NEBRASKA OVERWHELMS KANSAS ATHLETES

ANNUAL KOSMET KLUB PRODUCTION SCORES SUCCESS

"Yellow Lantern" Play Is Excellent Combination of Original Music and Clever Plot.

PRETTY GIRLS IN CHORUS

Scenes of Show Are Laid in China—Play Will Be Staged in Omaha Monday at Brandeis.

A Chinese setting, a theme of international intrigue, pretty music and scores of fascinating girls featured "The Yellow Lantern", a musical extravaganza presented Friday evening at the Orpheum theater by the Kosmet Klub, dramatic organization of university. The production was an all-university affair. Cyril Coombs, Law '23 wrote and directed the play. The Klub will take the play to Omaha Monday where it will be staged in the Brandeis theater.

The scenes were all laid in China, and the plot revolved around a treaty for the opening of some mines in China, which at the opening of the story was held by the United States but was coveted by Japan. The opening scene shows the American consulate, where the consul, Henry Osborne, and his assistant, Robert Kincaid, reside. It is the morning of a great feast day. The feast of the yellow lanterns will be held in the evening, and it is thought that some of the Chinese under the pay of Japanese officials would start trouble. They did, and the remainder of the story tells of what happened on Yellow Lantern night—the conspiracy of Li Chan, cook at the consulate, with an American, to get the treaty for the Japanese, the killing of Li Chan and drugging of Robert Kincaid, who during his opium sleep, has many unusual experiences, going through lovely gardens, meeting pretty maidens, and finally falling in love with the princess, which he finds upon waking was his nurse at the hospital where he had been taken.

Hawley plays the leading role, that of Robert Kincaid, and does some very effective work. He has a very pleasing stage presence, and a personality that wins his audience from the beginning.

Jasper Calendar Jones

Another especially interesting character who enters in the first act is Jasper Calendar Jones from Mississippi, a black face comedy part, enacted to perfection by Orville Andrews. One of the song hits of the show was Mr. Andrews' "Missin' Mississippi" and the audience demanded that it be repeated several times. Another chorus number in the first act, which was very attractive and which was recalled several times, was "Underneath the Chinese Moon," sung by Miss DeMaris Stout and her group of Passersby.

Princess Su San Yee, who finally turned out to be Susan Lee, an American girl, was played by Miss Dorothy Sprague. She sang, "I am the Princess Su San Yee." The costumes were lovely and the setting unique.

Pleasing Musical Numbers

One of the best, if not the very best, numbers of the show was "Happy Hoppy Land," sung by Miss Sprague, the hoppy chorus and Su San Yee followers.

In this scene also, Miss Donna Gustin, representing the spirit of the poppies, gave a solo dance. "My Dreams" which was very effective.

A pretty setting and a pretty song number with the chorus singing off stage, was "In the Garden of My Dreams," sung by Lewellyn Hawley in his scene with Miss Sprague.

Hart Jenks, as "Opium" was splendid. His characterization of the demon opium and his song number, "Maker of Dreams," was received enthusiastically by the audience and it was necessary to repeat it several times.

Then came the Sen Sen chorus, a typical high-class musical comedy chorus that won the hearts of everyone.

The third act of the play was the finale, bringing in all of the chorus numbers and principals.

Hepperlys Announce Marriage of Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Hepperly announce the marriage of their daughter, Hattie, to Halsey E. Dewey of Ames, Iowa, on May 5, in Darjeeling, India. The ceremony was performed by Bishop Fisher in the presence of a few intimate friends.

Mr. Dewey attended Ames College and received a B. Sc. degree in 1920. Miss Hepperly attended Wesleyan two years and graduated from Nebraska University in 1921, where she was a member of Phi Mu sorority, Mortarboard, Omicron Nu, president of Home Ec Club, and a Student Volunteer. She is now in the Isabella Thornburn College, of Lucknow, India. Mr. and Mrs. Dewey will spend their honeymoon in the Himalayan mountains.

ANNUAL BANQUET OF BIZADS IS THURSDAY

Dean J. E. LeRossignol Will Be Toastmaster—Chancellor Avery Will Speak.

Dean J. E. LeRossignol will be the toastmaster at the annual banquet of the College of Business Administration to be held at the Miller and Paine tea rooms next Thursday evening at 6:15. Raymond Eller is the chairman of the banquet committee. The banquet is being held under the auspices of the University Commercial Club, and is for the men of the college only. Tickets for the banquet are now on sale by a committee of ticket sellers, members of the Commercial Club. Roland Easterbrook has charge of the ticket sales, and according to his report made Saturday afternoon, the indications are for a big banquet next Thursday evening.

R. V. Koufal, graduate of the "Bizad" college with the class of 1921, will be the speaker representing the alumni of the college.

Kenneth Cozier, '24, president of the University Commercial Club, will give an address in behalf of the organization.

Harry LaTowsky, formerly president of the University Commercial Club, will give the address for the present student body of the college.

Chancellor S. Avery will be the speaker for the University and student body at large.

William L. Bates, '12, University regent at large, a member of the firm of J. H. Markel Automobile Company, of Lincoln, is expected to represent the board of regents at the banquet. Mr. Bates is a clever speaker, and a firm backer of the University in all its parts.

The "Bizad" college banquet will be the last big gathering of that college during this school year. The "Bizad" picnic last fall, and the monthly dinners of the University Commercial Club, have kept the college spirit at high pitch throughout the school year. Fully four hundred students of the college are expected to attend the banquet Thursday night.

Tickets for the banquet sell at one dollar, and may be secured from members of the ticket sale committee, or any member of the banquet committee.

GLEE CLUB ELECTS DIERKS PRESIDENT

Plans for Concert to Be Given at Second Baptist Church on May 8 Are Made.

Deitrich Dierks was elected president of the University Glee Club at its meeting last Wednesday. Plans for a concert to be given May 8 at the Second Baptist Church, Twenty-eighth and S streets, were made.

Other officers elected were: John Anderson, vice-president; Henry Elter, librarian; Arthur Latta, secretary-treasurer; and Kenneth Cozier, business manager.

For next year, the club will probably have a membership of forty members, choosing the men to make the annual trip by competition among the active members. The men plan to continue the use of high grade music, according to members of the club.

UNIVERSITY GETS LESS MONEY FOR NEXT TWO YEARS

Almost Half Million Dollar Decrease in Budget Provided by State Legislature for 1923-25.

MANY LARGE CUTS MADE

Only Increase in Appropriations Is Doubling Amount Given to Agricultural Extension Bureau.

With the adjournment of the Nebraska legislature, it is possible to make comparisons of the appropriations for the University in the past few years. A decrease of $410,434.34 is reported in a statement from L. E. Gunderson, bursar of the University. The 1921-23 budget provided for $100,000.00 for a nurses' home, an amount which was not appropriated in the 1923-25 budget, like the $7,500 checking land sales item. Another department which was cut off is the $33,543.34 appropriation for the sanitary sewer.

The only increase made in appropriations from any department goes to the Agricultural work, which receives in the next two years $100,000 instead of the $50,000 which it was given in the 1921-23 schedule.

A cut of $2,500 is made in the conservation and survey department, leaving an amount of $20,000. The trade school appropriation is stationary at $67,000. It is the only amount not affected by the drastic reductions of the legislature.

Union Society Admits Many New Members

Union Society took in fourteen new members at a business meeting May 1. The new members are:

George Bowers, Rachel Wilkinson, Lorraine Kuse, Edith Gramlich, Elsie Gramlich, Houston Carlson, Edna Anstine, Flora Anstine, William Hinze, Francis Wells, Leslie Fisher, Donald McBride, Claire Smalley and Robert Shields.

Charles H. Compton, '01, assistant librarian of the St. Louis public library, was elected to the executive board of the American Librarian Association at its recent annual meeting at Hot Springs, Ark. Joy Morgan, a former student, addressed one of the sessions. Mr. Morgan is editor of the National Educational Association publications.

University Students Are Sadly Lacking in Biblical Education

Forty-four per cent of the students in sociology class were able to name ten books of the Bible in an off-hand test given in class last Wednesday. Mrs. Hattie Plum Williams, in order to verify figures printed in the Literary Digest on April 21 regarding the Biblical knowledge of students in state universities gave the test to two of her classes.

In one of the classes, thirty six per cent could name ten books of the New Testament, while forty-four per cent were sufficiently well-versed on the Old Testament. Mrs. Williams attributes the difference in the knowledge of the two testaments to the fact that the students were rushed for time.

"Perhaps it is because the Old Testament is more historical and less religious," suggested Chancellor Avery yesterday when he was informed of the approximate statistics.

In the one section of the class, four per cent of the students could not name a single book. Two of the fifty students named four of the divisions. The same number of students could name two of the New Testament books.

Moses was variously identified as "The Father of Cain and Abel" the "man who wrote the ten commandments on a rock" and the "baby found in the bullrushes." Most of the students thought that he became a king of the Hebrews, while many of them were under the delusion that Moses was the founder of one of the twelve original tribes of Israel.

FARMERS' FAIR IS RIOT OF FUN FOR EVERYONE

Annual Ag Jubilee Is Full of Excitement from Morning Parade to Curfew at 11:30.

DANCE FLOOR IS CROWDED

Wild West Show and Nebraska-Missouri Baseball Game Are Main Features of Big Joyfest.

The fifth annual Farmers' Fair on the campus of the College of Agriculture, from the morning parade until the curfew at 11:30 was full of excitement and enthusiasm which kept the ball rolling until the "last dog was dead."

The morning parade was larger than the ones in the past have been, according to members of the committee in charge of the affair, and contained many clown stunts as well as the educational floats representing the different departments on the campus.

Early in the afternoon the Midway opened, with side-shows and all sorts of opportunities for the exercise of skill. It was patterned after the county fairs of the rural districts, and there was never a dull moment on the Way.

The Wild West show at two o'clock included the broncho-riding contest, and the spectators were treated to an exhibition of the Buffalo Bill type of riding.

The coliseum floor was brought into the campus, and a tent put over it. A twelve-piece orchestra furnished the music for the dancing, and the floor was crowded from the time it was opened until the closing time of the fair.

The Nebraska-Missouri baseball game at 3:30 was played on the campus of the Ags. in order not to detract from the crowd, and because of the number of people who did not wish to miss the game.

At four o'clock the doors were thrown open on the educational exhibits in the different buildings on the campus. At the same time the Snorpeum began its performances, putting one on every hour until eleven o'clock, with one intermission at the dinner hour. The barbecue was scheduled for 5:15.

The evening hours were occupied by performances of the Snorpeum, a re-opening of the Midway, and more (Continued on Page Four.)

Hike to Take Place of Tuesday Vespers

A conference hike picnic will take the place of the regular Tuesday Vesper services of the University Y. W. C. A. The girls will meet at five o'clock in the afternoon at Ellen Smith Hall, and will hike to Antelope park. A cafeteria lunch will be served and there will be a camp fire.

Grace Spacht will lead in the devotionals, and Dorothy Williams and Ruth Small will give short talks about the Estes Park Conference in August. The Vesper choir will furnish music, and all the girls will sing the conference songs.

All girls who wish to go on the hike may do so by signing up on the poster on the bulletin board in Ellen Smith Hall.

ENGINEERING SOCIETY DISCUSSES PEDAGOGY

Subject Is "Pedagogy in Engineering"—Lida Earmart Leads Discussion.

The University of Nebraska members of the Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education at a meeting Tuesday considered the subject of "Pedagogy in Engineering Teaching." The discussion was led by Dr. Lida B. Earhart of the Teachers' College.

Outlining the major headings of the work of the engineering teacher, Dr. Earhart pointed out that the inspirational ideals of the profession must be taught as a part of the college training; that the student must acquire a foundation knowledge that is absolutely reliable; that manipulative skill must reach the point of elegance. The most difficult step in the acquisition of knowledge and skill is that of analysis and the selection of the necessary parts of the composition. The association of ideas and the consequent building-up process is more natural and is carried out continually. Analytical reasoning must be developed and is promoted by carefully connecting present problems with previous knowledge.

The discussion following Dr. Earhart's talk centered around methods of handling laboratory subjects and the effects produced by different methods of grouping students in class and laboratory sections. Good results were reported as coming from grouping on the basis of ability both in various high schools and in colleges.

The meeting was one of three held simultaneously by groups constituting the Kansas-Nebraska section of the Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education. The other two groups are at Kansas State Agricultural College and the University of Kansas. Reports of the three individual meetings will be transmitted to the other groups, and thus all will have the benefit of the three meetings. The Nebraska group will probably meet again before the end of the college year to receive these reports. The Kansas-Nebraska section's annual meeting will be held at Nebraska next fall. Last fall the meeting was at Manhattan, Nebraska was represented by about fifteen faculty members.

Faculty Women Will Hold Annual Picnic

The annual picnic of the Faculty Women's Club will be held at the Agricultural Engineering building at the University College of Agriculture Wednesday, May 9, at 6:15 p. m. All members of the faculty and their families are invited. Those attending will provide themselves with lunches, dishes, silver and sugar. The committee will serve ice-cream and coffee. Persons desiring to buy lunches can make arrangements by telephoning B1775, B9190 or F2558, before Monday evening.

The University Players will give a short play. The hostesses are Mrs. J. P. Senning, chairman; Mrs. P. H. Stewart, Mrs. R. E. Holland, Mrs. Owen Frank, Mrs. G. L. Peltier, Mrs. E. L. Hinman, Mrs. L. The University of Nebraska track team cleared another hurdle in the path toward the Missouri Valley championship yesterday when the Kansas Indoor Valley championship track team bowed in defeat to the Huskers by the wide margin of 83 to 48. Coach Schulte's tracksters upset the dope, which had given them but a fighting chance of winning, and practically ran away with the meet, scoring heavily in the middle distance and distance runs, the hurdles races, and five of the field events. Fisher of the Jayhawkers took individual honors of the contest, the K. U. speed marvel winning first in the century and 220 dashes, and running anchor man on the victorious Kansas mile relay team. Norton of Kansas scored in six events.

The feature of the meet was the clean-up performance of the Husker athletes in the low hurdles and the two-mile run. Crites ran the 220-yard low hurdles in 24.4-5 seconds, a new Nebraska record. Lear and Kenner, Omaha Medic Husker, took second and third, respectively. In the two-mile, Ted Slemmons, another Omaha Medic, captured the two-mile run in 10 minutes and 10 seconds. Two other Nebraska runners finished second and third, making a clean sweep of the two-mile for Nebraska.

The century dash, which opened the meet, was won by Fisher of Kansas in 10 seconds. Lloyd and Noble finished second and third. These three sprinters finished in the same order in the 220-yard dash.

Nebraska sprung a surprise in the quarter by taking the first two places; when "Red" Layton stepped out and showed a clean pair of heels to the other runners. Ted Smith nosed Firebaugh, who was doped to win second place.

"Mud" Gardner performed up to expectations by winning the 880-yard run, after leading the last quarter. Coats of Nebraska finished a good second. In the mile run, Captain Ed Allen performed in a stellar fashion, winning handily in 4:39.3-5. Captain Allen showed his great staying power by coming back later in the meet and copping third place in the two-mile run.

As was expected, Sed Hartman won the shotput, while Myers and Norton tied for second. Myers jolted the dope bucket badly by taking first honors in the discus a few minutes later. Nebraska sprung two other surprises in the field events when Turner tied with Poor of K. U. for first in the high jump, and Hatch won the broad jump.

Nebraska won the meet by beating the Jayhawkers at their own game, the field events. The Huskers scored four firsts in the field events and tied for another. In the field, Nebraska scored 31 points, Kansas 23 points. Norton of Kansas, western conference decathlete champion, competed in seven events, including both hurdle races and all but the javelin throw of the field events.
