

TRADITIONAL CORNHUSKER BANQUET WILL BE FRIDAY NIGHT

ARMORY WILL BE SCENE OF ANNUAL GIRLS' COSTUME PARTY ON FRIDAY

Eleven Stunts on Program That Will be Given by Various Campus Organizations at Gathering of All Cornhusker Girls—Mortar Boards Will Sell Ice-cream Sandwiches

EXPECT THAT 700 OR 800 GIRLS WILL ATTEND PARTY

Doors Will Open at West End of Armory at 7 O'clock—Program Will Begin Promptly at 7:30—Silver Serpents Will Conduct Candy Booth for Hungry Girls

The annual girls' Cornhusker party, which will be given Friday night by the W. S. G. A. Board, will be a masquerade in accordance with the established tradition of Nebraska. Eleven stunts will be presented by sorority groups as the program. Mortarboards will sell ice cream sandwiches during the evening, and the Silver Serpents will have charge of a booth to supply candied apples for the guests.

The party will be held in the Armory and will begin promptly at 7:30 o'clock. The girls are asked to use the west doors, which will be opened at 7 o'clock. The fee of admission is thirty cents, and each girl is requested to have the exact change. Margaret Hager, who is in charge of the affair, expects that seven or eight hundred girls will attend. The date is closed to all other University parties.

The eleven stunts which will be staged have been selected from the manuscripts submitted by girls' organizations on the campus. The groups presenting them will be announced at the party. The titles of the stunts in the order of their presentation are as follows:

- A Cornhusker game in 1936.
  - Faculty Hop.
  - The Tragedy of the Lighthouse Keeper.
  - On and Off a Pirate Vessel.
  - A Cornhusker Wedding.
  - Sweet Cookie Chorus.
  - Young Lochinvar.
  - In a Pullman Car.
  - The Gumps.
  - A College Highway.
  - Our Co-ed.
- The costumes will form an attractive part of the party. The members of the W. S. G. A. board will appear in costumes of the same design, which will be kept a secret until Friday night. Every girl is expected to come in holiday regalia.

The Cornhusker girls' party has become a tradition, and is an event on the calendar of every Cornhusker girl. It is an annual project of the W. S. G. A. The Cornhusker banquet for men will be held the same night.

EMPLOYMENT BUREAU MAKES GOOD REPORT

Finds Plenty of Work for Students Since Opening of School in September

One hundred and forty fewer men made application for aid from the Student Employment bureau in November than in October. The decrease results from some students securing work in their own initiative. William G. Altstadt, employment secretary, states that there are no students desperately in need of work as was the case at the beginning of the semester.

During November, 362 jobs for students were reported, and of these 330 were filled. The total jobs filled since September 1 number 834. Three hundred and eighty-five students, as against 525 in October, made application for work during November.

The total earnings of University students employed through the bureau from September 1 to December 1 are $11,890.70. Of this, $4,185.50 was earned during November and $7,705.20 in previous months. Itemized estimated earnings for November are: Board, $1,589; room, $275; sales, collecting and advertising, $816.50; stenographic and clerical help, $140.50; and miscellaneous jobs, $1,964.50.

NOTED SINGER WILL BE AT CONVOCATION TOMORROW MORNING

Clarence E. Zink of the Robin Hood Opera company will give a song recital in a special convocation in the Temple theatre, Monday morning at 11 o'clock, says Professor Paul Gruman, chairman of the committee on convocation. The Robin Hood Opera company is playing at the Orpheum theatre Monday, presenting that comic opera.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR PROF. DANN

Services Held at First Congregational Church Friday Afternoon for Professor

BODY INTERRED AT WYUKA

Friends and Students Fill Church—Was Chairman of Art History and Criticism

Funeral services for Professor William F. Dann, chairman of the Department of Art History and Criticism, were held Friday afternoon at the First Congregational church. University faculty member, students, church members, delegations from clubs, and other friends crowded into the church.

Rev. John Andrew Holmes was in charge of the services both at the church and at the grave in Wyuka. His sermon was eulogy of one who, he said, had been active in his church as in other interests so that his death has been a loss to the University, to the community, and to the church of God.

Flowers, the gifts of those who loved Professor Dann in life, covered the casket and the choir space. The music for the service was in charge of Mrs. Carrie B. Raymond. The quartet of the Congregational church sang three numbers.

Classes were excused from 3 to 4 o'clock so that the students and faculty could attend the funeral. Prof. Dann's classes met in the Sunday school room and occupied a reserved section of the church. Members of the faculty also sat in a section of the church reserved for them.

Paul Schissler Has Unusually Big Year At Lombard College

Paul Schissler, former Nebraska baseball and basketball coach, is now at Lombard college where he turned out a team this year that took the championship of the "little ten" football conference. This is the second consecutive year that his team has walked away with the honors. They play a good brand of football in the little conference according to Coach Schissler and provide interesting competition for the bigger schools that venture into their territory. They defeated Kalamazoo on Thanksgiving day, giving them the undisputed championship. They also tied with Detroit who defeated Washington and Jefferson by a decisive score.

Sigma Xi Will Hold Initial Meeting of Year Monday Night

Nebraska chapter of Sigma Xi, honorary scientific fraternity, will hold its first regular meeting of the year Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the general lecture room in Bessey Hall.

Colonel C. H. Muller Visits University on An Inspection Tour

Colonel C. H. Muller, in charge of the Seventh corps area of the R. O. T. C., visited the University Friday and Saturday as the guest of Major Sidney Erickson, commandant of this section. He was at the training camp for a short time last summer to inspect the camp. The public on The Blue Torch, was dedicated to him. He visited classes in the military department Friday, and was a guest at the military ball Friday evening.

Honorary Cadet Colonel

MISS PEARL L. SWANSON

Miss Pearl Swanson, '23, of Sioux City, Ia., was presented as honorary colonel of the University cadet regiment at the annual military ball at the city auditorium Friday night. Miss Swanson was chosen by popular vote of the students some time ago, but no announcement was made until the ceremonies at the ball, which marked the opening of the formal season for the University and was one of the most brilliant affairs ever put on by the Military department. The honorary colonel is a member of Alpha Phi and sponsor of the Pershing Rifles.

UNI STUDENTS MAY HAVE SKATING RINK

Present Plan is to Utilize Tennis Courts in Affording Plenty of Skating for Students

Four acres of skating rinks—this possibility has been suggested to the athletic office and will be acted on this week. The plan is to turn the tennis courts south of Bessey hall into a vast rink for student ice-skaters.

John K. Selleck, agent of student activities, when asked as to the possibility of the proposed change, stated that the plan will be carried through if it is found that the flooding of the courts will not injure them for playing next spring. If student sentiment strongly favors the flooding of the courts, and the effects will not be injurious, hundreds of skaters will be accommodated each day within the next few weeks.

Several years ago, the present athletic field was turned into a skating rink when University authorities flooded it. A small charge to students and townspeople who wanted to use the field for the ice sport more than covered the cost of flooding and maintenance. Backers of the plan to flood the tennis courts assert that no harm would be done.

The chief engineer of the University will be consulted before any steps are taken by the athletic office.

The 1923 Cornhusker football schedule is complete and will be found on page 3 of this issue.

Nebraska won recognition on the all-western football teams chosen by Walter Eckersall of the Chicago Tribune.

MILITARY FRATERNITY ANNOUNCES PLEDGES

Thirteen Men Pledged to Scabbard and Blade—Initiation Dec. 19 and 20

Scabbard and Blade, honorary military fraternity, announces thirteen new pledges. It is a national organization, this chapter having been established in May, 1920. Each year they put on a carnival and promote the military activities about the campus. Initiation will be held December 19 and 21. The list of pledges follows: Norris W. Coats, Dwight McVicker, Norris G. Kenny, Robert F. Craig, Kenneth Coxier, Herbert Rathsaack, Monroe Gleason, Charles H. Spencer, Carl C. Krueger, Addison E. Sutton, Blanchard Anderson, Howard H. Hunter, Joe B. Wood.

SISTERS HOLD ANNUAL XMAS PARTY SATURDAY

Big and Little Sisters Met at Ellen Smith Hall Yesterday for Christmas Party

About three hundred girls attended the Christmas party of the Big and Little Sisters Saturday afternoon at Ellen Smith Hall. A short program by University girls, dancing, refreshments and small lollypop dolls furnished entertainment for the guests.

Pauline Barber, giving a reading in which she took the parts of a little girl and "D'Zimmy," her holder brother, made quite an impression. Helen Kummer gave a violin solo, and Louise Newby gave a piano selection.

The large rooms of Ellen Smith Hall are admirably suited to dancing. A Christmas tree, decorated with myriad lights, held the place of honor in the center of the reception room. Refreshments carrying out the Christmas motive were served.

The Big and Little Sisters include all the girls in the University, since every freshman has a "Big Sister" from one of the upper classes. The Senior Advisory Board sponsors assignment of "sisters."

Prof. Chas. Fordyce, chairman of the department of educational measurements, addressed a group of Pawnee City teachers Friday, and G. W. Rosenlof, instructor in the history of education, spoke to teachers in country schools near there.

MILITARY PROM WELL ATTENDED

Miss Pearl Swanson Presented as Honorary Colonel of Nebraska Regiment at Big Ball

BEAUTIFULLY DECORATED

Grand March Follows Presentation Led by Miss Swanson and Colonel Noh

Miss Pearl Swanson, honorary cadet colonel, was formally presented to the students at the annual military ball last Friday evening in the City Auditorium, by Colonel J. G. Noh of the cadets. The identity of the honorary colonel, selected from the junior and senior co-eds of the University, had been kept secret, her first official appearance being made at the ball. She was elected by popular vote of the entire student body this fall, at the regular elections.

At this, the most brilliant social function of the University year, all events centered about the presentation of the honorary colonel. Three hundred couples attended. The ball was resplendent with flags and military bunting interspersed with great wicker baskets of flowers swung from the arched trellis work. The blue-grey military uniforms of the eighty cadet officers formed a pleasing background for the formal evening gowns of the co-eds.

At a signal, the cadets formed in lines, the curtain rose, and Miss Swanson stepped from an enclosure to be formally presented. She was attired in a blue-grey uniform patterned after the new uniform adopted this year for the cadet officers. The severe color of her costume was relieved by touches of red on the cap, and in the lining of her military cape. The uniform was the gift of the military department.

Following her presentation, Miss Swanson accompanied Colonel Noh, leading the grand march. Only cadet cadet officers and their ladies participated in the march. Guests threw a curtain of colorful streamers from the balcony as the march proceeded.

Miss Swanson is a senior in the College of Arts and Sciences, and a member of the Alpha Phi sorority. She was sponsor of the Pershing Rifles last year. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Swanson of Sioux City.

Ag College Offers Four Short Courses In Winter Session

Four courses will be offered by the College of Agriculture in the session of the winter short course beginning January 1. This work is offered mainly for farmers and their sons who are busy most of the year but have a little leisure in the winter. Boys 16 years old or over may enter. The four-weeks' auto-mechanic course begins January 1; the general agricultural course opens January 22 and runs for four weeks; a one-week poultry course will start January 8; and a course of one week in ice cream making begins February 5. Registration will be with the principal of the School of Agriculture, Lincoln.

Miss Gertrude Lois Hanford, A. M. '15, has a study, "Metaphor and Simile in American Folk-Speech" in the latest number of Dialect Notes. The study is one which Miss Hanford made when a graduate student at the University of Nebraska.

As a windup to the 1922 gridiron season and as a celebration of the successful completion of Nebraska's memorial stadium campaign, the annual Cornhusker banquet will be staged Friday, December 15, at the Scottish Rite Temple. The University quartet, toasts, motion pictures of the Notre Dame game, and two orchestras will be on the program.

It will be possible to serve 1,200 students in the Scottish Rite Temple. Lack of room has somewhat dampened the spirit of the banquet in past years, but this year the committee in charge has planned to accommodate a larger number of students. Most of the fraternities are planning to close their tables that night so that every one may attend the banquet.

At $1.00 a plate, the committee in charge has figured to give the banquet at nearly cost. It will be necessary to have sold 1,000 tickets by Thursday noon, in order for the committee to buy food on an economical basis. For this reason, the committee urges all students who plan to attend the banquet to buy their tickets at the student activities office before noon Thursday.

Last year 700 men attended the Cornhusker banquet. This year the committee plans to have the attendance hit the 1,200 mark. The banquet will be a windup of this year's successful gridiron season, and will be a celebration of the successful close of the campaign for Nebraska's new $400,000 Memorial Stadium. It will also be in the way of a farewell to the football men who played for the last time on Thanksgiving. The banquet will also celebrate the winning of places on all western teams by four Nebraska grid stars.

Two orchestras and the Varsity quartet are expected to add spirit to the occasion. Motion pictures of the battle between the Cornhuskers and the "Fighting Irish" on Turkey Day will be exhibited. These pictures have been shown in South Bend, Indiana, Omaha, and other larger cities. Members of the team and of the coaching staff will make speeches.

The committee from the Innocents in charge of the banquet is especially anxious that all students buy their tickets at the Student Activities office, Monday or Tuesday, in order that definite arrangements for the management of the banquet may be made.

The annual Cornhusker banquet is one of Nebraska's greatest and most cherished traditions. It is held every year at the end of the gridiron season.

PROF. FRANKFORTER TURNS DOWN OFFER

Forced to Decline Appointment for Assisting in Revising Special Regulation No. 43

Because of his University duties, Prof. C. J. Frankforter of the Chemistry Department, was forced to decline an appointment to assist a group of Army and Reserve officers in revising Special Regulations No. 43. Five regular army officers and nine reserve officers, one from each corps area, will do the work. Prof. Frankforter was chosen to represent the Seventh Corps Area, which comprises Nebraska and seven nearby states. The decision will require about six months.

Broad-minded and active interest in the Officers Reserve Corps are requisites, and of course only officers of outstanding merit were appointed. Prof. Frankforter holds the rank of major in the Reserve Corps.
