VIVIAN HANSON WINS CONTEST FOR "CORNHUSKER ROSE"

TITAN HAIRED BEAUTY WINNER

Only a Few Votes Separate the Leaders in the Race For Honor—Large Number of Votes Makes it Advisable to Give Songs to Twenty Girls Having the Highest Number—Results of Contest are Very Pleasing.

Vivian Hanson, Titan haired beauty, one of the six girls featured in the beauty section of the 1922 Cornhusker will adorn the cover of the new waltz sweetheart song, "Cornhusker Rose" which is to be published soon. Miss Hanson emerged the victor in the contest conducted by the Summer Nebraskan and Howard Adamson, composer of the song, to select the Nebraska girl most representative of the school.

On account of the heavy vote which was cast in the contest, Adamson has agreed to increase the number of girls receiving free copies of the song to twenty. So few votes separated any of the twenty girls that it was felt in fairness to all, twenty copies of the song should be given away. The songs will be mailed to the twenty girls by the Summer Nebraskan as soon as they are published. Each song will be autographed by Adamson.

The twenty girls receiving the highest number of votes follow:

Vivian Hanson
Adelheit Dettman
Belle Farman
Ruth Fickes
Lillian Hanson
Marguerite Holloway
Mildred Hullinger
Ruth Kadel
Helen Kummer
Marjorie Martin
Mary McCoy
Hazel Muzzy
Dorothy Posson
Edith Replogle
Elizabeth Scribner
Dorothy Shallenberger
Florence Sherman
Sara Smeaton
Margaret Stidworthy
Mildred Taylor
Frances Westering

Miss Hanson winner of the contest, is well known in university circles, as are also all of the girls included in the list of twenty receiving high totals. Miss Hanson is a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority and of Golden Fleece.

Song Ready Soon

The "Cornhusker Rose" will be ready for sale within a few weeks. The design has been ready several days and Adamson has been waiting for the close of the contest before sending the design and picture to the publishers. He forwarded the design and picture of Miss Hanson to the printers yesterday.

NEBRASKA ALPHA CHI CHAPTER IS HONORED

Nebraska chapter of Alpha Chi Omega sorority was highly honored at the national convention of that organization held at Colorado Springs early this month. XI chapter was given recognition as having maintained the nearest to a home atmosphere in its chapter house and as having most closely cooperated with the national headquarters. For this effort, the local chapter was awarded a silver loving cup which it may keep as long as it continues to lead the other chapters in these respects.

K. HAWKINS TRACK CAPTAIN MARRIED

Captain-Elect of Cinder Path Artists Takes Miss Josephine Hopka for Bride

Kenneth Hawkins, a junior in the University of Nebraska, captain-elect of the 1923 Cornhusker track team, was married June 28 to Miss Josephine Hopka, of Blue Hill, Nebr., according to a report reaching Lincoln. Both of the young people attended the university last year and their marriage is a surprise to all of their university friends. Neither has completed college work.

Mrs. Hawkins is a member of Alpha Phi sorority. Her husband is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. The wedding was simple. The bride was attended by Miss Mildred Taylor and the groom by Rex Smith. Immediately after the ceremony the four motored to Omaha where a wedding dinner was served at the Brandeis tea rooms.

Mr. and Mrs. Hawkins will make their home in Omaha where Mr. Hawkins is in the employ of the Parsons Construction company.

Hawkins was a star performer on the 1922 Husker track team. He was a fast 440-yard man and member of the relay team. He was one of the eight Nebraska men who took part in the national collegiate meet at Chicago recently.

PROFESSORS BUSY PREPARING BOOKS

Several members of the faculty of the arts and science college are now busily engaged in the preparation of books. Included among them are Professors, F. W. Upson, of the chemistry department; R. J. Pool of the botany department; H. H. Waite of the bacteriology department; Roy E. Cochran, history; H. W. Caldwell, history; P. J. Frye, English; H. B. Alexander, philosophy; L. H. Grey, philosophy; H. Webster, political science; R. H. Wolcott, zoology; J. Warshaw, modern languages.

LEAVE ADDRESSES

Students of the first session of the summer school who will not attend the next six weeks and who have subscribed to the Summer Nebraskan should leave their addresses in order that the paper may be sent to them. Students who have not subscribed but wish to take the paper for the second six weeks may receive it either by mail or, if in attendance at summer school at the university post office, by paying a 25 cent subscription price.

STUDENTS BUSY IN WARS AT SNELLING

R. O. T. C. Camp Conducts Series of Battles—Huskers Believe in Advertising

Fort Snelling, Minn., July 10—A series of wars is in progress here, all for the benefit of the college students of the middle west who are here attending the R. O. T. C. camp.

Minnesota and Wisconsin do not know it, but they are at war and have been so, for several days. They were forced into it, so the students could learn tactics. However, the war is not very deadly so Minnesota and Wisconsin do not mind.

For the last few days the students have been leading platoons, companies and patrols about the reservation here, in the presence of the "enemy," putting out outposts and advance guards and getting into various kinds of trouble.

In each embarrassing situation, the students are called upon to give their orders to their commands and state exactly what action they take. One thing about the war meets unanimous approval is that it invariably ends in time for dinner.

Bayonet work, calisthenics, auto rifle and musketry instruction form the other chief items on the students schedule at present, in addition to athletics. In the afternoons the students are having individual tests in physical training.

Among the things they have to do are run 100 yards on a road in 14 seconds, and 50 yards in 7 seconds, scale a wall 6½ feet high, broad jump 12 feet and high jump 3½ feet. As all this has to be done in uniform and wearing heavy field shoes, it is not as easy as it might seem.

Nebraska students are well up in the standings to date in both the advanced and basic sections of the camp. Believing that it pays to advertise rather than hide their light under a bushel the Nebraskans have placed a huge sign over their barracks in Nebraska colors:

"We are the Nebraska Cornhuskers, the Valley's Best".

REGISTRATION STARTS TODAY

Students Enroll for Second Session Classes Either Tuesday or Wednesday in the Armory—New Record for Second Term Attendance is Expected—May Hit 1,500—More Than 200 Have Already Registered.

Registration for the second session of the 1922 summer school starts today. From 9 to 12 and from 2 to 5 o'clock Tuesday and Wednesday, students may file their enrollments for the second term classes.

Classes for the second session will start on Tuesday. Examinations in first session classes are being held this week and the final meetings of the classes will be held on Wednesday.

More than 200 students have already completed their second term registration through Prof. A. A. Reed's office in 108 Social Science Building. Pre-registration was made through the extension office there and Mr. Reed, who is director of the summer school, has been kept busy checking over the registration blanks. Unless otherwise notified, students may consider these registrations as official.

It is not necessary, however, to have registered through Professor Reed's office. Students who attended the first term, but who did not complete their registration through the extension office may file for their classes in the general registration which starts today.

Expect Record Attendance

A record enrollment for the second session of the summer school is practically assured. With some 200 already enrolled and a great majority of the first term students planning to continue work in the second session, the mark of a little more than 500 established for the second session of the 1921 summer school seems almost certain to fall.

Enrollment in the second session bids fair to reach 1,500. More than half of the students in attendance at the first session of the 1921 summer school continued their work in the second session. If this proportion is maintained about 1,100 will continue through the next six weeks. But indications now point to more than two-thirds of the present students staying over for the entire twelve weeks. And with a large number not in attendance the first six weeks planning to enroll for the next session, the mark of 1,500 does not seem impossible.
