoln.

Coach Madison Bell is bringing a contingent of about twenty-five athletes with him, all chuck full of tricks to pull on the Huskers. Coach Bell will probably give his squad a light warming up practice and signal drill at the College of Agriculture this afternoon.

Tomorrow's contest will start promptly at 2:30 and a record crowd should be in attendance from the indications of ticket sales about the city.

The cheering will be led by three picked leaders and Director Leuhning has especially requested that every one follow their directors. The University band, seventy strong, will be on hand to furnish music for the various Nebraska songs and help keep up the enthusiasm for the Husker Eleven.

SETS REQUIREMENTS FOR OFFICEHOLDERS

Junior Laws Take Same Stand As Seniors to Make Candidates Show Clean Record.

President Clarence Beck of the Junior laws called the class together Thursday morning for the purpose of planning a hop, and considering a resolution relative to the requirements of class office holders. The same proposition that was adopted earlier in the week by the senior class was voted upon favorably by the juniors. This makes two classes in the law college, which require an absolutely clean record of those who would hold class offices.

It was decided that a dance should be given by the third year lawyers, and a committee was appointed by President Beck to take charge of the affair. No date has been set as yet, but one will be announced soon. The committee is composed of Roland Van Kirk, chairman; Byron Quigley, Auburn Atkins, Adolph Wenke, Walter White, Lein Jacobson.

THE CORNHUSKER.

Official Field Song—Learn it.

By Robert W. Stevens

Come a runnin' boys,
Don't you hear that noise?
Like the thunder in the sky,
How it rolls along
In the good old song
For the sons of Nebraska;
Now it's coming near
With a rising cheer
That will sweep all foes away
So, with all our vim
We have got to win,
And we're going to win today—
CHORUS.
For Nebraska and the Scarlet,
For Nebraska and the Cream,
Tho' they go through many a battle
Our colors still are seen

So in contest and in victory
We will wave them for the team
And 'twill always stir a Cornhusker
The Old Scarlet and the Cream.

WILLIAM M'CRORY DIAMOND CAPTAIN

Baseball Head For 1922 Elected By Ballot Of Last Year's Team.

William McCrory was named as captain of the 1922 Husker baseball team yesterday after all of the votes had been counted. This will be "Mac's" third season on the team, playing the previous two seasons in the left garden.

McCrory is a freshman law and a member of Delta Upsilon. He has been active in school affairs for the past few years and should be a popular captain.

The 1922 nine will be coached by Mr. Dawson and will have all of last year's Varsity men back but Captain Bekins and Bailey. The schedule will be drafted some time this winter and will include games with all the principal Missouri Valley nines.

NEBRASKA GRADUATE IS MADE DEPARTMENT HEAD

In the October issue of the pharmaceutical Era, one of the leading pharmaceutical journals of this country and published in New York city, appears nearly a full page article describing the work of Prof. Harry L. Thompson in connection with his development of the department of pharmacy at the University of Utah.

Prof. Thompson graduated from the college of pharmacy in 1912 and received his Masters' degree in pharmacy and physiology in 1914. Thompson went to the University of Utah as instructor of pharmacy three years ago. Through his energy and foresight the department has been greatly developed and is fast becoming one of the best institutions on the Pacific slope. Mr. Thompson has just been placed at the head of his department.

UNI FALL BANQUET AT CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

University students faculty are already inquiring about the fall banquet under the committee of 200. The time set for this event is October 28. The committee has been forced to engage the chamber of commerce for this purpose. It will accommodate only slightly more than half the number who attended last year at the Scottish Rite temple. Tickets will be available the latter part of next week.

The speaker for the occasion is a man of national reputation. The committee will announce his name in a few days.
