Pharmacy week starts tomorrow, closely followed by Engineers' Week which is scheduled to start next Monday. In these celebrations may be seen the result of the growth of college spirit at Nebraska.

About three years ago when the men of the Law College appeared at football games with their college hats and created a sensation with their college yells, other colleges started plans to equal their enthusiasm. Almost every college now sets aside a day or a week each year in which the attention of the whole University community is directed to its activities and in which its students may have an opportunity to become better acquainted with one another.

This growth of spirit among the college is to be commended and is productive of fine results. The efforts made to tell the people of this city and community of the growth and accomplishments of each college is an especially worthwhile of these celebrations.

In no way should the college "week" conflict with the obviously successful movement underway to arouse and promote a bigger and finer Nebraska spirit. On the other hand, loyalty to one's college is one step in the growth of a greater University spirit.

Only ten days remain until the opening of the 1923 home baseball season. When the Husker open the season here on the 27th, hundreds of student fans will be on hand to watch the game. The decisive victories over the Missouri Tigers at Columbia have demonstrated the ability of our team. They have shown what Coach Dye can do when he has enough time for practice. It's too early to predict results in the Missouri Valley race, but if the Nebraska team maintains the pace set last Friday and Saturday, the Cornhuskers have a fine chance to land in the position toward which they are always striving in all activities—at the top of the Missouri Valley.

The Community Chest drive has been unusually successful in the towns and cities in which it has been put into operation. The idea of combining a large number of drives into one saves time, annoyance, and expense. Community chest drives have been put into operation in cities before they have become the prevalent method of raising funds for campus activities at colleges over the country. A few colleges are adopting the idea and Community Chest drives seem bound to increase in popularity as a satisfactory method of eliminating so many campaigns for funds.

An advantage of the plan is that each contributor is given an opportunity to know to what activities his money goes and to read the budgets of the organizations. His own budget can become better stabilized if he knows all at once just what his expenditures for beneficiaries are to amount to for a year.

The City of Lincoln is about to start its first Community Chest drive for the purpose of raising funds for charities and public service works. The directors of that drive look with reason toward the students of the University as contributors to their drive. The University is a dominant factor in the social and business life of this community and its response to the appeal will be a generous one.

During the past winter, we have had an opportunity to see the fine backing which the people of this community have given to the University. Their success in raising their quota in the stadium drive is indicative of their attitude toward our school. Surely no finer way to repay them for this spirit of support can be shown than by boosting this enterprise of the Community Chest.

A year's successful handling of the finances of so many organizations in the Community Chest will be watched with interest at the University. Some similar plan of handling the financing of campus activities has been needed for a long time. More publicity for the budgets of campus organizations will be a beneficial result of the adoption of the Community Chest otherwise known as the single tax.

Tell your physics prof. that this cap defies gravity

SHAVING cream caps have an uncanny habit of chumming with gravity. That's why the Williams' Hinged Cap shown here is so remarkable. You can't persuade it to roll down a drain pipe. It refuses to go near the bathroom floor. In brief, it defies all previous laws governing the behavior of shaving cream caps.

Williams' Shaving Cream, in the same way, upsets all traditions about shaving. First of all, it exceeds every known speed limit for softening the beard. You can get your face ready for shaving in less time with Williams' than with any shaving cream you ever used.

In the second place, Williams' has a positive effect for good on the skin. Your face, with the wholesome care which Williams' gives, is kept in better condition and made more comfortable.

Test out these advantages which Williams' offers. Start with Williams' to-morrow and see what a time saver it is and how it helps make shaving more enjoyable.
