Arrangements Made to Entertain Visitors For All Day Conference

Editors of high school papers and annuals over the state will be in Lincoln next Saturday morning and afternoon in response to an invitation sent out by Sigma Delta Chi and Theta Sigma Phi, honorary journalistic societies. The program outlined for the conference of editors calls for visits to newspaper offices in Lincoln and an open forum discussion of the problems arising out of the publication of high school papers and annuals.

This is the first meeting of its kind sponsored by the journalistic organizations at Nebraska. Similar meetings are being held this spring at Iowa and Michigan by the chapters of Sigma Delta Chi at those schools. The early response to the invitations, promises that a large group of editors will be here for the meeting.

High school editors are asked to bring copies of their publications along with them in order that a more complete and detailed discussion of the problems of high school publications may be carried out. Arrangements are being made to entertain the girl editors who will be in Lincoln over night at the different sorority houses.

VICTORIOUS HUSKERS MEET AMES SATURDAY

Track Team to Engage in Dual Meet With Iowa Aggies

Nebraska track fans will have their first opportunity to see the victorious Husker cinder path athletes in action when they meet the Ames tracksters in a dual meet Saturday morning, May 13, on Nebraska field. Coach Schulte will send his proteges thru a series of stiff workouts this week in preparation for the Cyclone meet.

Because of the Cornhuskers' decisive victory over the Kansas University athletes Saturday, who were rated as the strongest team in the Valley, the Scarlet and Cream track men are expected to have little difficulty in trimming the Iowa Ag cinder team. The Huskers are planning on revenge for the defeat handed them by the Cyclones in the indoor meet in February.

A feature of last Saturday's meet with the Jayhawkers was the unusual strength of the Huskers in the sprints and distance runs. Nebraska captured the first two places in the century dash, and all three in the 220-yard dash. The Huskers also cleaned up in the half-mile and topped first and second honors in the mile run. Hawkins and Ted Smith ran off with two of the three places in the quarter mile dash.

The company G tracksters won the inter-company cinder meet held on Nebraska field last Saturday afternoon, with a total of forty-eight points. Company L came in second with thirty-four and one-half points. The millitary meet was the fourth intramural track meet to be held this year.

The four leading company teams were as follows:

- Company G, 48 points.

When this first hundred and fifty are gone, all will be gone as refreshments, favors and entertainments have been planned for that number only. A breakfast for all university girls will be given Saturday at 9 a. m., Ellen Smith Hall, and will be the last party of the year to be sponsored by the Senior Advisory Board. Tickets may be obtained from any member of the present board before Thursday evening.

Students Begin To Worry About Final Exams As Time Draws Near

Well, everybody, school is almost over. Ain't it simply grand to think that vacation is going to start pretty soon? It hasn't been such a bad year after all, has it? One doesn't begin to really appreciate school until it is nearly over. Think, too, exams are coming, but still it doesn't make any student particularly shiver for fright, does it? Oh they all say that it does. Have you ever known a student that did not say, "Heavens, exams are coming and I'm simply scared to death?" Now really and truly they aren't frightened at all. That phrase is merely a habit, not a necessity.

Every one thinks with dread at the results of the examinations, especially if they are bound to be rather unsatisfactory, but they do not shudder, specifically, at the examination proper. Do they now?

Have you noticed any pale, wan, frightened faces around the campus? The time, you know, is drawing near and if ever there are going to be any they ought to start right away. It, on the other hand seems as if the students are brighter and happier than they have been all year. So many fine things are happening and there are so many wonderful things to look forward to, the Cornhusker for instance, the delightful summer vacation, 'n everything. How could any one "hang a sorrowful head" when there is so much in store for them?

Every one is studying twice as hard, of course, but what is a little hard work, this kind of weather. It's only fun, nothin' else.

This is only the correct view point not actually the case, in regards to the statement about studying. The thing to do is try to make studying be as it has been idealized then the attitude towards exams will be "tres bien," with apologies to the French department. That is the only way to feel, as long as it has to be done. Don't you agree? Please try to.

INTER-FRAT BALL GAMES ARE PLAYED

Six Teams Eliminated in First Days Playing—Scores are Onesided

The first round of the inter-fraternity baseball games, which was played yesterday afternoon, eliminated six teams from the running for the championship. Most of the games resulted in one-sided scores, the exception being the 13-12 victory of the Silver Lynx nine over the Bushnell Guild team.

Phi Kappa Psi, 18; Alpha Tau Omega, 2.

Delta Tau Delta, 7; Sigma Nu, 4.
Beta Theta Pi, 9; Phi Alpha Delta, 5.
Delta Chi, 9; Pi Kappa Phi, 4.
Silver Lynx, 13; Bushnell Guild 12.

The committee in charge of the tournament has announced the following games to be played today, completing the first round:
Alpha Gamma Rho vs. Phi Gamma Delta.

AMATEUR STANDING NEVER JEOPARDIZED

"Rudy" Ziegenbein, Husker pitcher, is eligible for university athletics and always has been. This was the gist of a statement given to the press Monday morning by Coach Dawson, following an investigation of the report that Ziegenbein had signed for professional baseball this summer. The Coach Dawson said:
"The committee on eligibility at the University of Nebraska, after examining the case of Ziegenbein and conferring with other members of the Missouri Valley Conference, finds that Ziegenbein's amateur standing has not been impaired. The question came up as to whether or not contracting for future service would professionalize an athlete. The present consensus of opinion in the Missouri Valley conference is that such contracting, provided no money is received by the athlete in anticipation of his professional services, does not affect the amateur standing of the athlete."

The investigation grew out of a rumor arising some two weeks ago that Ziegenbein had been approached by Harry Smith, manager of the state league baseball team at Hastings, and practically signed for the season's work. Ziegenbein has consistently declined to discuss the rumor. Apparent strength was given it by the appearance in the latest bulletin of the national baseball commission of the name "Ziegenbein" in the Hastings club. The affair has been the occasion for a lively exchange of personalities in the press of the state. The decision of the eligibility committee means that "Rudy" may safely sign with Hastings so long as no money changes hands on the deal.

Edgar H. Landgren, C. E., '22, has written to Dean Ferguson that he has accepted a position with the Concrete Engineering Company, Omaha.

WASHINGTON U TAKES A GAME FROM HUSKERS

Ten Inning Contest Results in 8-4 Victory For Visitors Monday Afternoon

LAST INNING UNLUCKY FOR CORNHUSKER SQUAD

Ziegenbein Allows Five Safeties in First Extra Chapter—Another Game Today

Nicking "Rudy" Ziegenbein's offerings for five safeties in the first extra chapter, Washington University, St. Louis, chased across four scores, thereby breaking a deadlock and winning the first of the two-game series here Monday, 8 to 4. The game was played at Rock Island park.

Nebraska got away to an early lead when Fries, a port sider, who started for the visitors, hit Anderson and Thomsen ran Magnolo into the fence trying to catch his long fly. The center gardener upset and before he could recover Thomsen made the entire circuit, preceded by Anderson.

Washington started heating the water for Fries' shower and when Smaha, first man to face him in the second, slapped a double to left, he was given the grand bailing sign and Trautwein took over the responsibility.

Washington drew blood in the fourth when Edgar, shortstop, got his name in the summary by smacking one to deep center good for three bags. He scored on Wyman's sacrifice fly.

Captain McCrory drew a pass in the Huskers' half of the sixth, advanced when Linnemeyer kicked Thomsen's grounder and both scored on Carr's grounder which bounced ten feet over Edgar's head.

Ziegenbein hit Magnolo in the sixth who advanced on Linnemeyer's sacrifice and crossed when Edgar got more publicity by rapping a double to left. The visitors tied the count in the seventh with a walk, Shanley's single, Thompson's sacrifice fly and Wyther's error in right.

The visitors' icing process started in the tenth with Finn's double, followed by singles from the willows of Magnolo and Linnemeyer. Edgar helped his average again with a double and Pierce scored Linnemeyer and Edgar with a single. The Huskers were unable to help.

It was anybody's ball game at the opening of the tenth. Both aggregations had been having trouble bunting their hits and both pitchers seemed to have the situation well in hand.

The two teams meet again Tuesday at 4 p. m. at Rock Island park. Munger will start on the mound for the Huskers and Coach Davis may give Fries another opportunity.

The Husker infield was shifted with "Banty" Anderson and Thomsen trading places, Anderson going to first and Thomsen behind the bat.
