PRICE FIVE CENTS

SPURLOCK WINS RHODES AWARD

University of Nebraska Senior Receives Scholarship to Oxford Uni.

RALPH SVOBODA IS CANDIDATE AT LARGE

Nebraska Student Will Leave Next October to Take Up Work in England.

Out of a field of seventeen candidates, Woodson Spurlock, a senior in the University of Nebraska has been awarded the Rhodes scholarship from Nebraska by the state committee in charge of the selection of which Paul S. Good, Lincoln attorney, is secretary. Ralph E. Svoboda of Creighton university, of Omaha, was chosen for candidate at large. Svoboda will compete with the candidates at large from the other states for the scholarship.

Spurlock was one of five men chosen by the University of Nebraska committee in charge of the selections from the university. Nearly twenty-five men made application to the university committee, of which five were entitled to the state competition. Other schools of Nebraska entered men as follows: Creighton, four; Nebraska Wesleyan, three; Doane college, two; Grand Island college, two; Midland college, Fremont, one.

The state committee which selected the winning men was made up of Chancellor Samuel Avery of the University of Nebraska, chairman; H. A. Gunderson of Fremont, himself a Rhodes scholar from South Dakota in 1911; Prof. G. B. Noble, a Rhodes scholar from the state of Washington in 1912; and Paul F. Good of Lincoln, a Rhodes scholar from Nebraska in 1914, secretary of the state committee. Prof. H. A. Rice a Rhodes scholar from Louisiana, who had been expected to serve on the Nebraska committee, was sent to the Colorado selection instead.

Record of Spurlock.
Woodson Spurlock is the son of George M. Spurlock, York, Nebraska lawyer. He was born in February, 1900, at Plattsmouth, Nebr. He was educated in the public schools of York and was graduated from the York high school with high honors in 1917. For two years he attended the New Mexico military institute, where he was a first lieutenant, and was graduated with second highest honors in 1919. During the war he was in training at Presidio, San Francisco, but on account of age did not receive a commission. He was less than eighteen when the war ended. He is now in his senior year of the University of Nebraska and is expected to receive a degree from the arts and science college at the close of the present semester. He is a member of Sigma Nu fraternity.

Record of Svoboda.
Ralph E. Svoboda, candidate for the scholarship at large, was graduated from Creighton university last year with high honors. He is now studying law at that school.

The position of candidate at large is a vacancy in the scholarships left through the failure of one or more of the other states in providing a representative. Kansas last year was one of the states failing to provide a suitable candidate.

Each state is permitted to recommend a candidate for the position of candidate at large. The names come for decision before a committee composed of President Aydelotte of Ithaca college, American secretary to the Rhodes trustees; J. J. Tigert, United States commission of education, and one other person whose name has not yet been announced.

Leave Next October.
Spurlock will leave for Oxford university next October, with the candidates for the scholarship selected by the other states entitled to men this year. Thirty-six states choose representatives each year. The scholarship is for three years and carries an annual bonus of 350 pounds, fifty pounds of which is a temporary allowance during the period of high prices. Students who have attended Oxford say that one can easily live on this amount.

Each of the candidates for the position appeared before the committee for a personal interview. The committee was in session from 9:30 a. m., to 3 p. m.

STUDENT ASSEMBLY AT TEMPLE TODAY

Last Opportunity to Hear Prof. Barnouw at 11 O'clock Morning.

Hollander Will Make Last Public Appearance Here at Convocation.

Dr. A. T. Barnouw, noted Dutch educator who has been giving a series of lectures at the university under the auspices of the International Relations club, will speak on "Rembrandt" at convocation this morning at 11 o'clock at the Temple theater. He will illustrate his lecture with slides. This will be the last opportunity that university students will have to hear Dr. Barnouw. As originally announced Dr. Barnouw's subject was to have been "Holland Before and After the War." This was arranged without the speaker's knowledge and on his arrival at the university the topic was changed.

"Rembrandt" is a subject which Dr. Barnouw is peculiarly fitted to discuss as he is recognized as one of the three greatest authorities in the world on Dutch art. Those who have heard him proclaim an interesting forceful speaker and well worth hearing. In his discussions on Erasmus and Van Gogh, Dr. Barnouw has revealed an intimate knowledge and sympathy with the men whose lives he tells.

STOCK JUDGING TEAM RETURNS FROM TRIP

Cash Prizes and Ribbons Brought Back From the Chicago Stock Contest.

Nebraska's fat stock judging team has returned from Chicago where they won sixth place among twenty-one teams. The contest was close and hotly contested. Earl Liebers of Lincoln, Nebr., ranked third in a field of one hundred and five contestants.

The team has been gone about three weeks, during which time they visited at the Kansas state agricultural college at Manhattan, Kas., the University of Missouri, at Columbia, Mo., the Herford royal stock show at Kansas City, Mo., Ames college, Ames, Ia., at which place they took in the Nebraska-Ames football game. From Ames they journeyed through Chicago to the University of Illinois at Urbana, Ill., judging stock at this place and at other stock farms in different parts of Illinois, finally ending up at Chicago at which place they took sixth place in the judging contest.

The team consisted of Martin Kreuger of Seward, Nebr., Paul McDill of University Place, Omar Herrman of Sterling, Nebr., Paul Taggart of Chambers, Nebr., Earl Liebers of Lincoln, Nebr., and Clifford Girardot of Pender, Nebr. Professor Wm. Savin of the department of animal husbandry, coached the team.

In 1917 Nebraska was first at the international fat stock judging contest at Chicago, third in 1918, and second in both 1919 and 1920. Wm. Wiederburg of Nebraska was high man in 1919 and Kenneth Clark was third high individual in 1920. This contest is looked upon as the most important students' judging contest in the United States.

"Smiths" and "Johnsons" Are Thick At Cornhusker School

Names are curious creatures but one of the most interesting books on the university campus today is the student directory. A quick survey of this book was taken in leisure moments has revealed some interesting facts in regards to the "John Henry's" of the University of Nebraska students.

When it comes to the contest for individual name honors, the "Johnsons" and "Smiths" run a close race. Johnson occurs forty-five times and an additional four names are spelled Johnson. Smith uses up forty of the name spaces in the directory. Then the list starts narrowing down. Anderson lays claim to third honors with thirty-four names registered, although here are four spelled with "sen." Brown takes the fourth honors with twenty-three names while Wilson and Miller tie for fifth and sixth places with nineteen each.

Nelson is registered eighteen times on the honor list while the Clark comes next with seventeen tallies, although they claim three more with the addition of an "e." The Swedes register again in the next place of honor claiming sixteen students in the person of Peterson while they add another three to that name with the ending "sen." Davis comes in for next honors with sixteen names and Roberts and Williams rate the next in the list with fifteen tallies each. Jones stands out the next place in the list with fourteen while Adams and Baker register the next honor with thirteen each.

Four names—Wright, White, Lewis and Thomas—are listed eleven times. Hanson also takes eleven places while an additional seven are claimed thru the "sen" route. Reed, Robinson, and Taylor are the only other individual "John Henry's" with a half score times, each claiming ten listings. Captain Swanson's handle just misses the ten spot. Swanson is listed but nine times.

Five Faculty Andersons.
Anderson is also in the front in the race for faculty honors, although it is tied for first place by the Taylors. Each of those two names are listed five times.

Brown wins the third place honors undisputedly. It is listed four times. The fourth, fifth and sixth and seventh honors cannot be decided for four instructors are tied for that place. Clark, Davis, Thompson and Webster each lay claim to three tallies in the faculty race.

Such is all of the outstanding features in the race for the most numbers but that the University of Nebraska is not neglected in other fields of honor is shown by a more thorough survey of the directory.

Three Carrs divide honors among the Ford, of which there are four, Gardner, of which there are also four, and Page, of which there are two. These more than offset the number of Walkers, which is listed as five.

Cornhuskers should not have to worry when it comes to filling the dinner bucket. The U. of N. has thirteen Bakers and nine Cooks, enough (Continued on Page Three.)

FIRST CORNHUSKER APPOINTMENTS OUT

Editor Randol Chooses Advisory Board—New Feature on Annual Staff.

Harding, Gustafson, Kadel, and Pierce Named as Editor's Assistants.

The first appointments on the 1922 Cornhusker staff were announced yesterday by Ward M. Randol, editor-in-chief. An advisory board, something new on the Cornhusker, has been formed this year and the following students named thereon: N. Story Harding, Roy Gustafson, Ruth Kadel and Dorothy Pierce.

Editor Randol states that this board will act in both an advisory and executive capacity. They will have supervision of the various departments of the annual, working under the direction of the editor. Each member of the board will be assigned certain sections of the book to take care of.

This arrangement should make for efficiency in editing the Cornhusker. Each department will receive individual attention to a greater degree than if the editor was forced to attend to all the details himself. It has never before been tried on the annual but promises to be a successful plan.

The students named on the advisory board are all capable people of recognition. (Continued on Page Three.)

FORTY MEN BEGIN WRESTLING WORK

More Applicants Expected to Turn Out Before End of This Week.

The regular class in wrestling began yesterday and there were over forty men out for the class. This is a large number for the first day but many more are expected out for the class in the next week.

The regular class period is from 4 to 5 on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, and the team practice from 5 to 6 on these days and from 4 to 6 on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

The classes are still open and anybody may attend the classes and receive one hour's credit for this work. The work will continue into the second semester and the credit is given on completion of the required number of hours' attendance. Those students who have four o'clock classes now but think that they will not have them the following semester, may register now and come at five o'clock and then take up the regular class work next semester.

HUSKERS PLACE ON ALL-WESTERN

Pucelik, Swanson and Noble Given Places on Mythical Eleven.

WALTER D. ECKERSALL ANNOUNCES SELECTION

Nebraska Guard Takes His Place Among Best Players in the West.

Three Nebraska Cornhusker football players were honored by Walter Eckersall of Chicago in his choice of candidates for three all-western eleven. John Pucelik, guard; Captain Clarence Swanson, end; and Dave Noble at fullback are the three scarlet and Cream athletes picked on the all-western teams.

Eckersall places Pucelik on the first eleven along with Anderson of Notre Dame, Devine of Iowa, Crisler of Chicago and various other stars of some of the great teams of the middle west. Pucelik has completed his career as a football player at Nebraska and is considered as one of the greatest line men ever turned out at the Husker institution. He has been a member of the varsity for the past three years, playing at tackle and guard in most of the contests. Pucelik was given honorable mention by Walter Camp last year as being one of the great tackles of the country.

Captain Clarence Swanson and Dave Noble were given berths on the second all-western selection by Eckersall. Swanson is without a doubt one of the greatest football players ever produced at Nebraska and his loss will probably be the greatest of the year. He has played four years of varsity football and has received recognition all over the country for his football ability. "Swannie" was given honorable mention by Walter Camp last year in his roll of honor. Swanson's ability to catch passes has been one of the big grievances of opposing teams for the past four years.

GREATER UNIVERSITY LUNCHEONS TO START

The greater University luncheons are to be continued this year, according to an announcement from the Y. M. C. A. office made last night by Roy Youngman, who is continuing as chairman of this phase of the work this year. The purpose of these luncheons is to promote Cornhusker spirit and to acquaint the undergraduate with the big men of our school. The first luncheon is to be held Friday, December 16 at the Grand hotel from 12 to 1 o'clock.

The speaker will be Judge W. M. Morning. The subject Judge Morning will talk on is "The Boy." In his position as probation judge he is able to bring before the students first hand information. Last year Judge Morning was secured as a speaker and everyone that heard him left the luncheon feeling that the time had been well spent.

The luncheon is given to the students practically at cost and the chairman expressed the desire of getting the large numbers out this year that attended in the years previous. The greater University luncheons are supervised and directed by the University Y. M. C. A. These luncheons are for all the men students and serve as a very effective means for the students to broaden out and also get acquainted.

"RAG" FEED SCHEDULED FOR WEDNESDAY NIGHT

A "Rag Feed" will be held Wednesday evening from 6 to 8 in Faculty hall of the Temple for all editorial and business staff members of The Daily Nebraskan. Every person who is working on the paper this semester, whether he be a "star" reporter, old and experienced or a "cub" who is new on the job, is expected.

Dinner will be served and special features have been planned so that every member of the staff will get well acquainted with every other member.
