and cents, a careful estimate has been made and approximations place the amount given by the students on the campus at near the sixteen hundred dollar mark.

As in every drive of this nature on the campus, there were those who could have given who did not. One of the noticeable features of the canvass among the student body was the large number of students working their way through the University who gave in large amounts.

In the total of the figures as final on the canvass, the amount is large. The students on the campus have been asked for money for various interests and have responded heartily. True as that may be, however, and considering the cause for which the money was being raised, greater amounts could have been forthcoming from many sources which did not give.

Columbia University—Announcement has been made by the Chairman of the Soph Dinner Committee that the Sophomore crown has been secretly removed from the Campus and hidden.

Why all the fuss about Flappers? Its just a new name for a historical organization. If Cleopatra wasn't a flapper who is? Or go back further to Lot's wife, whose career was cut short by a pillar of salt, who perhaps started the organization.

In Years Gone By. Seventeen Years Ago Today The freshmen organized a society called the "Koppa Cap," the purpose of which was to keep all freshmen from wearing freshmen caps.

Sixteen Years Ago Today The varsity baseball team left for the south to play during Easter vacation. The games were to be played at Manhattan, Kansas U, Fort Riley and St. Mary's.

Ten Years Ago Today Instead of the regular drill, cadets were asked to attend an illustrated lecture on the Japanese-Russian war.

Six Years Ago Today Delay in the plans for the building of a social Science hall was made, until a study of the efficiency of the plans in connection with the amount of space could be more definite.

Five Years Ago Today Chancellor Avery returned from a conference of agricultural experts of the middle west. He said that moderation in the use of food, careful conservation of the supply on hand, and intensive cultivation of Nebraska's acres to produce a bigger crop yield would be the first thing that this state would do to help the cause of the war.

Other Worlds Than Our Own.

University of Montana—Paddles of black will appear as a means of punishing the offenders of the campus cutting rule at the University of Montana. All offenders will be punished and there will be no distinction between freshmen and seniors.

Colorado Ag. College—The Aggie R. O. T. C. has petitioned the Student Council to make it a regular student activity and that it receive ten per cent of the student activity fee.
