UNI PLAYERS IN "ADAM AND EVA"

Three Productions of Modern Comedy to Be Given at Temple This Week.

WELL-KNOWN CAST OF STUDENTS TO APPEAR

Some Papers in State Receive Wrong Impression of Story to Be Produced Tonight.

"Adam and Eva" will be presented by the University Players at the Temple Theater, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. This splendid production has received a great deal of advertising due to its very attractive title. Contrary to the reports circulated by the press of the state the play, "Adam and Eva," does not deal with Biblical characters, but is the story of James King, a rich New Yorker, tired of the life that his very fastidious family has caused him lead, who trades places with his business manager, Adam Smith, and goes to South America for three months, leaving Adam in charge of his family.

Miss "Eva" King, the fair young daughter, contrives with the other members of the family, to have the Doctor send the irritable Father away. But Father learning of the plot from old Uncle Horace, decides to take the family at their word and go away. We follow the brave young Adam through his struggles, as he tries to show the family that they really don't appreciate all that they have in this world. All seems in vain, when he suddenly hits upon the happy idea to tell the family that Mr. King had lost all of his fortune. This tale has the desired effect and in the last act we see Mr. King upon his return, finding his whole family down on a little farm in New Jersey raising chickens for a living.

The story is very cleverly told and the lines are bright and sparkling. The players are working to make this one of the very best productions of the season and a delightful set of scenery has been constructed.

Many Favorites in Cast.
Many of the old favorites of the patrons return in this production. Mr. Walter Herbert comes as Adam. He is offering a bright and snappy characterization of the title role. Miss Irma McGowan as Eva is doing some of the best work of her career with the University Players. The outstanding character part of the production is being done by Cyril Coombs as James King. We are to see Mildred Gollehon as the snobbish Julie and Herbert Yenne as the poor temperamental Clinton, her husband. Other members in the cast are: Marian Richardson, Irma Wolfe Coombs, John Dawson, Floyd Johnson, and Hart Jenks.

Seats have been on sale at Ross P. Curcio since Monday, and the advance sale has been more than satisfactory. A testimonial of the popularity of the University Players and the state-wide renown which they have earned, may be found in the following letter received last week by one of the members of the executive staff from an up-state dramatic art devotee:

Dear Adam and Eve:
Excitement reigns high here. What will be the price of admission for front row. If not too high we would like to contract for 1,000 seats on demand. All these must be front row seats. All parties here are canceled and this own will close up for one week in order to take in all of the show.

The Village Choir is now rehearsing to perfect themselves in that beautiful song entitled, "When the Leaves Begin to Fall."

Squire Jones wishes to have you secure a few extra pair of Op'y glasses for him and a few of his old-time friends.

Don't fail to get our Tickets By Gum and let us know by fastest mail which we get.

Yours verily for best regards to Adam and Eve,

DEACON HAM.

WOMEN START HONORARY SOCIOLOGY SOCIETY

Thirteen women students at the University of Wisconsin have just organized a women's honorary sociology club, to be called Alpha Pi Epsilon. The club aims at social service and welfare work. Members of the club are pledged to accomplish at least one act of social service each semester. The need for such an organization has been urged by a group of senior women specializing in sociology, and by professors in the sociology department.

EUROPEAN STUDENTS EXPRESS GRATITUDE

Relieved Sufferers Thank American Colleges for Money Sent

With a message of gratitude from the students of Czechoslovakia to the students of America, whose support has been largely responsible for student relief operations in Europe, Dr. Jaroslav Kose of Prague is now making a series of visits to American colleges and universities.

Dr. Kose, who is International Secretary of the Czechoslovak Student Renaissance Movement, was formerly director of the Students Home in Prague, which was built and has been in large part maintained by American students through the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. Today, with its 6,500 members and hundreds of applicants it illustrates both the need and the effectiveness of this form of service.

The World's Student Christian Federation, through which is administered the support from American students represented in the Student Friendship Fund, has its Prague Headquarters at the Students' Home, and Dr. Kose is in a position both officially and as a native observer to speak intimately of the relief work at that center. He is himself a recent law graduate and can speak from personal experience of student conditions. He points out that Prague has for centuries been a university center for Slav students.

"Thousands of Students", he says, "owing to conditions before Czechoslovakia became a republic, did not have an opportunity of higher education. These students are now embracing their real opportunity. They are for the most part students of the middle class professors and instructors, of employees and tradesmen, and also come from the working class. Thousands of others had no opportunity to continue their education because of the coming of the war and these are finishing their interrupted education. A student who enters a university and does not continue is unable to enter certain professions or enter certain trades. Hundreds of students are refugees or have been forced to change their university with the changing of geographical boundaries. Hundreds have come to Prague because the Universities in their own country have either been destroyed or crippled in person-slovakia because it is a liberal mind-set. Furthermore, many Slav students have been coming to Czechoslovakia where they may study and have larger opportunity to earn at least a part of livelihood.

"But the unfortunate living conditions of thousands of students, their poverty, their physical condition as a result of poor food and poor living conditions, are in many cases appalling. I could give numerous illustrations of the needy worthy cases—all of them typical. Think of two students with but one suit of clothes between them. One of these sits at 11 o'clock that he may return to his room one hour away in time for his comrade to eat at the same student boarding house at 2 o'clock. They take turns attending classes and in doing such outside work as may help to support them.

"I could tell much of the deplorable housing conditions, the lack of food and heat, lighting, clothing and books. The student relief operations have done effective work in meeting these needs; but the greatest help of all is the moral value of the work. (Continued On Page Four.)

Talented Students To Show Up In The Variety Show To Be Held Soon

Student actors and actresses of the University of Nebraska are to be given a chance to "show their stuff" at the Variety Show to be given at the Orpheum Theatre April 7 under the direction of the University Lyceum board. Applications of students wishing to take part in the show must be turned into the student activities office before next Tuesday evening, March 7.

With scarcely more than a month remaining until the big show will be pulled off, the board is working hard to resurrect the best talent in the University. Realizing that there are many students who have ability that is not well known, the managers have issued an invitation to all students to hand in their names and the type of act in which they prefer to show. Tryouts will be held before the end of next week and the results announced. Work on all acts will commence immediately.

The Variety show is an innovation in the home talent production in Lincoln. For years the extension department of the University has sent university talent into the out-state towns as a means of carrying the fame of the school far and wide. But all during these years little has been done to show the people right here in Lincoln what the university is really accomplishing. And therein lies the reason for the Variety show. Lincoln people desire to see university people in action and the University wishes to show Lincoln people what it can do.

University Week will be held during the spring vacation and the Variety Show comes off the following Friday. If it is a profitable venture, the Lyceum board will present a Variety Show every year.

Acts of all kinds will make up the show. From unusual features to the usual dance and musical numbers, the program will run along for eight or twelve acts. The board particularly desires acts that are out of the ordinary. Comedy acts and dramatic features are also desired. Any students having ideas for good acts should submit them to the Lyceum board at the student activities office immediately, so that the board may pass on them and begin work.

BASKET TOURNAMENT IS BIG EVENT OF WEEK

More than 2000 Cagers to Invade Lincoln for Biggest Athletic Event Ever Staged

The University of Nebraska and the city of Lincoln will be hosts to more than 2,000 high school basketball players when more than 230 cage quintets journey to their capital city to compete for highest honors in the sport March 9, 10 and 11. Fifteen classes with sixteen teams each will be necessary to take care of the competing aggregations.

For the twelfth successive year, Nebraska high schools are sending their teams to Lincoln next week to be at the mercy of the University of Nebraska students during the time that they are not competing. Some 120 games will be staged the first day with about ninety the second and fifteen the last day of the tournament.

The state high school basketball tournament as staged in Nebraska is the largest event of its kind ever held anywhere in the world. Other states have tournaments but not by any means on such a large scale as the Nebraska event.

Fraternity houses will be the temporary homes of many of the visiting men. Every Greek Letter organization will probably be asked to take in a few of the basketballers and to give them whatever conveniences they can. Since every one of the 2000 boys are future possible members of the student roster of the University of Nebraska everything possible will be done to influence the boys to continue their higher education at Nebraska.

Will School Have To Close On Account Of Epidemics Of Colds?

"Sniffle, sniffle", ain't it the "berries", these colds that are so cruelly invading the campus? Why it is simply awful, every one is coughing or trying to and about a third of the entire student body here "laid-up". Really it is quite pathetic to see stalwart young college men desperately wishing that they could sneeze. What a woe-filled expression appears at all, they wrinkle up their noses, a spasm comes over their "agile frames", and-and they sneeze. This is indeed a relief for a while but it is only temporary for it appears again, this time accompanied by a fit of coughing. A horrible attempt to control this, especially if it occurs in a class room, comes next. Often times this is very embarrassing. It necessitates excessive rolling of the eyes, deep breathing, and a slap on the chest. If a "fur-coated damsel, with whom he has been carrying on a vigorous flirtation, notices these facial and bodily expressions and immediately decides that he isn't nearly as handsome as she had pictured him, she of course, hasn't gotten the "fever" yet, so she can laugh "hard heartedly" at the struggling hero.

"But he who laughs last laughs the nicest" (or something like that,) for the next day our cynical young thing is not even in the class room but, as is found out later, is home gargling her throat and peering desperately in a mirror, to find out if her tonsils haven't swollen up twice their normal size and changed to coal black.

All the places of importance, like the "Rag" office, are minus at least two or more of their officials and over at the Cornhusker office—well, there just "ain't" nothing doing.

It has been suggested that school be closed and all the students given a few weeks, or months, to recuperate. It remains to be seen whether or not the authorities will justly realize this serious situation and act accordingly.

STUDENT RELIEF PLEDGES ARE DUE AT Y. M. NOW

All pledges made to the European Student Relief fund are due at once at the Y. M. C. A. at the Temple. Many students who wished to contribute to this worthy cause were given additional time, until March 1, in order to make their payments. It is very necessary that all pledges be paid immediately so that the records may be cleared and the money forwarded at once to the students who are in such desperate need of help.

ARMS CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ACTS

Students from 235 Universities Present Report of Activities

The following report from the National Student Committee for the Limitation of Armaments, representing 235 Men's and Women's universities and colleges, was presented to President Harding at 1 o'clock, Feb. 20, by a Committee led by Charles Denby, Jr., Princeton, Chairman:

In view of the fact that the United States has assumed an active part in the attempt to solve some of the problems involved in erecting international peace, the students of America have felt incumbent upon them the obligations of crystallizing their opinions concerning the problems that confronted the Conference for the Limitation of Armaments at Washington.

To stimulate interest in and discussion of these problems, the National Student Committee for the Limitation of Armaments was organized. Through cooperation between the students of 235 colleges and universities and the National Student Committee collegiate opinion has been aroused and formulated by means of debates, mass meetings and publicity in the college press.

The following expressions of opinion are based on resolutions independently adopted by a large part of the colleges and universities.

1. It is believed that the series of treaties drawn by the Washington Conference should be expeditiously ratified in their entirety by the U. S. Senate because they are definite steps toward the limitation of armaments by international agreement and are indicative of a genuine tendency toward international understanding and cooperation; and because a failure to ratify these treaties would result in augmented distrust among nations.

2. In addition, the students of America commend the spirit which prompted Mr. Wilson to propose the League of Nations and the similar spirit which moved Mr. Harding to call the Washington Conference, because it manifests a not distant possibility of an organization of nations adequately prepared peaceably to adjust international difficulties.

3. Furthermore, the students are of the opinion that the United States should participate in the Geneva or some similar conference on condition that the agenda include balancing the budgets of European countries, reduction of land armaments, breaking down of economic barriers and German reparations. It is further anticipated that such a Conference will lead to the adoption of policies by which in the future international welfare will predominate over purely national interests in the conduct of international economic affairs.

YENNE SPEAKS AT ART CLUB MEETING

The art club of the University held a meeting from 6 to 8 on Thursday of last week in which Mr. Herbert Yenne of the dramatic department told of his visit to the studio of Miss Ruth St. Dennis. Mr. Yenne also talked concerning a motion picture which he saw in the process of being filmed. It was decided at this meeting that March 3rd should be set as the limit for accepting work submitted in the competition for membership to the art club.

LUEHRING GOES TO GOPHERLAND

Director of Athletics Takes Leave of Cornhusker School This Week.

MAKES STATEMENT TO ALL STUDENTS

Thanks Huskers for Loyal Cooperation Shown in Past Year.

Fred W. Luehring, who recently resigned his position of director of athletics at the Cornhusker school to accept a similar position at the Gopher institution at Minnesota, leaves for Minneapolis this week. In leaving his position temporarily in the hands of Head Coach Fred Dawson, Mr. Luehring has issued the following statement through the Daily Nebraskan to the students and members of the faculty:

"The students and faculty of the University of Nebraska have my very best wishes. In my short stay here, I have tried to serve Nebraska to the best of my ability. The generous assistance and appreciation of loyal Cornhuskers has made the work on the whole a pleasure.

"Before leaving for a neighboring university, I have tried to put every detail of my work in the best shape possible so that the transition to my successor should be as convenient as possible for the University. Arrangements for games, contracts, condition of files, appointment of officials, policies and plans have been gone over carefully with those who will carry on my work. The work of the state high school basketball tournament has been carefully organized and thoroughly planned in all its details with the state high school board of control, Mr. Chadderton, Acting Director Dawson, Coach Frank and others so that I feel that the University is prepared to handle this great event in good shape.

"I also stand ready to assist Nebraska in any way possible at any time should my efforts be deemed desirable and helpful. Thanking you all for your loyal and kind cooperation and assuring you of my continued best wishes, I remain,

"Very sincerely yours,

"FRED W. LUEHRING."

Mr. Luehring will drive to Minnesota sometime this week, sending his household goods on ahead. He has already visited the Gopher school several times, where he has been the guest of honor at several functions given by the students and faculty. The Minnesota Daily has given Mr. Luehring the assurance of its hearty support in his program for the enlargement of athletic facilities there.

A great increase in the scope of athletics at Nebraska has resulted from the two years of work which Mr. Luehring has had at Nebraska. Many people expressed gratitude that the last official act of Mr. Luehring as director here should be the victory won by the swimming team at Ames Tuesday. The Nebraska swimming team has been developed entirely through his efforts.

Coach Dawson, who assumes the duties of director of athletics temporarily, has been sick for the last few days but was ready to report for work Thursday. His first duties will be connected with the staging of the big high school cage tourney scheduled for March 9, 10 and 11.

NEW LIGHTING FOR NEBR. STATE MUSEUM

The large panel mounts in the vestibule of the Nebraska State Museum have been wired and lighted artificially by the university electricians. Two of these large panels were secured by the Morrill Geological Expeditions for the State and one by the Maiben Expedition sent out by the university to preserve for the enrich other institutions. state the valuable materials which are being carried away annually to enrich other institutions.
