TRACK SQUAD OFF FOR CHICAGO MEET

Eight Cornhuskers Will Take Part in National Intercollegiate Meet Saturday

Coach Henry F. Schulte, left Thursday for Chicago a forerunner of a string of eight Cornhusker track men of both the sprinting and field variety, who will leave today for Chicago, where the Nebraska men will take part in the national intercollegiate track and field championship. Athletes from all parts of the United States are entered in the Chicago meet. From California to New York and from Texas to Maine they will gather at Chicago to fight for the laurels.

The eight Cornhuskers who will take part in the meet are Captain "Ed" Smith, Captain-elect Kenneth Hawkins "Herb" Gish, Clarence Moulton, Ted Smith, "Mud" Gardner, "Hobb" Turner, and E. V. Allen.

The events which the Cornhuskers will enter together with the men who will enter follow:

- 100-yard dash—Ed Smith.
- 220-yard dash—Ed Smith.
- 120-yard high hurdles—Gish
- 220-yard low hurdles—Gish
- Shot put—Moulton.
- Discuss throw—Moulton.
- 440-yard dash—Ted Smith and Hawkins.
- 880-yard run—Allen and Gardner.
- 1 mile run—Allen and Gardner.
- Running high jump—Turner.

The Cornhusker track squad has been performing regularly this spring. They have carried off a series of dual meets, placed third at the Drake relays at Des Moines and won on championship of the Missouri valley conference. In all of these meets the Huskers have met stiff opposition and it is probable that the Nebraska men will be able to place in several of the events which they enter Saturday.

Last year, with only five men entered, Nebraska placed in sixth place. At that time Wright, rated as the equal of any hurdler in the country, was with the Huskers and did fine at Chicago. He is missing this year but the Nebraska men are showing up well elsewhere and should bring in a number of places in some of the events entered.

ICELAND FROLIC FRIDAY NIGHT

Y. W. C. A. Gives Party For Summer School Women Students Tomorrow

Who's Who in the Faculty

Dean P. M. Buck.

Dean Philo M. Buck of the college of arts and sciences, has, since coming to Nebraska in 1910, become one of the most highly endeared members of the faculty of the University of Nebraska. Possessing a naturalness toward a deep friendship for all who know him, Dean Buck holds a highly cherished position in the minds of all Nebraska students.

Philo Melvin Buck, Jr., was born in Morristown, N. J., February 18, 1877, the son of Rev. Philo Melvin and Caroline Buck. He was educated at the Philander Smith institute at Mussoorie, India, from 1889-93, at the Gettysburg, Pa., college from 1893-95. He received his bachelor of arts degree from Ohio Wesleyan university in 1897 and his master of arts degree from the same school in 1898. He received a master of arts degree from Harvard university in 1900.

Mr. Buck was instructor of English at Ohio Wesleyan for two years, 1898-9 and at St. Louis high school from 1900-04. From 1904 to 1910 he was head of the English department in William McKinley high school, St. Louis. During the summers of 1909 and 1910 he taught in the summer school at the University of Nebraska.

Dean Buck came to the University of Nebraska as associate professor of rhetoric in 1912. In 1919 he became dean of the college of art and science succeeding Ellery W. Davis. He has done much to increase the interest of the students in the college and this year was the promoter of a plan of organization for the arts students. He met with a number of the students of the college and helped lay plans to bring all the students into an organization.

Dean Buck is associate editor of the Midwest Quarterly, a member of the modern language association of America and of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. He is a member of the Methodist Episcopal church, and of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce.

Dean Buck is the author of many books among which are listed "The Art of Composition," which he published in 1913. He is editor of Emerson's Representative Men published in 1906, Shakespeare's King Lear, 1907; Burns' Poems, 1908; Huxley's Essays, 1910; Dickens' David Copperfield, 1910; Milton's Minor Poems, 1911. He is a contributor to the Unpopular Review, The Nation, The Review, etc.

During the war, 1917-18, he was captain of the adjutant general's department of the 34th division and 1918-19 was in charge of the publicity section of the military intelligence division of the general staff.

Dean Buck will this fall engage in an exchange of professorship with Professor S. L. Joshi of the College of Baroda, University of Bombay, India. He will leave shortly after the fall registration and will return late in the spring. Dean Buck is one of the few university men in the United States who can speak the Indian language.

UNIVERSITY STUDENT ON TOUR OF EUROPE

Robert Ingles to Spend Summer With a Student Visiting Party Across the Sea

Robert Ingles, '22, will spend the summer on a tour in Europe. He will join a student party in the east and will sail June 27, arriving in England July 4. They will there be received jointly by the British Student movement and the American Universities union of Great Britain.

The party will study student environment and social conditions in England, Germany, Austria, France, Holland and Belgium. Conference will be held at Nunspeet, Dresden, Prague, Vienna, Budapest, and Oberammergan.

The party will visit the summer home of the former emperor and princess at Potsdam, Cracau. They will be entertained for a short time at the country home of the president of Austria, at the passion play at Oberammergan. They will visit the devastated areas of France and Belgium.

Plans are being made for the visit in Hungary, Germany and Czechoslovakia. The party will leave Great Britain on the return to the United States September 2.

DEBAUFRE CALLED TO WASHINGTON

Engineering Professor Will Work For the Government Throughout the Summer

Professor W. L. DeBaufre, chairman of the mechanical engineering department of the university, has been called to Washington by the government. He will remain there a large part of the summer. Prof. DeBaufre is a member of the helium board which is investigating methods of extracting helium from the minerals containing it. It is this board which Prof. DeBaufre will work with this summer.

Prof. DeBaufre will go to Washington by way of Boston and New York. He will visit several of the larger schools in the east. He plans also to stop at Schenectady to look up details for research work which he will do here next winter.

LET'S GET ACQUAINTED
Come to the Iceland Frolic at Ellen Smith hall Friday, June 16, 7:45 p. m., for all university women.

REGISTRATION TOTALS 2,015

Final Figures May Yet Be Changed But a New Record For Summer Attendance Has Been Made

Two thousand and fifteen students in the first session of the summer school—that is the record to which the University of Nebraska now lays claim. That is the number of students which have been counted at the registrar's office.

Final figures for the first summer session may change some what before the end of this week. There are still a number of students who are strolling in to register and the final total may mount some higher. The difference, however, will not be great.

The total of 2,015 students is a new record for summer school attendance, not only for the first session but the total hot weather enrollment. The highest figure ever before accumulated was 1,589 which was recorded for the two sessions last year. More than 1,000 of that number were in attendance at the first session last year while the remaining 500 attended the second half.

If the same ratio is maintained the second session this year as was registered last summer, the second part of the summer school should see some 1,200 registered. This will bring the total summer school attendance to above 3,200 or more than double what it was for both sessions last year.

DAWSON LEAVES ON SUMMER VACATION

Athletic Director Will Spend Two Months in Colorado—Schulte Takes Over Duties

Head coach of football and director of athletics Fred T. Dawson has left Lincoln for the summer. He is now in Colorado where he will spend two months of the summer vacation fishing, camping and visiting. He will return in time for the early football practices and in time to take charge of the affairs of the athletic office before school starts in the fall.

During the absence of Coach Dawson, Coach Henry F. Schulte, track mentor, will have charge of the athletic director's office. He, together with Neil T. Chadderdon, who handles the business affairs of the office will have entire charge of the athletic office during the summer. Schulte was appointed assistant director of athletics before Dawson left on the western trip.

MISS M'DILL WILL ENTERTAIN DELIANS

Miss Ruth McDill, 714 West Seventeenth street, University Place, will entertain the member of the Delian literary society at a lawn party at her home Saturday evening. Every Delian is urged to attend the party.
