

NEBRASKA INSTRUCTOR
GOES TO COLUMBUS

Mr. L. A. Wolfanger, instructor in the Geography Department, has been elected Instructor in Geography at Columbia University of New York City. Mr. Wolfanger's work will be chiefly along lines of Economic Geography, working with Professor J. Russell Smith in that field. Mr. Wolfanger has been doing graduate work here in Geography during the past year. Previous to that time he spent three years with the U. S. bureau of Soils.

NEW FURNITURE

Through a special assessment on the active chapter, Beta Tau is the proud possessor of a new lot of furniture. We were recently able to take advantage of a wonderful opportunity and responded to the occasion by the acquisition of a handsome lot of furniture for our living room. The old boys coming back will be glad to plant themselves upon our new chairs and settee, all finished in leather, and to put their feet (?) on a new table, which occupies a prominent place. They will be waiting for you when the "Cornhusker Round-up" comes round and will welcome you to their midst.

Lincoln Wins Game In Ninth Inning.

The Red and Black diamond performers captured the ham from Ulysses high baseball team after a ninth inning rally which netted two runs and won the game 9 to 8, at Lincoln Friday.

When the Lincoln youths started the ninth stanza the score was 8 to 7 against them. Thomas first man up was a strike-out victim, "Jug" Brown got a hit, was safe on first and stole second. At this moment McIntyre was rushed in the game to swing the hickory in place of "Stan" Lewis, who hadn't got a hit all during the game, but Dorsey couldn't connect with Bolen's puzzling drops. With two men gone and a man on second McIntyre was walked. Clayton Lewis at bat had two strikes against him when Pitcher Bolen tried to tag Brown on third. Hillyer, their one-armed third baseman was handicapped in throwing the ball which enabled "Jug" to cross the platter and tie the score while McIntyre stole third. The last ball over "Clay" struck at and missed but the catcher muffed it and Lewis raced to first while McIntyre scored, which ended the game.

Brt started the hurling for Lincoln and set the visitors down without a score for the first four innings. He weathered a fifth inning in which Ulysses scored five runs. With the exception of the fifth inning he pitched good ball. He struck out nine and walked two.

C. Bolen, on the mound for the Ulysses gang, also pitched a neat game, but a few errors by his team mates lost the game. He struck out twelve and walked five.

"Jug" Brown got a circuit tally in the first inning with one man on base and Paul Miller got one in the sixth with no men on base. Clayton Lewis accepted three flies without a muff.

A feature of the game was the hitting ability of C. Hillyer, a one-armed third baseman for Ulysses. In five trips to the plate he slaughtered the horsehide for a three base hit, a double and a single receiving a cheer every time.
