THE ELECTIONS

We rejoice that the day of narrow factional politics at the University is nearly over. Word comes to us that, in response to a widespread and earnest demand on the part of thinking students and alumni, the innocents and presidents of all fraternities, are developing and inculcating a spirit, the result of which, it is hoped, will be definitely to heal the split that has existed the past few years in fraternity circles.

Loyal Huskers will do well to consider seriously the significance of this new move. Our University is an institution of higher learning. Its purpose is to implant in the students sent here, not only academic knowledge, but also high ideals.

In place of the old regime, every loyal, serious-minded student of Nebraska, will welcome the new broad, inspiring, "Nebraska first" spirit which the fraternities and class honorary societies are pledged to advance.

As for the election Tuesday, every student should acquaint himself with the qualifications of the candidates, and if possible, meet them personally. The Daily Nebraskan will print Tuesday sketches and pictures of all the candidates, which should help the students to associate names and faces.

SHOW YOUR INTEREST How much joy a little bit of kindness will bring to one who is down in spirits! There is more than one homesick student on the campus these days who appreciates every bit of friendship shown to him.

Now that two weeks have elapsed since classes started, the old student feels that everything has settled down to routine order, and because he has no time to get lonesome, he may forget that there are others who are unable to drown their loneliness in their work. It takes more than a week or two for a newcomer to grow into new surroundings and establish himself among strange people. The vague talk that he hears about traditions, customs and societies on the campus adds to his bewilderment and makes him feel more lost than ever.

The convocations for first year students are of inestimable value because they pierce the strangeness that envelops the freshman, and put him on the right track to become a full-fledged, well-informed Nebraskan.

Scientific Boxing Classes Established

(University Publicity Office) A class in boxing Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings has been arranged by Dean F. T. Dawson and Dr. R. G. Clapp—a feature of the general plan to get every student to take regular, vigorous exercise. This work is intended to help meet the need of those students who cannot get out for football or track.

AGERSBERG'S IS NEW ZOOLOGY PROFESSOR

Takes Place of Dr. Powers Who Has Gone to the University of Tennessee. H. P. K. Agersborg is one of the new professors in the department of zoology this year. He comes to Nebraska to take the place of Dr. E. B. Powers, who has gone to the University of Tennessee Medical college at Memphis.

Doctor Agersborg was born in Norway, and is about forty-two years old. He came to this country when he was twenty-five and finished his preparation for university by attending evening schools in Brooklyn and Seattle. In 1912, he entered the University of Washington, being graduated in 1916. The next year Professor Agersborg took graduate work at the Royal Frederiks University at Christiania, Norway, following that with graduate study at Columbia University in New York in 1918-20.

He was with the University of Wyoming in 1920-21, as assistant professor in the department of zoology. Last year he finished his graduate work in Illinois, receiving his doctor's degree there. Doctor Agersborg has spent several summers in the Puget Sound laboratory in Washington state, and in the Marine laboratory at Woods Hole, Mass. Much of his work has been in cytology.
