OMAHA PROFESSOR ADDRESSES NUMEDS

Dr. J. E. Summers Speaks on Evolution of Study of Medicine at Grand Hotel.

The Numeds gathered Friday evening at the Grand hotel for their second monthly supper-smoker. The guest of honor was Dr. J. E. Summers, professor of clinical surgery at the Nebraska medical college at Omaha. He talked about the past and present methods in education laying especial stress upon the evolution of the study of medicine. He also gave a sketch of his early life and studies both in this country and abroad.

The dean of the college of pharmacy, Dr. R. A. Lyman, suggested to the pre-medics that they avail themselves of every possible opportunity to broaden their views of life. Dr. Webb continued the same line of thought and stated that the field of medicine is not by any means overcrowded and that there is always a demand for the well-qualified physician.

Dr. F. D. Barker, adviser of the pre-medics, spoke a few words of encouragement to those unfortunate enough to be lagging at this time.

Dr. P. H. Bartholomew, a federal health officer, and head of the state bureau dealing with the different aspects of social diseases, told what the state is doing in the prevention and cure of these diseases, and pointed out that only through the education of the younger generation and by the legislation of drastic laws can any successful campaign be waged against this peril which annually causes more deaths than cancer or tuberculosis.

The Numed orchestra rendered a few very pleasing selections and made a very creditable showing considering the short time it has been organized.

LINCOLN DEFEATS BEATRICE ELEVEN

Red and Black Football Team, Now Has Only North Platte in Way of State Championship

Lincoln high school Friday afternoon took the measure of the Beatrice high school football team and thereby cleared all but the last hurdle in the race for the state championship for 1921. The Red and Black squad tallied 23 points to the Beatrice team's 20, the first three points registered against Lincoln this year.

Lincoln started the scoring with a drop kick but Beatrice, in Purdy, had a man who could not be stopped and a good part of the game the Orange and Black were leading. With the score standing 20-16 in favor of Beatrice, Lincoln made its third and winning touchdown.

Beatrice made six of its total points by the drop kick method while Lincoln resorted to this form of football for three tallies. Beatrice crossed the Lincoln goal twice while Lincoln rammed through for three touchdowns.

North Platte Remains. North Platte high school, which has been running up a fancy line of scores this season, is the only team which now remains in the way of the Red and Black in the championship race. Cambridge the other strong bidder for the championship, fell before the Lincoln team 6-0 on Nebraska field a week ago.

The North Platte and Lincoln elevens will clash on Thanksgiving day on the North Platte field. The result of that contest is the most feared of all those on the Lincoln slate. The Beatrice gridsters had been playing a fancy line of football all season but the North Platte game is a larger and harder hurdle for the Lincoln team to clear than even the Gage county youths. North Platte not only has the state championship to win in the Turkey day contest but has several past year defeats at the hands of Lincoln to square off, so she will fight her hardest.

ALUMNI HAS WORK ON EXHIBITION HERE

Dwight Kirsch Has Display at University Art Gallery This Week.

Dwight Kirsch, who graduated from the University in 1918, has a number of the more recent of his works on exhibition at the University Art Gallery.

This exhibition includes examples of work in many different mediums. There are landscapes, decorative designs, and a number of sketches of the figure and of animals.

Mr. Kirsch's oil painting entitled "Fourth of July on Riverside Drive" and two masks after the manner of the famous Benda masks have attracted especial attention. The masks are rich in Indian symbolism, a phase of art in which Mr. Kirsch is deeply interested. One of the masks represents "Rain in the Face" and another a "Corn Princess." Masks of this type covering the entire head and face of the wearer, are intended to be used in pantomime or dances, and have been employed in the "Greenwich Village Follies" for the past two seasons.

Mr. Kirsch has been studying art, since graduating from Nebraska at the Art Student's League in New York City where he is also in the employ of the Niagara Lithographing company.

NEBRASKA MAN TO FILM JAYHAWKER-TIGER GAME

Seth Taylor, of the conservation and survey division of the University is to leave Wednesday for Lawrence, Kan., where he will take both motion and still pictures of the Kansas-Missouri football game in the new stadium at the University of Kansas on Thanksgiving day. This is the Kansas homecoming day and a great many interesting events are anticipated. Mr. Taylor will also take pictures of the campus and University life at Kansas.

J. L. WEBSTER TO TALK TO BARRISTERS SOON

John L. Webster of Omaha is to deliver a lecture in the law college next Saturday morning, November 26th. His subject will probably be "The Qualities of an Ideal Lawyer."

Mr. Webster was president of the first Nebraska constitutional convention, and is at present a leading member of the bar in this state. All students of the University are invited to attend the lecture; those who expect to study law in the future are especially urged to be present.

SIGMA XI WILL HOLD MEETING OPEN TO ALL

The regular monthly meeting of the University of Nebraska chapter of Sigma Xi will be held in the general lecture room of Bessey hall on Tuesday, November 22, 1921, at 8:00 p. m.

Professor G. D. Swezey of the department of astronomy will give an illustrated lecture on Recent Developments in Astronomy. Professor Swezey will present evidence that the sidereal universe is very much larger than was thought five or ten years ago and also give a description of some of the new methods for finding the distances of enormously remote objects. He will give new facts bearing on the nature of the spiral nebulae, and a possible clue to their distance. Recent evidence will be presented as to the life of history stars.

The meeting of the society is open to the public.

GREAT PLANS FOR ANNUAL DEBATE

Nebraska High Schools To Contest in Five Hundred Foreign Matches.

Over five hundred high school debates in the Nebraska high school debating league for its fifteenth annual contests, on the question of the open shop vs. the closed shop, will be held by next May if all the districts adopt the innovation proposed at the recent annual meeting of the league. Prof. M. M. Fogg of the University of Nebraska, league president, was instructed to urge the adoption of the new plan. By this plan, which worked effectively in the eastern district last year, district honors are decided by having each school meet every other school in the district.

"The outstanding merit of this plan," said Professor Fogg in bulletin No. 2, Nov. 18, to the league schools, "is that it maintains interest—prevents a team from quitting work as soon as it loses a decision! Training in the science of argumentation and practice in the art of oral discussion is obviously what we ought to get as far as possible."

That the membership this year will go past the hundred mark is altogether likely; therefore, under the new plan, redistricting and increase in the number of districts will be necessary in order to hold district membership down to a point where the number of debates will not be burdensome either as to time or money.

December 1 is the date when the active membership of the league for the year is to be settled. The executive committee has been directed to may out this year a schedule of district debates, setting time limit for the completion of the various stages. Eleven new applications for membership have been received to date: Cotner University Academy, Dix, Franklin Academy, Fremont, Grant, Oxford, Grand Island, Raymond, Riverdale, Ruskin and Wood Lake.
