Lincoln High School Has Won Five Out of Twelve Basketball Titles

Lincoln high school, whose basketball team rates as one of the strongest entered in the 1923 tournament, is the winner of five of the twelve championships since the first classic in 1911. The Red and Black last carried off the honors in 1920 when they trimmed Omaha Tech in the finals. In a post-season game that year, Lincoln won the Nebraska-Colorado championship by defeating the Colorado Springs cage quintet in two successive contests at the Colorado city.

The records of the tournament from 1911 to 1923 show steady growth in the number of teams participating. From twenty-one teams entered in the first tourney, the total has jumped to 237 in 1923. From a tournament of one class competition, the classic has spread into fifteen divisions.

The history of the tournament follows: In 1911, twenty-one teams were entered, Beatrice carrying off the laurels.

Omaha Central won the second annual tourney by defeating South Omaha in the finals. University Place won the consolation championship from Beatrice.

Two play floors were used in the 1913 tournament, the Armory and the Chapel. Geneva won the championship by taking the measure of the Beatrice five.

Conspicuous Figure in American College Life—Asked to Come by Alpha Chapter.

Alexander Meiklejohn, Ph. D., LL. D., president of Amherst college, and author of the much discussed book, "The Liberal College," will deliver the Nebraska Phi Beta Kappa oration for 1923 on Monday, March 19, at the Temple theatre. He was one of the contributors to the recent educational supplement of the "New Republic." On March 17, before coming to Nebraska, he is to deliver the Phi Beta Kappa oration at the University of Wisconsin.

Phi Beta Kappa at Nebraska alternates with Sigma Xi, the honorary scientific society, in the selection of the speaker for the annual public exercises of the two organizations. The meeting will be open to all students and to the faculty, whether members of the societies or not, and to the general public.

Phi Beta Kappa, which was founded in 1776, annually pledges the one-sixth of the senior class having the highest averages in scholarship throughout their college courses. These awards are usually announced at the last convocation before the spring vacation.

Reports on the Grace Coppock Memorial Fund campaign shows a total of $1,200. The Mystic Fish team, with the highest amount, has $159.50 to its credit. Due to the fact that a portion of this money was not received until the campaign had officially close, the team which will be entertained at a cabinet dinner, a reward for taking first place, will be the one captained by Lila Wyman, which held the top position Friday evening.

A great deal of credit is due the members of the freshman girls' society, according to Mary Ellen Whelpley, general chairman for the Grace Coppock Fund, since they are all first year students.

There is still a large number of girls who have not contributed to the fund. Those who have not yet been solicited will be seen by a member of a special pick-up committee, which will begin its work Friday.

MANY TEAMS FALL ON FIRST DAY OF TOURNEY

University Place, Wahoo, Sutherland and North Platte Drop Out of Class A Race.

PLAY FINALS SATURDAY

Upper Classes Show Ragged Form on First Day—Fast Games in Classes C, D and E.

CLASS A.
Sutherland, 13; Ravenna, 23. Uni. Place, 12; Cleighton, 16. Beatrice, 18; Wahoo, 15. York, 11; Sutton, 9. North Platte, 15; Omaha Tech., 18. Alliance, 12; Hastings, 15. Sidney, 11; Omaha Central, 18. Geneva, 10; Lincoln, 20.

All the western teams were displaced in the first round of the 1923 Nebraska high school basketball tournament and the dope splashed all over the Coliseum when Sutton, 1922 champs, fell before York. The teams selected from the west started slipping when Sutherland fell in the first game and finally Sidney received a trouncing at the hands of Omaha.

Ravenna touted to defeat Sutherland turned the trick in the slowest game of the first round pulling away to a 22 to 13 score. Both teams consistently missed close shots and had a difficult time keeping their hands on the ball. Ravenna, Class B champions last year were outweighed by Sutherland, who in spite of their superior weight were unable to form any sort of an offense. Omaha, Ravenna guard found the hoop seven times while Wood did the heavy work for Sutherland with four baskets.

For the first time in years a University Place team was put out of the running in the first round when the suburban quintet bowed to Creighton Prep 16 to 12. The Omaha team took the lead from the start and were never in danger throughout the contest. Monahan featured the play of the Prep squad and Warren played the leading role for University Place, though handicapped by a bad knee.

Wahoo, rated highly, fell to Beatrice's choice on the short end of a 15-18 tally. Roland caged five baskets for Beatrice and Cunningham of Wahoo was the stellar performer of the match, showing great speed and fancy floor work.

Omaha Tech disposed of North Platte by a tally of 15 to 18 but the Omaha lads did not have the run-away that was conceded to be their portion before the game. The game went an extra period with Crab getting the necessary points for Omaha during the extra session.

In the evening Alliance and Hastings played a hotly contested game, 12-15 with Hastings finally getting the edge. The game was decided on three fouls thrown by Hastings who was not marked with a single foul. Hastings resorted to shots of the long variety being unable to penetrate the western team's defense.

Omaha had no trouble with Sidney, playing the first frame 14 to 4 and letting up in the second half. The contest ended 18 to 11 in favor of the metropolis aggregation. Sidney seemed lost on the floor in the opening half but came back and outplayed Omaha during the last half.

The upset of the day came when Sutton went down before York, 11 to 9. Sutton could not hit the hoop when given the opportunity and during the greater part of the game the York men held the ball.

In the fastest game of the quality-round, Lincoln took charge of Geneva and sent her home with the small end of a 10 to 20 score. The first half ended a 9 to 9 tie but the Links wore down the Geneva defense and broke loose in the last few minutes caging the necessary baskets.

CLASS B.
Plattsmouth, 9; Norfolk, 7. Fremont, 9; Ansley, 8. Chappell, 11; Syracuse, 8. Gothenburg, 13; Nebraska City, 12. South Omaha, 13; Columbus, 7. Seward, 13; Wayne, 2. Genoa Indians, 22; Crete, 15.

CLASS C.
Randolph, 9; Kenesaw, 17. Central City, 12; Superior, 10. Aurora, 5; Valentine, 19. Auburn, 7; DeWitt, 12. Newman Grove, 3; Harvard, 12.
