COUNCIL MEETS TO PREPARE FOR COMING ELECTION

Plan to have Polls in the Same Places As During the Campaign of Last Year.

DISCUSS CAMPUS DRIVES

Want Supervision and Control of the Numerous Sales Ideas for University Activities.

Supervision and control of campus "drives" of all kinds by the student council was discussed at a meeting of the council held Thursday evening at Faculty Hall.

The council authorized the president to appoint a committee to confer with the various deans to find some way to limit and supervise the campaigns for money which, it is contended, are continually before the student body.

A unanimous vote that the council offer its services to the chairman of the chadlum committees was taken. The matter of University convocations was taken up and discussions brought out that some way of making the convocations more popular is urgently needed.

A special election to fill the vacancies on the council will be announced in the near future. Several members of the council elected last spring did not return to University this fall.

Plans for the election next Tuesday provide that the ballots will remain at the same places as used in the election last spring. All effort to stamp out all electioneering on the campus is to be made.

Tradition Denies Record that Lincoln High Defeated Nebraska in Football

Tradition says that the University of Nebraska football team has never lost a game to Lincoln high school; history says that it has—and a championship game, too.

On November 10 of that year The State Journal carried a notice to the effect that the football game to decide the championship of Nebraska would be played that afternoon. It was played, but the University comment denied Lincoln's right to the championship inasmuch as the high school played the University second eleven and used some faculty players.

Nebraska Judging Team in National Collegiate Contest

The University of Nebraska will be represented next week in a national intercollegiate contest by a stock-judging team picked from Agricultural college seniors who are interested in animal husbandry. The team, coached by Professor William H. Savin, consists of James Adams, Floyd Warren, Lynn Grandy, Howard Haverland and Elton Lux.

Following the swine show the attention of the men will be directed toward the study of horses, cattle and sheep in preparation for the contest at the International Livestock show at Chicago which will be the great contest of the year.

Double Pre-dental College Registration

The new-student registration this fall in the pre-dental course (Prof. H. B. Latimer, special adviser) was practically double that of a year ago; in the four-year journalism course, for the certificate in journalism with a B. degree (Prof. M. M. Foff, adviser), it is double; and in the pre-medical course (Prof. F. D. Barker, adviser) it increased from 135 to 170.

"N" CLUB MEETING

Important meeting of the "N" club will be held at the Armory at 10 o'clock Sunday. Election of officers for the term will be held. Other important business will also be discussed.

felt elated and justly so."

The Call, a paper running at that time, carried an article headed "The Wind Bag," which gave the high school credit for beating the University fairly and squarely, but it hastened to state that Lincoln played the second eleven, consequently its claim to the state championship was null. Evidently the battle that followed the game must have waxed warm for The Call again carried an article under the head of "The Football Wrangle" The history of the battle was reviewed and all the events leading up to it.

Two men living in Lincoln played on the Lincoln team at that time. One of them tells of the hard feeling that arose, the enthusiasm of the high school students, and the eventual spreading of the quarrel to the press. Whatever may be said of the game, it is quite evident that Lincoln won, that the University lost, and that they have seen better days since.

Course in Medical Jurisprudence Instituted in Law College for Freshmen and Juniors.

(University Publicity Office)

A course of ten lectures on medical jurisprudence, announced by the college of law for 11 o'clock Fridays, beginning October 6, in Law 101, will be given by John Mills Mayhew, A. B., A. M. Final Warning for Freshman to Wear Emerald Headgear

Freshmen must secure their green caps immediately. The Iron Sphinx and the Innocents will request the upperclassmen to make sure, in some manner, that every first-year man wears his proper colors at all times. Definite plans for this purpose have not yet been evolved. Nothing drastic will be done at present because Mages's have run out of the green covers. Any freshman who has been unable to secure one should register his name with that firm at once so that an order may be wired to New York.

Mrs. J. E. Simpson and Mrs. Taylor of Omaha, Mrs. F. S. Thompson of Albion and Mrs. T. P. Livingston of Plattsmouth were visitors at the Kappa Kappa Gamma house during the week.

Mrs. A. T. Hubbell of Wood River spent a few days at the Kappa Kappa Gamma house with her daughter, Marjorie, who has been ill.

NINETY-FIVE NEW MEN ENROLL IN MEDIC COLLEGE

Take Less Than One Hundred Out of More Than Three Hundred Applicants.

FIFTY-FOUR ARE PLEDGED

Fraternities Announce the List of Pledges for the First Semester in Omaha College.

(University Publicity Office) Registration at the University of Nebraska college of medicine at Omaha is twenty-five per cent greater than this time a year ago. The total for this year will be about 325 including the few who will enter the second semester. The total last year was 275. Over 300 applications for freshman enrollment were received, according to Dean Irving S. Cutter, who says that he can clearly see now that the limit on freshmen is 96. The entering class includes students who did their preparatory work at Nebraska, Doane, Wesleyan, Hastings, Creighton, Colorado, Missouri, Columbia, Amherst, Dartmouth, Lehigh, Stanford, California, Minnesota, Wyoming and Chicago.

A new lecture room is being constructed adjacent to the west wing of the north laboratory building of the college of medicine to be used for lectures and classes in anatomy, pathology and bacteriology. An excellent one-sixth-mile running track, a baseball diamond, and three additional tennis courts will become available when the new athletic field, rapidly nearing completion, is finished. The gymnasium in the Nurses' home will be open to men medical students for basketball practice.

On the opening of the fall semester, the professional medical fraternities at the University medical college at Omaha pledged fifty-four men. The enrollment of ninety-five freshmen chosen from over three hundred applicants is indicative of the growth and growing prestige of the medical college.

Three fraternities changed their residences. Phi Chi moved to 3404 Dewel avenue and the Alpha Kappa Kappa fraternity is now occupying the house vacated by Phi Chi at 403 South 42nd avenue. An addition to the chapter house of Phi Rho Sigma is now under construction. Nu Sigma Nu bought a house and is well located at 201 South 33rd street.

The fraternity pledges are: Nu Sigma Nu—Townsend E. Dent, Rollin Williams, Esley Kirk, Clarence I. Bain, R. A. Jefferson, Paul Pace, Lad Hoover, Orville Henry, Henry Bonesteel and John Milhouse. Alpha Kappa Kappa—R. Matson, Lewis, Verno Lacey, L. Dunbar, Lewis, Bernard McCanley.

Phi Beta Pi—L. H. Dunham, C. W. Oaks, Miller, Tracy, Kunkle, Walters, and H. C. Standers.

Phi Chi—F. W. Kreuger, Chester Dixon, C. Carol Brown, Denver D. Ross, Lewis A. Koch, William Novak, Roy H. Brown, Carl R. Wagner, Walter R. Wagner, Walter W. Herriman, L. H. Lucic, Gordon H. Ira, Charles Schramek, Lumir F. Novak, Frederick Orverdahl, Walter Breck enridge and George Eychner.

FRESHMAN CAPS

Members of the freshman class who were unable to secure caps from the Magee Clothing company should register their names with that firm at once, so that an additional order may be wired to New York.

Some of the yearlings were unable to secure caps, inasmuch as there were more first-year men registered this year than ever before. As soon as the new consignment has arrived and been distributed, the Iron Sphinx and the Innocents will give the order to the upperclassmen to see that every yearling sports a verdant top piece. Several plans have been discussed but none definitely decided upon as yet.

Want Material for the Directory Handed to Editor

Lists of the members of all organizations should be handed in for the University Directory by Monday, according to a request made by Knox Burnett, editor of the book this year. All students who have changed their addresses since they filled out the blanks last Monday should report this fact at the office of the Directory in the Y. M. C. A. rooms in the Temple building.

The staff hopes to have the Directory out by October 15, but all desired information must be available immediately if it is to be out by that date. The Directory will be essentially the same as last year's—a list of the students, the faculty and organizations, and a classification of the students by towns.

HEAR DR. SCUDDER AT UNI WOMEN'S TEA

Urges Women to Go to India and Take Up Missionary Work and Educational Advancement.

"Four million women in India are looking to us for their education," declared Dr. Ida Scudder in her talk at the tea given for her by Mrs. Avery Saturday afternoon at Elton Smith hall. Dr. Scudder was introduced to the girls by Mrs. Avery. Guests from Cotner and Wesleyan as well as a number of Lincoln women were included in the audience.

Dr. Scudder began her lecture by pointing out on a map the countries whose women she represents. She had pamphlets with her for those girls who were directly interested in missionary work. "When I see you girls here with your lives before you, and I think that the best part of my life is behind me, I envy you," said Dr. Scudder. "There is a character in the Old Testament who has always seemed very pathetic to me. Saul was a beautiful young man with every opportunity, but he lost his chance. On the other hand, there is Paul, a little wizened man, and he made his life beautiful. What a difference in the two! Girls, don't lose your chance," she appealed.

Dr. Scudder told the story of her call to missionary fields, where her father and grandfather had spent their lives before her. "As a girl, I self loomed up before me greater than anything," she said. "It took a great deal to wake me." It was only when she saw three Indian girls die because she was unable to help them, that she knew she must be a missionary.

Dr. Scudder told a little of the need of the colleges for which she is soliciting funds. "In Nanking girls are studying in a building built before Columbus discovered America," she said. "Yet there are more girls in India studying medicine than in Cornell, where I was graduated."

"There are five hundred thousand child-widows in India," stated Dr. Scudder in telling of the condition of young girls. "If you girls were in India today, the majority of you would be mothers or widows. I am bringing the breaking hearts of these little women to you," she finished. "The responsibility lies with you."

"Bizad" Club to Install Chapter

The Girls' Commercial club will meet Wednesday, October 3, in Social Science hall, room 365 at 5 o'clock in order to consider installing a local chapter of Gamma Epsilon Pi, the national honorary fraternity of business women. Any University woman is eligible to membership in the club if she is taking a commercial course in Teachers' college or is in the college of business administration.

The purpose of the club is to build up friendship, to foster a democratic spirit among the students, to promote interest in the business college, and to encourage and develop efficiency in commercial lines.

There will be a good program and speakers at the Wednesday meeting and during the winter some of the most prominent business men and women of Lincoln will address the club.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Palmer of Ulysses spent Thursday at the Phi Mu house with their daughter Lucile. Margaret Carmen of Tecumseh is spending the week-end at the Phi Mu house.

By order of the student council, the time limit for filing for candidates for senior and junior presidencies has been extended until noon tomorrow.

Have Big Time at First Party

Games took up the first part of the evening at the all-University party held last night in the Armory. A corps of twenty students kept twice that many groups busy playing games. A "pep" session took up a few minutes of the evening when Nebraska yells and songs were practiced. A vaudeville act followed, after which the dancing started.

Those students who did not care to dance were kept busy for the rest of the evening at the Temple building by the entertainment committee. Refreshment stands were a part of the setting at both the Temple and the Armory, some fifty gallons of punch being consumed. The Keith Tyler Troubadors furnished music for the evening.

Ethel Whalen of Omaha spent the week end at the Gamma Phi Beta house.

Engineer Graduates in Construction Work

Four graduates of the college of engineering figured prominently in construction projects at Hot Springs, S. D., last summer. A. A. Dobson, '11, of Lincoln, had a contract for a large amount of paving and a concrete retaining wall along the banks of Fall river. Gail Robinson, '15, was superintendent in charge of construction. John A. Bruce, '05, a consulting engineer of Omaha, was engineer in charge of the project. Mr. Kiri was the local representative of the engineering company. Professor V. I. Hollister of the Electrical Engineering department, had charge of reconstructing the dam and flumes washed out by the flood of August 3, for the water, light and power company.
