

SPRING VACATION WILL COMMENCE SATURDAY NOON

University Classes Will Not Be Resumed Until Tuesday Morning, April Third.

TRAINS ARE CONGESTED

Students Are Asked by Railroad Companies to Buy Tickets Early to Avoid Rush.

Spring recess begins officially on Saturday noon. University classes will be resumed at 8 o'clock, Tuesday, April 3. Since Easter is the first of April this year, the resumption of classes was postponed until Tuesday instead of Monday as is the custom.

Students who are leaving Friday and Saturday to go home for the Easter vacation are asked by the management of the railroads to get their tickets early, so that the transportation companies may know how many coaches will be needed on different trains, and may see to details, conducting the trains in the most efficient manner, according to announcement sent out Thursday from the City Ticket office of the Burlington.

There is always a congestion in the train service at the time of vacations for the students of the University according to railroad officials, and if students make their reservations early it facilitates matters for the men in charge of trains.

Vacations this year follow the plan laid out by the student vote taken last spring, at which time the students declared that they preferred one day at Thanksgiving, a week at Christmas, and a week in the spring, rather than two days in November, ten days at the holidays, and three days in March or April.

Christmas vacation this year begins on Friday, December 22, at 6 o'clock, and continues until 8 o'clock on the morning of Wednesday, January 3.

The reason generally advanced for the desire for a longer vacation in the spring was the impossibility of securing homes for those students who live at a great distance. So few of the students leave town for the week end of Thanksgiving vacation that the general consensus of opinion, as evidenced by the votes last spring, was for a longer vacation in the spring, with the resultant curtailment of the holiday for the celebration of the anniversary of the Pilgrim Fathers.

Taylor to Speak Over Radio on "Radicalism"

C. W. Taylor, principal of Teachers' High School, is to speak on "Radicalism" over the American Legion radio Friday evening, March 23, 1923, at 9 o'clock.

This is the second time that Professor Taylor has spoken over the Legion radio. The subject which he spoke on before was, "Americanism."

Professor Taylor is especially interested in these subjects in connection with education and has conducted an extensive research in the Public and Parochial schools of Nebraska.

A Lenten Thought for Every Day

A Prayer for the Easter Vacation.
Eternal God, we thank Thee for the ministry of Jesus Christ among men and for the glory of His resurrection. May we see our lives in the light of His sacrifice. Make us sharers of His victorious life. In the heat of the day and in the long watches of the night, may we be guided always by the Spirit of the living Christ in whom and through whom we have life eternal.

Make each of us an instrument in Thy hands for good. Purify our hearts, strengthen our minds and bodies, fill us with the mutual love. Let no pride, no self-conceit, no rivalry, no dispute, ever spring up among us. Make us earnest and true, wise and prudent, giving no just cause of offense; and may thy holy peace rest upon us this day and every day, sweetening our trials, cheering us in our work, and keeping us faithful to the end; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

"SWEET MAMA" ISSUE OF AWGWAN IS BREEZY

Co-eds Write March Number of Comic Publication—"Back Number" Due in April.

Before going home for spring vacation all students should secure their copies of the "Sweet Mama" issue of the Awgwan, in Station "A" in University hall, the staff of the magazine announced yesterday. Back numbers may be secured at the Awgwan office in the northwest corner of the basement of the Administration building.

Breezy and sentimental, the March Awgwan appeared yesterday on the campus, with a likeness of somebody's "Sweet Mama" on the cover.

The co-eds have avowedly chosen March as a fitting month for their issue of Awgwan to "breeze across the campus knocking everybody off his feet." The volume is "affectionately" dedicated to their masculine contemporaries who said they "couldn't."

"Eye" is the original sweet mama states one co-ed writer, and she "cost only one bone." Here is a chance for some good come-backs in the "Back Number" that is to be published next.

"Town and Gown" and "Concism" come in for their share of parodies. Henry writes another letter to Edgar concerning his experience as a college "fella." What the masculine members of the staff consider the most surprising feature of the issue is the number of jokes—about the idiosyncrasies of co-eds.

Brain Quiz Baffles Newcomb Faculty After Girl Students Failed in Tests

New Orleans.—Students of Newcomb College, a young woman's educational institution here, were subjected to an "intelligence test to determine their knowledge of everyday subjects." The results were so poor that the students were chastised. So they challenged twenty-three members of the faculty to take a similar test. The faculty accepted. They didn't do so well, according to the announcement of results given out last week.

Here are some of the results of the test on the faculty:
Al Jolson is a wrestling champion.
Francis Scott Key was a woman who wrote poems.

STRENUOUS VACATION WEEK IN STORE FOR BASEBALL TWIRLERS

Rock Island Diamond May Be Ready for Use Spring Recess Says Coach.

Spring vacation may mean a lot to the other college students, but it means a lot of hard work to Husker diamond performers, according to Coach Scott Dye. The Nebraska baseball mentor welcomes the interlude as a saving means of putting his men in condition for the opening games of the season which opens at Norman, Oklahoma, a week from Monday. "Good hard outdoor work and lots of it is all we need, and it looks as though we can get on the Rock Island diamond next week," is what the diminutive coach says.

No opportunity for batting practice exists in the Armory where the squad is at present practicing, and unless the bad weather abates, the Huskers will have no chance to get their batting eyes before the season is fairly upon them. It is possible that the team will leave for Oklahoma a few days early in order to have a few days' practice in the southern sunshine, but this step has not been finally decided upon. Last year the team took this preparatory training trip but it rained all of the time they were in the Southland. However, even with the limited room at their disposal, new men are showing stuff every day.

It is difficult to say who will make the trip south, or who will hold regular berths on the team. "Men may make this trip who will never make the team again, and there may be men left at home this time who will be regular performers all season," says Coach Dye. "A man may look like a star indoors who can't make a creditable performance on the diamond." From this it can be seen what a difficult task confronts the Husker coach to choose possibly fifteen or sixteen from a squad of sixty men, none of whom he has seen in action.

The announcement of the new members was made at the convocation Thursday morning at 11 o'clock in the Temple theatre. The list of newly-elected members and the basis on which they were elected was read by Prof. A. R. Congdon, secretary of the Nebraska Alpha chapter.

The members are chosen by a purely mechanical method, according to Mr. Congdon. The averages of all students eligible are figured, and the list of numbers submitted to the members of the fraternity, without the names of the student. The society then votes as to where the list of diminishing figures is to stop in the awarding of the honors.

This year one-eighth of the eligible members of the graduating class were elected into the society. Forty-three members are included in the list. Of this number, thirteen are men, and thirty women.

Among these are one fraternity man, twelve sorority girls, and two women who are members of literary societies.

Nineteen of the honored students live in Lincoln, while four of them make their homes in Omaha.

The new members were elected at a meeting held Wednesday noon, at which the following resolution was passed:

"No student who is considered for membership at the time of the annual election, being eligible under the rules, shall again be considered for membership except as an alumnus."
