OUR VICTORY.

Yesterday the Nebraska football team won a victory that will long be remembered in the history of our NEBRASKAN—TWO—J school. Because of the splendid work of our men, Nebraska's name will be a by-word today among football enthusiasts all over the United States. It was demonstrated that few teams in this country are the equal of the mighty Cornhusker aggregation. Dr. Leuhring, Coach Dawson, Captain Swanson, and the team are to be congratulated for their magnificent fight.

LOYALTY.

While our team was restlessly waiting for the whistle that would start the now historic game with Pittsburgh, Nebraskans, too, were thinking hard about the outcome of the contest. Few, however, know the inspirational message that one of the loyalist Huskers we have, sent east.

Jimmy Best, the daddy of every man that's working for Nebraska in an athletic way, sent the following message Friday:

"Coach Dawson and he Cornhuskers: Boys be real Cornhuskers and husk the corn right at Pittsburgh. Have confidence, then fight for the Scarlet and the Cream.

Jimmy."

Can our team help from fighting when such spirit is shown? If every one of the forty-seven hundred showed the same genuine spirit and support of the team, they would be a mighty force in winning victories for our school.

When the announcer at the Star heard the report of Swannie's long run, he got so excited he could hardly hold himself long enough to shout it to the anxious crowd below. Do you blame him?

Walter Camp will have to come west to pick his All-American team this year.

HOMECOMING DAY.

Next Saturday we play Kansas. On that day we're going to celebrate our annual homecoming. Every old grad ought to be here. It has been suggested that if every student would write a couple of personal letters to former Nebraska students, it would help a great deal in getting the old grads back here for that day. It wouldn't hurt to try, anyhow.

OLYMPICS.

Next Saturday the freshmen meet the sophomores on the field of battle. Behind the fight itself is a serious purpose. The olympics are intended to draw members of the classes more closely together, to let them become organized, so that this unity will be a help to Nebraska. The day should be one of friendship, for the freshmen should meet many of their classmates, and also become acquainted with some of the sophomores. The friendly rivalry will be fun and should bring a big reward in the friendships made.

The Exhaust

The coldest place on earth, when cold, is a fraternity house dormitory.

Whenever we think life isn't worth living, they serve hot biscuits for supper and restore our faith.

Panthers tamed by Cornhusker invasion.

Famous Trees.

Pan— of life.
 Hall—
 Delerium—mens.
 —ty of peace.

How's the school spirit here. Not so good. Well what would you say about it? Well, there's lots to "kick" about.

Were it correct to say "de horses neck?" it might also be asked "do porches swing?"

Eastern barbers have made "bobbed hair legal." French scientists state, indulging in cigarettes by the ladies cause growth of beards. Wonder what kind of razor the notorious bluebeardsness of our western state prefers.

UNI NOTICES

All-University Party Committee. Important meeting of the all-university party entertainment committee Monday, 5 p. m., at Ellen Smith hall. All committee members out.

DIDJA EVER?

Didja ever
 Keep up your
 Drooping spirits
 With wistful,
 Dreams of Home and Mother—
 And turkey
 'n cranberry sauce
 And gleefully
 Contemplate a
 Cheery Thanksgiving
 In the old
 Home town
 With the whole
 Family there
 To greet you?
 And doesn't it
 Sort of knock
 The bottom out
 Of things
 To be commanded
 To stay on
 With the Same old grind—
 And just Sit—and Imagine Dad
 Carving the Gobbler and
 The kids
 Eating your Share of Plum pudding??

Exchange.

Hankering back to the "days of old, the days of bold, the days of '49," decorations for the Miners' dance carried out to perfection the atmosphere of a typical hardy Brete Harte mining town dance hall. Bright lights, verile pictures, and vivacious music as well as the well known brass railed bar (imported from Reno) and the wicked entrancing roulette wheel (rumors to have changed fortunes at oneroll in Tia Juana) were real factors, so often read about but so seldom seen.

BUS. AD. LIBRARY HAS NEW REFERENCE WORKS

The college of business administration library has received two gifts recently which added to its collection of magazines and reference works. The Moody's Investors Service donated a set of its investment analysis for 1919 in four volumes. This standard work is an extraordinary complete compilation of information concerning all branches of finance and investment. President John H. Patterson of the National Cash Register Co., of Dayton, Ohio, subscribed for Forbes magazine for the college library.

Cornhusker Queries

Do you like this new department of the Daily Nebraskan? If so, send in some questions and help make Cornhusker Queries a success. Did you know the following:

Q—What were the first colleges founded in the university?

A—The colleges in the university when it was founded were Medicine, Language, Law, Engineering, and Fine Arts.

Q—Why do we have the olympics.

A—The olympics were organized primarily to do away with the annual freshman-sophomore "scrap", and to do something a little different from other universities. Realizing that no good could come from "free-for-alls," a fixed program for the day was planned.

Q—Who was the first professor of English literature?

A—Professor O. C. Drake, now deceased.

Q—When was the first daily paper published in the university?

A—In 1901 the publications The Hesperian, The nebraskan; and the Scarlet and Cream were consolidated to form the first daily paper.
