provided for them by W. R. Little. Any disabled service men who intend to march in the parade should get in communication with Mr. Little so that enough cars can be provided.
Several university fraternities have already promised to have their service members out 100 per cent. It is expected that the rest will do as well.
The only variation to be found in the lining up of the parade will be of uniformed and non-uniformed men. All uniformed men will be placed together and all non-uniformed together.
The R. O. T. C. companies are to make up a good share of the university section. Assembly and roll call for the R. O. T. C. will be held promptly at 1 o'clock according to an order.
Every university former service man and woman should be in the parade.
