HUSKERS WIN GAMES FROM KANSAS AGS

After Defeating Aggies on Friday, 15 to 4, Huskers Repeat on Saturday, 7 to 6

WINNING RUNS SCORED IN THE FINAL INNINGS

Joe Pizer Stars, Carr Knocks Home Run With Man on Base

Repeating Friday's performance of winning the game in the last of the ninth, the University of Nebraska nine defeated the Kansas Aggies again Saturday by a 7 to 6 count. The game was well-contested throughout, the Nebraska team's great comeback deciding the contest in the final innings, after the Kansans had piled up six runs to the Huskers' three. Joe Pizer again played a stellar game for the Huskers.

The game for the first five innings was a pitchers' battle between Carmen of the Cornhuskers and Karns of the Aggies, with the Farmer hurler having a slight advantage.

In the first half of the sixth inning, the Aggies scored four runs on two walks, an error, and several hits, including a home run over the right field fence by Sinderson with one man on base. The Huskers came back in the last half of the sixth and scored three runs on a combination of several hits and errors.

The Kansans scored one run in both the seventh and eighth innings and in the last half of the eighth the Huskers went on a rampage and scored three runs. Pizer started the inning with an infield single, and after Anderson and McCrory went out, Thomsen brought Pizer home with a single and McCrory went out. Carr stepped to the plate and parked the ball on the Rock Island tracks, scoring a runner ahead of him and bringing in the tying score.

After one man had been walked in the ninth, Ziegenbein relieved Carmen. Two men went out and then the bases were filled by two walks. With three men on the bases and two out and the count two and three on the batter, Ziegenbein curved a fast one across the platter and the batsman was out.

Lewellen, first man up for the Huskers in the ninth, poled out a high fly to left, which the fielder missed, because of the strong wind. Lewellen stopped at second. Ziegenbein fouled out and Carmen won the game by knocking a single down the third base line, Lewellen scoring on his hit.

The game was loosely played because of the high wind, which made the catching of flies almost impossible. A crowd of over three hundred attended the game, which was played at Rock Island Park.

Nebraska 0 0 0 0 3 0 3 1-7 7 3

SCHRAMM RETURNS FROM NATIONAL CONVENTION

Professor Schramm of the Geology Department of the University gave a very interesting talk Thursday evening before the meeting of the Sigma Gamma Epsilon on the National Convention at Pittsburgh which he attended as delegate from the local chapter. Professor Schramm spoke of the various work and functions of the fraternity brought out at this convention and the extension of the fraternity. Sigma Gamma Epsilon now has twenty-five active chapters, some in the largest institutions of the country. The Nebraska chapter was established here at the university in 1917 and has been active since that time.

Mr. L. W. Petree, instructor in the Geology Department also gave an illustrated talk on Southern Mexico. Officers were elected at this meeting for the next semester. President E. P. Philbrick; Vice President, E. A. Wyman; Secretary-Treasurer, H. R. Knapp; Historian and Editor, L. L. Harden; Corresponding Secretary, C. C. Wich.

Plans were made for the annual banquet May 15, which promises to be the best ever held.

MID-VICTORIAN EXHIBIT CLOSES IN ART GALLERY

The mid-Victorian exhibit which has been held in the art gallery since Thursday closed Saturday evening. A dance was given by Miro Marek and Pearl Svensen, and the University players also entertained.

The University Orchestra played Thursday evening followed by a minuet danced by Marjorie Corrington; Miss Eulala Winter sang accompanied by Miss Marjorie Shanafelt on the harp and George Roy presented an amusing number with three dancing dolls.

The exhibition contained a collection of most interesting antiques of the mid-Victorian period. Proceeds of the affair will be donated to the cause of the Russian Famine Relief Fund.

HISTORY TEACHERS GATHER ON CAMPUS

Annual Spring Convention Held at University May 5 and 6.

The Nebraska History Teachers Association held their annual spring convocation here May 5 and 6. This association holds two meetings a year. The fall meeting is held in Omaha at the same time that the Nebraska Teachers Association meets.

At this convention Professor Roy E. Cochran, of the American History Department, automatically became the president, formerly being vice-president. Professor Cochran succeeds Mrs. Branthwaite, principle of the Whittier school of Lincoln, in this office. Miss Margaret Davis of the Lincoln High School will retain the office of secretary-treasurer.

The Association entertained as its guests Professor A. M. Schlessinger, of Iowa State University. Friday evening a dinner was given at Ellen Smith hall for Professor Schlessinger, after which followed a lecture in Social Science auditorium. At this lecture, Professor Schlessinger spoke of "New Social View-Points in American History." He compared history writers of the Revolutionary days, with the modern historian. In doing this, four periods and their writers were described. Doctor Schlessinger referred to various noted historians throughout his lecture; quoting from their works in many cases. He feels that the modern historian should deal with the importance of common things and the importance of common people. The viewpoint discussed most exclusively was that of the importance of the farmer in history. "Writers in the past have all come from the city, and therefore, have made us think that history was formulated by city people," said Doctor Schlessinger. "If American history is to be reconstructed, it will be up to those who live in the middle west."

Dr. Schlessinger is one of the well-known modern historians. His latest book "New Social View-Points in American History," has just recently been published.

Open Meeting.

The second meeting open to the public, of the association, was held Saturday morning in Social Science hall, Room 209. At this time Mrs. Branthwaite introduced the new principal of the Lincoln High School, Homer P. Shepard. Mr. Shepard spoke about the problems of historians and told how history is being taught in many elementary and secondary schools, throughout the United States. "Supervised study shortens hours of recitation, and consequently, not enough time is given to the more important subjects, such as history," said Mr. Shepard.

Mistake in Method.

He feels that it is a mistake to begin teaching history in the seventh grade without any fundamental knowledge of European history. Many ideas in the teaching of history such as the combining of history with geography or economics and civics, were discussed by Mr. Shepard.

Miss Margaret Davis was the second speaker of the morning. She talked on "the Organization of Material in United States History," by the aid of mimeographed outlines which were distributed. The main topics of interest were: Importance of Geographical location of America; Colonial Period; The Struggle for Union; Growth of Democracy; The Negro problem; The Struggle to maintain the Union; Winning of the West.

EXPRESS COMPANY TO CONDUCT TOUR

American Express Company Will Manage Student and Professional Trip

The American Express Company announces that it will conduct a tour to Europe in the summer of 1922, especially arranged, both for the Foreign Trade instructor and student, and the business man, manufacturer and banker interested in international commercial, industrial and financial activities.

The foreign trade tour is an educational tour, presented for the purpose of gathering together a group of instructors and students in foreign trade subjects and to offer to them at a low rate the advantages of such a trip. The idea of a study tour, while comparatively new to America, is not new to Europe. It has been used constantly as a means of giving the European business man and the student of foreign trade a vivid impression and better understanding of the differences between domestic and foreign commerce and industry. American students in foreign trade can secure this understanding—the international viewpoint so essential for successful conduct of foreign trade—more surely and quickly by carefully planned travel and observation, than in any other way. The foreign trade tour is carefully planned and offers to give a view of commercial and industrial practice in six leading countries of Europe.

The head of the American Express system in Europe, Mr. W. J. Thomas, formerly of Nebraska, and General Managers for the various countries visited, will give the tour their personal attention. L. W. Demotte, Personal Director, American Express Company, will accompany and be in charge of the trip, assisted by a large staff of capable and well known instructors.

Sixty-Five Days of Travel

The tour covers sixty-five days, including two days in New York. Although the time is limited and the field to be covered large, careful organization will make it possible, with economy of time and effort, to gain a more comprehensive and accurate idea of conditions, organization and methods than would otherwise be possible in a much longer time.

The program calls for preliminary lectures during the voyage to Europe, special lectures and conferences in Europe, the inspection of commercial organizations, industrial plants and financial institutions and visit to civic and educational schools.

In spite of the emphasis which will be placed on the main purpose of the tour, it will also possess some of the recreational value of an ordinary tour to Europe. An opportunity will be provided for those who wish to see the Passion Play at Oberammergau.

The accommodations provided have been chosen with a view to securing (Continued on page 3)

Kenneth McCandless, who will represent the University on a European tour this summer.

HUSKERS VICTORIOUS IN DIAMOND CONTEST

Nebraska Nine Wins First Game, 5 to 8, by a Desperate Ninth Inning Rally

With the score standing 4 to 2 against them in the last half of the ninth, the Husker diamond crew staged a sensational rally and defeated the Kansas Aggie nine, 5 to 4, in the first game of the two-game series Friday afternoon at Rock Island Park. Three hundred loyal Nebraska fans attended the game.

The Scarlet and Cream nine was the first to score, shoving a counter across the pan in the second inning when Carr knocked a home run over the right field wall with the bases unoccupied. The Aggies forged into the lead in the fourth inning when Burton the Farmer catcher, duplicated Carr's home run feat with one man on base. Nebraska came back in the last half of the fourth and knotted the count on a four-base swat by Thomsen in deep left field.

The Kansans scored again in the sixth when several hits netted them two runs, making the score 4 to 2 in favor of the Aggies. The Nebraskans then proceeded to get men on bases each inning up to the ninth, but lacked the punch to score.

The Huskers came to bat the last half of the ninth determined to score. Lewellen, first man up, smacked the ball on the nose for a home run, the ball going far over the left-fielder's head. The next batter, Ziegenbein, poled out a triple to left and after Munger had gone out, came in with the tying run on Pizer's timely single to center. After Anderson went out, Captain McCrory knocked a grounder to the Aggie shortstop, who overthrew first and Pizer who had stolen second, tallied with the winning run.

Munger pitched a nice game for the Huskers, and brought himself out of several bad holes by his excellent hurling. Joe Pizer, second baseman, starred for the Nebraskans, making hits and fielding perfectly. Captain McCrory made several good catches of difficult flies in left field. Burton, Aggie backstop, played a stellar game for the Farmers.

The game was featured by four home runs. Carr, Thomsen and Lewellen made the circuit smashes for the Scarlet and Cream nine, while Burton walloped one over the right field fence for the Kansans.

NEBRASKAN TO TAKE EUROPEAN STUDENT TOUR

Kenneth McCandless to Represent Nebraska Students in Europe

CHANCELLOR AVERY ENDORSES SELECTION

"Student Pilgrimage for Friendship" Organized by World Student Federation

On June 27, fifty American college men, representing the student body of colleges and universities in all sections of the United States, will sail from New York on the Mauretania bound for Europe where they will spend the summer in a series of conferences with students in the educational centers of England and the continent. The representatives from Nebraska will be Kenneth McCandless. Although the tour is not official, of the University, but merely representative of the student body of American, it is being heartily endorsed by the heads of American educational institutions. The following statement was made by Chancellor Samuel Avery Saturday:

Chancellor Avery's Statement. It is with gratification that I learn that Kenneth McCandless has been chosen to represent the students of the colleges and universities of Nebraska in a trip to Europe this year to visit universities in the war stricken countries and to convey to them personally our interest and good will. The students of Nebraska responded splendidly to the appeal for the friendship fund. This fund is more than charity. If the spirit in which it was raised is continued and grows adequately, it will do much to guarantee the future peace of the world. It is in this sense, therefore, an investment that will bring untold returns in the future.

I am glad that the students of the colleges of Nebraska have so able and worthy a representative, and I am sure that the presence in the universities of Europe of representatives of American students will do much to perpetuate the friendship and good will inspired by the generous contributions of last winter.

Signed, S. AVERY. The World Student Christian Federation is responsible for organizing and conducting this "student pilgrimage of Friendship" as it has been called. During the winter, the American branch of this world-wide organization raised more than $60,000 as a friendship fund for the relief of fellow students in Europe. The University of Nebraska sent more than $3,000.

As a result of this generous response on the part of American students there is a feeling of deep gratitude toward America in the hearts of thousands of European students who owe a part of their education and some their very lives to the aid which came from across the sea. Through the conferences this summer it is hoped that the Americans and their European brothers will cement this friendship.

Europe's Hope in Youth.

The college Y. M. C. A. of America is co-operating with the World Student Christian Federation in this whole movement—One of those most responsible for the "pilgrimage of friendship" is Ben Cherrington, of the "Y" in the Rocky Mountain region and a graduate of the U. of N., class of '11. To a reporter of the Daily Nebraskan he gave the following statement Saturday concerning the group going to Europe:

"The hope of Europe is in its youth. William Allen White voiced this idea to the students of the University of Kansas Friday when he said: 'The one blessed privilege of youth is to change things. The one virtue of youth is a passion for change. Nothing is as wicked as a conservative youth.'"

"The old order in Europe must go and it is youth which must change it. The older people are steeped in hatred and jealousy. This has been shown clearly at the Genoa conference. If every person over thirty-five years old had been barred from participation there, they would now be together."
