

BETAS AND FARM HOUSE MEET IN BASEBALL FINALS

Beta Theta Pi and Farm House went into the finals of the inter-fraternity baseball tournament on Monday when they defeated Sigma Phi Epsilon and Acacia, respectively. The Betas staged an O. Henry finish after trailing for eight innings and took the best end of a 5 to 4 count. Farm House beat the Acacias, 4 to 1.

Three errors, a walk and three hits netted the Sig Eps their only runs, which came in the first frame. Dolzel, who started for the Betas, retired in favor of Lloyd, who held the Sig Eps to two hits. Wenke went the entire route for the Sig Eps and kept the hits well scattered until the fatal ninth when Arries scratched one to third, Clark at second for the Sig Eps let Lloyd's grounder get through the wickets and Wenke grooved one for Jeff Petty who smacked a head-high drive over second, scoring Arries and Lloyd. The Betas scored once in the third and fourth innings.

The finals will be played at Rock Island Park Wednesday afternoon.

AGRONOMY CLUB TO HAVE WIENIE ROAST

The last meeting of the Agronomy Club for this semester will be a field trip and wienie roast at the University Agronomy Farm, one and one-half miles east of University Place. The party will start from Dairy Industry at 5 p. m., today and drive in cars to the Agronomy farm.

Doctor Kiesselbach and Professors Russell and Anderson of the soil and crops departments will explain the various experiments being conducted with soils and various crops in each of the field plots. This is an excellent opportunity to become familiar with the experimental work in Agronomy now being done by the Nebraska Agricultural college. Everyone is invited to join the party. All going will please notify Leslie Moore or J. W. Nielson.

ty and support of the entire faculty and student body in any steps he takes looking to the development of this splendid institution.

Before a body of students that taxed the capacity of the Teachers' College Auditorium, Dean Sealock introduced Chancellor Avery of the University, who in turn introduced the speaker of the morning, Superintendent A. H. Waterhouse of the Fremont Public Schools. In introducing Mr. Waterhouse the Chancellor was free to confess that in Nebraska it was just as possible to establish traditions overnight as it was back in Michigan and that the introduction of the new T. C. yell among other things was but the actual making of tradition and that he had high hopes for the future of this institution as a part of the greater University.

Trained Teachers Needed

Superintendent Waterhouse emphasized the fact that there was not only a necessity for degrees, worthy as these are, but there was a great need essity for professionally-trained teachers in our public schools and it was for the meeting of these two needs that an autonomous teachers' college should stand. He spoke of the necessity of standing by our profession until we die if need be. His subject, "What the Superintendent May Expect from the Teacher," was handled in an able manner. He spoke from the fullness of his own experience as a school man of years in the harness. Mr. Waterhouse stated that the community had expectations that must be met by the teacher. He stated that in his opinion the teacher must make an agreeable adjustment to the community by being a good citizen and establishing a reputation upon which to build in the future. As teachers, he thought, we must be willing to give our services and recognize the fact that the taxpayer has a right to expect values received for money expended. "When you come into the community you have your part to play. Will you do it?" Following this address, all those interested in the organization of the Elementary Teachers' Club were called together and officers elected. These officers are: President, Betty Riddell, Vice President, Margaret Baker, Secretary - treasurer, Gertrude Gould; Faculty Advisor, Dr. Earhart. The Secondary Teachers' Club was organized several days ago and is already active in the development of plans. A picnic for the Secondary Club has already been planned for Tuesday of next week. The elementary Teachers' Club will hold a picnic on the same evening.

Miss Hullinger, representing the Kindergarten and Primary Club spoke briefly of this organization. This club has been functioning for two years or more and is affiliated with a similar national organization. The advisor for this club is Miss Wilson.
