SCHULTE SAYS FEWER MEN OUT THAN USUAL

Track Coach Requests More Men to go Out for Cross Country Squad

Coach Schulte makes the announcement that he can put in two hours a day from now on with the track men. "Every man in school who expects to be out in the spring should come out now either for track or cross-country. I want to meet them all personally. These men are not only urged but requested to be out. The number of men out for track is way below par.

"We want, if possible, to repeat our performance of the last two years in this coming season's Missouri Valley meet, and the only way we can do that is to have the men. We are now holding the Missouri Valley cup with the name of 'Nebraska' on it twice, and this is the first time it has ever been on a Missouri Valley cup at all. One more time, and we shall have it permanently.

"Our only hope of winning it against the wonderful team of stars that Kansas has, and the great team Missouri is developing, is to build up an all around team, not a team of stars. We'll have to have very good men in every event in order to effect the brilliancy in many events that Kansas and Missouri will show. The way to do this is to get out a great many men and keep them out regularly. I should like to get all the men lined up in their events, and then get the men working the same events, working together."

All men who have intentions of coming out for track should either see Coach Schulte or "Mud" Gardner. Everybody out, and watch Nebraska win.

Broken Legs Fail To Keep Alumnus Away From Game

With both legs in a plaster cast, Ralph o'Byly of Fairport drove 160 miles to see the Aggie-K. U. game. His legs were held up by a blanket, and he operated the foot brakes of his Ford car with his hands.

It was while he was playing polo on a cowboy polo team in Fairport, that his horse fell on him and broke both his legs; but Mr. o'Byly, who was a football man himself in 1905, could not stay away from the Aggie classic for such a small matter as that.

He sat on the side lines with his feet out straight in front of him and cheered as enthusiastically as any freshman for the Aggie team.

When he started home at 6:30 that evening, with a sandwich and a couple of cigars for company, he declared that the game had been worth the trip.—Kansas State Collegian.

Students Aid in Campaign Against Anti Vivesection

Students of the University of California will aid in the state-wide campaign to defeat the anti-vivesection measure, amendment No. 28, by an extensive house to house canvass of Berkeley and Oakland tomorrow. Canvassers will visit every house in these cities, distribute illustrative material and endeavor to impress upon all voters the necessity of voting against this measure.

A number of captains have been appointed, each to have charge of twenty canvassers. Organization of workers in the Pre-Medical, Medical, and Agricultural colleges, and those taking the biological sciences, has been effected under the leadership of Dudley Bennett, '21.

All students interested in this issue, who have not as yet been notified by their captains as to the district they are to canvass, will report before 6 p. m., today at room 109 Physiology building. At that time they will be given literature and necessary information regarding the work to be done, assigned a locality to canvass and a captain under whom to work.

In addition to the above work, delegates from this University have been sent to Stanford, the University of Southern California, and the Southern Branch to promote the sentiment against this measure. Practically 3,000 letters have been sent to the southern part of the state.—The Daily Californian.

Penn State To Meet Pacific Coast Uni In Gridiron Battle

Penn State has accepted the invitation extended by the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate Conference to represent the East in the intersectional football game at Pasadena, California, on January first.

The team which will confront Penn State at that time will be selected at a later date by the Pacific Coast Conference. Doctor U. G. Dubach, president of the Coast Conference, has received the approval of this trip from President John M. Thomas, the Penn State Faculty and the Advisory Athletic Committees.

This is the second consecutive year that the Penn State Athletic Association has received an invitation to terminate activities for the season in California. Last year it was unable to accept the invitation because of the final game with Washington University in December.

This invitation comes as a tribute to the past achievements of Penn State football machines. The enviable record which has been set up during three consecutive years is receiving recognition through this opportunity to represent the East in Collegiate football.

Despite the importance of this invitation Coach Bezek and the members of the varsity squad are not allowing it to overshadow the more important work of whipping into shape an aggregation which will successfully complete against the hard teams already appearing on the schedule.

No plans have been announced from the Athletic Association regarding this western trip. It is probable that some formal announcement will be made at the mass meeting to be held prior to the departure of the team to the Navy game.

The proceeds which the Athletic Association will receive from this trip are to be turned over to the Endowment Fund Campaign and is to come as a subscription from the members who will partake in this game.—Penn State Collegian.

Speeches of Colorado Team Have Place In Debate Publication

Two of the debates given by the Aggies against Michigan on their tour last year, have been published in the University Debating Annual, a copy of which was recently received by Professor Westfall, debating coach.

This book, which contains transcripts of eight of the leading intercollegiate debates with briefs and bibliographies for each, is put out annually by Edith M. Phelps and is used as a handbook for debaters. Other colleges represented in the latest edition are Harvard, Yale, Texas University, Washington University, Michigan University, George Washington University, Swarthmore, Penn State, Vassar, and Washington and Lee.—Rocky Mountain Collegian.

High School Editors Will Meet in Madison

About 400 high school editors, representing student publications in schools in 20 states, and a large number of their teacher advisers, will attend the third annual conference of the Central Interscholastic Press Association, which will be held at the University of Wisconsin, December 1 and 2, according to Harold E. McClelland, Rice Lake, junior in the Wisconsin Course in Journalism, student director of the association.

The school editors' association was organized two years ago, under the auspices of the Wisconsin Course in Journalism, in order to raise the standard of newspaper and magazine work in high schools, and to furnish an opportunity for comparing work and changing ideas.

A contest of student papers of various kinds will be held in connection with the convention. Entries will be divided into classes based upon enrollments. Awards will be made for best newspaper and magazine in each class, and cartoons and magazine contests will also be held.

Talks by prominent journalists, and round table discussions on the problems of high school publications are being planned for the convention, by Jerome O. Bjerke, Stoughton, sophomore in the Course of Journalism, who is in charge of the program.

Faculty and student directors of the association include Prof. E. M. Johnson, and H. E. Birdsong, of the Journalism department, and Fred L. Kildow, Whitewater, junior in the Course.—University of Wisconsin

Girls' Varsity Octette Organized by Wheatley

The Girls' Varsity Octette was organized Monday evening under the direction of Prof. Walter Wheatley at the Wheatley Studio. The girls of the University have for some time felt that the men's quartet did not adequately fill this field of University activity.

Amy Martin was the promoter of the organization and Dean Amanda Heppner has aided the departure by her encouragement.

The members of the octette are Amy Martin, Jean Holtz, Eula Wheeler, Margaret Stidworthy, Gladys Roder, Dorothea Thomas, Marjorie Cooper and Dorothy Sprague. At Monday's meeting Dorothy Sprague was elected general manager and Marjorie Cooper, treasurer. Plans are not yet perfected for the season's activities. The octette will be available for entertainment at University parties, will furnish music at the football games, and will in general attempt to fulfill the demands of the school.
