

ELECTION HOLDS MUCH INTEREST FOR STUDENTS

Two New Regents Will Be Elected on Today's Ballot—Many Students Vote

LINCOLN WITHOUT REGENT

Students Will Vote at Regular Precinct Booths—Reports Will Be Printed in Nebraskan

Election of two University regents holds first interest for students and faculty members in the state elections being held today. Many students are taking the opportunity to cast their votes by mail.

In the fourth district, which comprises the counties just south and west of Lincoln, Hon. Harry D. Landis of Seward is running for re-election to the Board of Regents. Mr. Landis is now president of the Board and has completed one full term. He is opposed by Frank E. Edgerton of Aurora.

Frank S. Perkins of Fremont is contesting with William Warner for the other position on the Board of Regents. Warner comes from Dakota City. Perkins is a graduate of the University as are both Landis and Edgerton in the fourth district. The contest in the third district is to fill the place left vacant by the expiration of the term of Hon. P. L. Hall of Lincoln who was not a candidate for re-election.

Lincoln Unrepresented.

With the beginning of the term of the new regents, Lincoln will be left without representation on the Board for the first time in many years. This condition is brought about by the new law which provides that regents shall be elected by congressional districts instead of at large as formerly. While Omaha has two regents at present, one of her representatives will be replaced by a man from the first district (including Lincoln) at the next state election.

Reports of the results of the election for regents will be kept at the Daily Nebraskan office as they are tabulated during the next day or two. Reports of the election of senator and governor will be tabulated first by the election boards so that there may be some delay in finding out the result of the two contests.

Students Vote Today.

Today is the last opportunity for students who wish to cast their votes by mail to send in their ballots. Mr. Max Westermann, assistant secretary of the Board of Regents and located in room 102 of Administration building will witness the marking of ballots for those students who wish to vote today. The law requires that the ballots, which have been received from the county clerk of the home county should be marked in the presence of a notary public and dispatched to the clerk on or before election day.

Student voters living in Lincoln will vote at the regular precinct booths determined by the city clerk.

An interesting feature of the election for students will be the result of the contests where former Nebraska students are running for office. Graduates from many of the classes including those from the class graduated last spring are contesting not only for county offices but for the higher state offices. The legislative candidates from many of the districts are University graduates.

Schramm Addresses Denver Meeting of Geology Association

Prof. E. F. Schramm of the department of geology, has recently returned from Denver where he attended a meeting of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists. Prof. Schramm was one of the speakers at the banquet held Friday at the Albany hotel, and appeared also on the regular program at the Friday morning session. There were a considerable number of graduates from the University of Nebraska, at this meeting, among them being C. N. Gould, formerly state geologist of Oklahoma; C. A. Fischer, and Leon Pepperburg, formerly of the United States Geological Survey. Mr. Pepperburg has recently been elected president of the Southwestern Division of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists. Other graduates of the Department of Geology present at this meeting were as follows:

L. O. Whitman, Alfred Beck, Glen Rugby, J. N. Robinson, E. E. Froyd, R. E. Ellis, state geologist of New Mexico; Jack Egan, J. L. Warner and Mike Finney. These men were representing some of the largest oil companies in America.

Student Directories May Be Purchased at Booths Next Monday

Student Directories will be on sale at booths on the campus next Monday. They are being put out by the Y. M. C. A. and will contain an alphabetical list of names and addresses of all students in the University. The students will also be listed according to organizations and the towns and states from whence they come. It also gives the campus telephone numbers, social, campus and honorary organizations.

Knox Burnett is the editor and Jay Hepner, the business manager of the 1922-23 directory.

PLEDGES ANNOUNCED TO THETA SIGMA PHI

Woman's National Honorary Journalistic Fraternity Pledges Twelve

Theta Sigma Phi announces the pledging of the following girls: Stella Andrews, Eleanor Dunlap, Zella Gillmore, Bonnie Hess, Helen Kummer, Leata Markwell, Ruth Miller, Edith Olds, Emily Ross, Mrs. Henry Schulte, Mary Ure, Marjorie Wyman.

Theta Sigma Phi is the national and honorary professional journalistic fraternity for women of which only junior and senior girls can be members. Initiation followed by a banquet at the Lincolnshire will take place November 14.

DR. EARHART LEAVES FOR NEW YORK CITY

Will Make Report to Board of Trustees of Columbia University

Dr. Lida Earhart of the Teachers' College faculty will leave today for New York City, where she will make a report before the Board of Trustees of the Teachers' College of Columbia University on Thursday, November 9. The subject of Dr. Earhart's report, "Changing from a System of Scholarships and Fellowships to Loans to Students," is one upon which she has made a very thorough study.

Under the system which Dr. Earhart proposes, the loans are to be repaid with interest, so that the fund would be constantly increasing. A questionnaire was sent out to former students of Teachers' College, who have been the recipients of scholarships, fellowships, or loans, calling for expressions of their opinions. Several hundred replies have been received from different parts of the world. It was from these replies that the report was completed. Dr. Earhart has the distinction of being one of the two alumni members of the Board, who were elected in 1920 by the alumni of the Teachers' College. It is customary for each alumni trustee to make a report before the expiration of his two-year term of office.

Dr. Earhart was also asked to speak before an organization of mothers and teachers at Sewickley, Pennsylvania, but owing to the fact that Armistice Day was the only day upon which it would be possible for her to be there, the matter could not be arranged.

Hockey Season Opens for Girls With Fifty Out

The girls hockey season opened last night, Jessie Hiatt, '23, in sport leader. About fifty girls were out, many of whom were new girls in the game. Practice will be at 4 o'clock Monday, Wednesday and Friday and 10 o'clock Tuesday and Thursday. Mrs. Morgan, the new coach, will be on the job at the 4 o'clock practice.

There is a new poster on the W. A. A. bulletin board! The vivacious face of a young miss, looks out from behind two crossed hockey sticks. Below is the slogan, "Let's Go!" Such ideal weather, just new clubs, and such an invitation should surely invite all live girls to play on the field east of Social Science Hall.

REGIMENTAL PARADE

Regimental parade will be held today at 5 p. m. All cadets are directed to report in uniform on the drill field with rifles not later than 5 p. m. The regiment will be formed, companies in column of platoons, facing south.

Eastern Jaunt of Football Team Full of Interest for Nebraskans

Returning from the East today came the beaten but fighting Cornhusker team, after their disastrous invasion of Syracuse, when they came in at the end of the game with the small end of the score, but not so far behind that the total did not show something of the way the Huskers fought.

The team was met at the station by hundreds of loyal Cornhuskers, and the University band, which helped in a fashion to spur them on to their next contest. While Saturday's conflict was a desperate one, the Huskers came out of it almost intact. Not one of the players has any serious injuries, and except for the rixors of the long trip, the team is in good condition.

There aren't any alibis for the defeat the Cornhuskers met. The Orange team was playing better football against the disorganized Huskers, who were in a slump out of which they could not seem to pull. Although fighting desperately throughout the entire conflict, Nebraska's speedy back field, couldn't tear up the Orange line, as they had those other teams they have met so far this season.

University Men Are Urged to Write Now Inviting Dads Here

All University men should write to their fathers immediately, the committee in charge announces, extending an invitation for "Dad's Day" to be held Saturday, November 18, in connection with the Kansas Aggie game.

The exact program will be announced in the Nebraskan Thursday.

The reserved section for men accompanied by their dads will be in the student section, and the older men will be admitted for $1.50 in place of the regular $2.00 charge.

A circular letter has been sent to all men's organizations urging each member to write at once to his father.

A banquet will be held following the game, according to the present plans, and all men who can bring their father's are expected to do so. Many fraternities intend to precede the game with a luncheon for the "dads."

Three hundred loyal Cornhuskers met at the Temple yesterday morning and paraded to the station to meet the football team when it arrived from Syracuse. The parade went south from the Temple to Q street and west on Q street to the station.

Just as the train was pulling in, the band arrived on the scene and struck up "Cheer, Cheer, the Gang's All Here" the crowd joining in the chorus. As the members of the team left the train, the cheers were deafening and spirit ran high. After meeting the team the band led the parade down O street and back to the campus where it disbanded in front of the Armory.

Geology Department Receives Valuable Collection of Gems

The Department of Geology of the University has just received a large and varied assortment of cut semi-precious gem stones from L. W. Stillwell of Deadwood, S. D. Prof. Barbour and Schramm will make a selection of these gem stones for the State Museum. These gems will be on exhibit in the Museum in a few days. A fine exchange collection of Devonian fossils has also recently been received from Cincinnati University.

Students Will Not Be Asked to Give To Near East Relief

A Near East Relief campaign will not be conducted on the University campus this week during the campaign in the city. Later in the year the University will be given an opportunity to subscribe to the relief as a unit. Students may contribute to the fund this week in the city if they desire to do so.

University professors who are members of the general committee for the Near East Relief movement in Lincoln are Chancellor Samuel Avery, Dr. Laura E. Pfeiffer, Prof. E. L. Himmann, Prof. Lawrence Fessler and Prof. J. E. Le Rossignol. Wesleyan, Cotner and Union colleges, and the Business Colleges in Lincoln, are campaigning among their students for the Relief fund, attempting to raise $1.00 a student.

Pinched in the last quarter of the game, with the option of holding the Syracuse eleven, who had twenty-two yards to go, or of the losing the game, the Cornhuskers could not hold the heavier Orange team, which drove the necessary distance for the winning counter.

Which all goes to prove the truth of some old time sayings about 'the bigger they are, Nebraska was over-confident, everyone admits that, Syracuse expected to be defeated, but she was resolved to fight to the last ditch for it. She started with that idea, and she won.

The team arrived Monday after nearly five days in their special Pullman, during which they traveled something like 3,000 miles to and from New York.

CORNGOBS OFFER PRIZE FOR STUNT

Five Dollars Offered for Best "Skit" or Stunt to be Staged at Kansas

The "Corncoobs," Nebraska's "pep" organization, has offered a prize of five dollars for the best suggestion for a stunt to be staged at the Kansas-Nebraska game, Saturday, Nov. 11. Ideas must be submitted to the Nebraska office not later than 6 o'clock Tuesday night.

Twenty-four of the Cobs have already definitely pledged themselves to go with the rooters' special to Lawrence to furnish inspiration and noise for our boys to go over the line. At the meeting tonight more of the members are expected to add their names to the list.

At each game played on the home field, the Corncoobs, who take their name from the name given to the students of Nebraska, take part in a stunt of some sort to signify the confidence they have in their team. And the "pep" of the Cobs is only exceeded, they say, by that which they inspire in the hearts of the other loyal Huskers there witnessing the skits.

But Nebraska's stunt at Kansas, they say, must far surpass any given in the past. And they urge students to outdo themselves, to think out original stunts.

"If you can't go to Kansas," said an enthusiastic Cob, "at least do your part to show the boys that you are behind them through thick and thin."

NEW OPERATOR FOR RADIO PLANT HERE

Mr. Frank J. Moles Arrives From Schenectady, New York, Thursday Afternoon

Mr. Frank J. Moles, the new operator for the campus radio station, arrived in Lincoln Thursday afternoon. His home is in Schenectady, N. Y., and his B. Sc. in E. E. comes from Union College in Schenectady, class of 1922. He was operator at broadcasting station WRL at the college in 1921 and 1922. He has no classes here at present.

Bulletins from the Kansas game at Lawrence this coming Saturday will probably be posted on some convenient bulletin board on the campus. Mr. Moles is not sure of this, however, since he knows nothing concerning the station there. The set in the E. E. building here has an average sending range of about 300 miles. The receiving radius is about 1,000 miles. Input power is 100 watts, Mr. Moles said.

Weather comments from the weather bureau in the Physical Laboratories will be continued daily, but the market reports will probably be cut out because of duplication, Mr. Moles said.

Regular musical programs are to be arranged for once a week. No definite days or hours have yet been set, since the operator has not had time to see the artists concerned. Educational features will also be included in the programs.

Messrs. Egan and Bentz reached Lincoln yesterday. They drove through from the oil fields of Montana and are on their way to the oil regions of Oklahoma.

A meeting for all ex-servicemen will be held at the American Legion club rooms at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

EX-CHANCELLOR WILL ADDRESS CONVOCATION

Will Visit Lincoln Wednesday and Thursday of This Week

EXTENSIVELY ENTERTAINED

Left Nebraska in 1899—Now Living in London, England

Ex-Chancellor George McLean, who will be in Lincoln Wednesday and Thursday of this week, will address convocation Thursday morning at 11 o'clock at the Temple theatre. Dr. McLean was Chancellor from 1895 to 1899 and is the only living ex-Chancellor. Faculty members who served under him will be seated on the stage. The University orchestra will play while the theatre is filling, and will give a number before and after the speech.

A full schedule has been arranged for the entertainment of Dr. McLean. On arriving at 10:45 Wednesday morning, he will be taken to the home of Judge and Mrs. H. H. Wilson. G. W. Langworthy Taylor, who was a professor under Dr. McLean, will entertain him at a luncheon at the Lincolnshire at 12:30. Dean Burnett will drive him about the town and show him the Agricultural College campus. In the evening he will dine with a few friends at the home of Judge and Mrs. Wilson. Chancellor and Mrs. Avery will give a reception for him at Ellen Smith hall at 8:30. Members of the faculty and citizens who know McLean have been invited through the press. No special invitations for the reception have been issued.

Thursday morning Dr. McLean will breakfast with Mrs. A. S. Raymond. He will address convocation at 11 o'clock. A luncheon will be given for him by Mr. Hardy at 1 o'clock, and Dr. Fling will entertain him at tea at 4:30. The Men's Faculty club will give a dinner for him at 6:30 at the Grand hotel. Dr. McLean leaves at midnight Thursday.

Dean L. A. Sherman, acting for Chancellor Avery, has been chairman of a committee on arrangements consisting of Mrs. H. H. Wilson and Professor E. H. Barbour. On leaving Nebraska in 1899 Dr. McLean was called to Iowa. He has also been a professor of English literature in Minnesota where he is visiting for a short time before coming to Lincoln. Dr. McLean now lives in London.

National Literary Fraternity Elects Four New Members

Chi Delta Phi, national literary fraternity for women, held its monthly meeting at the home of Adelaide Elam, alumna member. Stories, sketches and a play, all work of the members, were read.

Four new members were elected. They are Margaret Cunnell, Lois Hartman, Mildred Burcham and Gertrude Sanford. The work submitted by them was of exceptional quality and they have in other instances distinguished themselves in literary production.

Membership to Chi Delta Phi is purely competitive. Manuscripts are submitted and their merits weighed. The fraternity seeks to reward and encourage literary efforts.

Dr. Weaver Asked to Prepare Paper for Botanical Society

Dr. J. E. Weaver of the department of botany has been asked to prepare a paper for the invitation program of the Botanical Society of America. It will be presented at the annual meeting, which will be held during the Christmas holidays in Boston. Dr. Weaver will probably present a paper dealing with his investigation of the roots of plants.

Freshman Girls Meet Juniors in Soccer Tournay

The freshman and junior girls will meet in the finals of the interclass soccer tournament Wednesday at 4 o'clock on the girls' soccer field. Through an error an earlier story stated that the freshmen and sophomores won in the preliminaries. However, the juniors won from the seniors, 2-0.

The freshmen have a strong team. They hold high hopes of vanquishing the juniors, who, as sophomores, won the tournament last year.

The class winning the tourney has her numerals engraved upon the silver cup.

Omaha Club Plans Dinner at Grand on Thursday Night

An Omaha club dinner will be given at the Grand hotel, at 6 o'clock Thursday evening, November 9. A very interesting program has been planned by the entertainment committee. The organization is to promote and further friendship among Omaha students. Every one is urged to attend these monthly dinners and meet old friends and acquaintances. Tickets may be purchased at the desk of the Grand hotel or from the following members: Crawford Folmer, Judson Hughes, Mildred Othmer, Arvilla Johnson, Frank Fry or Gladys Mickle.

CORNHUSKER WILL NOT HAVE BEAUTY CONTEST

Pan-Hellenic Board Fails to Endorse Contest for 1923 Year Book

The Pan-Hellenic Board failed to endorse a Girls' Beauty Contest for the 1923 Cornhusker at its regular meeting last Friday. At the request of the management of the annual the board considered the advisability of repeating last year's contest. No formal action was taken, but they stated that they did not look upon the matter favorably.

Comment both pro and con arose immediately after the contest last year causing the board to issue a statement a short time ago that such contests were of little value and importance and were not representative of what Nebraska stood for, nor did they promote the best of spirit among the student body.

A contest to decide who is the most popular and best all-around man in school would prove more satisfactory, according to some of the members of the board. Miss Louise Pound said that such a contest was held at the University once and proved to be very popular. She thought that another one would be quite an innovation and would receive the support of everyone.

FRESHMEN ENGINEERS HEAR OF SIGMA TAU

Prof. Sjogren Outlines History, Purposes, Ideals and Requirements of Honorary Society

Sigma Tau, national honorary engineering fraternity, was discussed in public for the first time in history, at a convocation of freshman engineers in M. E. 206, Monday at 5. C. A. Sjogren, of the Department of Mechanical Engineering, outlined the history of the fraternity, its purposes and ideals, and the requirements for membership.

"In general, there are three types of fraternities: social fraternities, which pick men for their social standing; professional fraternities, which pick men for their position—men who can lend some support to the profession or a cause; and honorary fraternities. Sigma Tau is primarily an honorary fraternity. One of the organization's oldest traditions has been to keep under cover—to avoid public mention," Mr. Sjogren began.

"Scholarship, practicability and sociability, are mentioned in the constitution as among the ideals of the fraternity. Juniors and seniors, by college record, are eligible. Selection of new members is based upon the three requirements of a successful engineer."

"Scholarship, although alone it does not make an engineer, is the most essential of the three. A man's average grade for his first two years of college must place him in the upper third of this semester's eligibles per third of his class. The minimum average grade of this semester's eligibles was 80 per cent.

"Practicability implies good judgment, keen insight. A man must be adapted to the work. The original basis for deciding this requirement was successful, actual work on an engineering project, but the number of men in the college has so increased that this question is now left to the faculty.

"Sociability does not call for a 'social flower.' The two types of sociability are, in general, individual and collective. A man may interest you and no one else. If so, he falls into the first class. The second class is the most desirable. If a man makes a good impression in a group is a good mixer, he falls into the second class.

"A man can never be a successful engineer unless he is first a good citizen, and this means a good mixer. What is University citizenship? University spirit. What is University citizenship?"

PLANS COMPLETE FOR SPECIAL TO KANSAS FRIDAY

Many Organizations Make Reservations for Trip to Jayhawk-erdom Friday Night

COMMUTERS TO BE BARRED

Students Will Take Part in Dedication of New Kansas Stadium Saturday

When the Kansas special train leaves for Jayhawk-erdom Friday night at 11:30, the band, the University quartette, the Mortarboards, the Corncoob "pep" organization, the freshman football squad and several hundred Cornhusker students will be aboard. The train will be "combed" closely to prevent any people without tickets from staying on the special.

Seeing the lights to nothing has been barred and all over-enthusiastic followers of the fighting Cornhuskers who have neglected to buy their tickets at the Union Pacific office in the Chamber of Commerce building or at the station on Friday evening, must stay behind and listen in on the game at the University radio station or hear the telegraph reports.

No Exact Count. An exact count of the number planning to make the trip will be easier after the meetings tonight of the fraternity and sorority groups. Each group will check up on the number planning to go on the special and report tonight. Tickets to the game in the Nebraska section are on sale at Tucker Shean's, 1123 O street.

With only three days left before the annual crusade of pigskin followers of the Huskers, indications point to the peppiest crowd of many years making the journey south. After the train arrives at Lawrence at 7:30 Saturday morning, plans will be announced to have all Nebraska rooters at the station to meet the Scarlet and Cream team, which arrives after the student body. Following the reception at the station, the students are invited to take part in the dedication of the new Kansas stadium preceding the game.

Homecoming parties will occupy the remaining time until the special leaves at 11:30 for the return trip to Lincoln.

Armistice Day Parade.

While some of the students are visiting their rivals at the Kansas school, those in Lincoln will have a chance to witness the dedication of Nebraska's new state capitol and the Armistice Day parade through the streets. No University section will be in the parade as in former years on account of the absence of the chancellor and the students. The University chorus will have a part in the dedication exercises at the capitol grounds. University ex-servicemen have been asked to march with their respective organizations in the parade. Legion men from all over the state are planning to come to Lincoln on Saturday. Many alumni are included in the representations which are expected.

Remodelling Work Is Completed on Teachers' College

The remodelling of the east end of the third floor of Teachers' College is practically completed. The Education classes, which had heretofore met in other buildings, are now able to assemble in their regular classrooms.

The improvements include two large recitation rooms and provide offices for Dean Sealock, Dr. Fordyce, and Prof. Rosenlof.

Even though these improvements are a great help in accommodating the large enrollment in Teachers' College for the present, they will not begin to meet the demands of the immediate future.

University Chorus Will Take Part In Cornerstone Laying

The University Chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Carrie B. Raymond have been asked by Governor McKelvie to sing at the laying of the cornerstone of the new capitol Armistice Day. The chorus will sing "The Heavens Are Telling," from the "Creation."

Y. M. C. A. MEETING. A special business meeting of the Y. M. C. A. will be held tonight in the Temple building at 7 o'clock. Business of vital importance to the Association will be taken up and every member is asked to be present.
