Situation Bright

Such is the situation with regard to stadium as it now stands. For some g'udents. three years, plans have been going forward toward construction of the stadium. Action of the legislature last winter in withdrawing its appropriation for the gymnasium put a crimp in the plans for that structure but has stirred university friends to further efforts to secure a large and up to date athletic field. Prospects for the construction of the stadium have at no time been so bright a

$25 From Each Student

With $102,386,40 in subscriptions and $14,740.35 in actual cash now in the hands of the Memorial association, the plans for the raising of the remainder of the $400,000 needed are going for ward with whirlwind velocity. A student drive for funds is to be held in October and in November a state wide campaign will be held.

STATIORERY SHOP Do You Need Extra Courses?

The Extension Department was created to meet a long felt need-the need by the citizens of the state for correspondence work when it was not possible to attend the University of Nebraska.

Each year, since its creation, the department has grown. and with this growth has come a development that was not thought possible when first the experiment of extension work was tried here at Nebraska.

This department brings courses in every subject to those who have several hours each week to devote to work of this kind. While not offering the personal touch that residence work gives to university students, it attempts to make up for this by its thoroughness and wide range of practical problems that accompany assignments.

Are you interested in any of the subjects listed below, or in any of the hundreds of courses available?
