

MAT MEN READY FOR ENCOUNTER WITH CYCLONES

Feature Clash Will Be Between Troutman of Nebraska and Smith of Ames.

AGGIES ARE UNDEFEATED

Heralded as Greatest Wrestling Meet on the Cornhusker Schedule for 1923.

Wrestling fans may see the greatest mat program ever scheduled at Nebraska judging from Cyclones' record when the Scarlet and Cream warriors ran up against the team from Ames Saturday night at 7:30 in the Armory. The Cornhusker squad has been working toward this contest since last semester. The Cyclones bring a team which has not lost a match either last year or this year.

The Iowa Farmers have met and conquered some of the representative teams in the east, and they are probably the best bunch of intercollegiate grapplers in the country. The Nebraska squad has come nearer than any other team to beating the Cyclones. The score made by Ames last year in a match with the Cornhuskers was their lowest.

The matches will be as follows.

115-pound class—Probst, Nebraska v. Dickerson, Ames.

125-pound class—Kellogg, Nebraska v. Loucks, Ames.

135-pound class—Isaacson, Nebraska v. Bowen (c) Ames.

145-pound class—Pickwell, Nebraska v. Shepherd, Ames.

158-pound class—Reed, Nebraska v. (unknown), Ames.

175-pound class—Troutman, Nebraska v. Smith, Ames.

Heavyweight class—Renner, Nebraska v. Greer, Ames.

Dickerson, the 115-pound man, was captain of the Ames team last year, but did not compete because of a sprained ankle. This is his third year of actual wrestling. Probst, the Nebraska man who will meet him is one of the cleverest men of his weight.

Loucks, 125 pounds, tied with Vana of Iowa for the Western Intercollegiate championship last year. Kellogg is a new man in Nebraska's ranks.

Bowen of Ames beat Isaacson last year in a dual meet with Nebraska. Isaacson has improved in both strength and speed since last year. This promises to be a close match. Bowen is Western Intercollegiate champion, and has only been beaten twice; once by a decision and once by a fall.

Shepherd is another of the third year men from Iowa. He will wrestle Pickwell.

The 158-pounder from Ames is a new man and an unknown quantity.

At a recent meet with Northwestern, he triumphed over Hathaway, who beat Reed in a match with Nebraska.

Smith of Ames will meet Captain Troutman, who was Western Inter-collegiate champion last year. Smith, who has wrestled half of a year, is a cousin of Troutman, so the match is a family affair.

Greer, the Cyclone heavy, is a powerful powerfully-built man who has an advantage of ten or fifteen pounds over Renner. He is a new man, however, and probably has not the speed and strength of the Cornhusker man.

Nebraska's chances, on paper, are better in the heavy matches, but no matches are being conceded to the Farmers. The Cyclones swallowed Northwestern to the tune of 29 to 0. Nebraska beat the same school 16 to 6.

E. C. Schroeder, of the University of Iowa, will referee the matches which will be twelve minutes long. Five points will be given to the side winning by a fall, three points to the side getting a decision. In order to get a decision, a man must have an advantage of at least one minute over his opponent. If the advantage is less than this, the match goes to two extra periods of three minutes each. In order to get a decision, the man must have an advantage of thirty seconds at the end of one of the bouts.

The Cyclone aggregation will probably get into Lincoln Saturday morning, and the men will weigh in at 3:30 o'clock.

Reports that Mrs. Julia Woods Davies of St. Louis who died last December left an estate of $500,000 to an Egyptian she met in Italy, have been verified by counsel for her fourth husband, it is said.

Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the board of the Standard Oil company, has denied that the Indiana company is negotiating for the purchase of the Gulf Oil corporation.

Regardless of the outcome of hearings before the interstate commerce commission regarding consolidation the Santa Fe plans to build its Kansas City-St. Louis line.

Floyd Sandusky, 16, is being held in jail at Pocatello, Idaho on a charge of murdering his father. It is said he killed his parent through a desire to protect his mother and brothers and sisters.

Each person in the United States spent twice as much for luxuries in 1922 as the average Methodist church member donated for religious purposes, reports from the annual conference at Chicago declare.

Of course it isn't done to dodge taxes, but it's funny that stock dividends became so popular all at once.
