WELCOME K. U.

For almost a week, the cry on the campus has been, "K. U. is coming," or "Beat K. U." Today the Kansans will be here. From this time onward maintain the cry, "Beat K. U." but allow it to be superseded by "Welcome K. U."

For thirty years the Cornhuskers and the Jayhawkers have maintained athletic relations. In that time Nebraska has not had a more honorable nor a more respected opponent. Kansas has shown great respect for Nebraska and Nebraska has tried to show respect for Kansas. This is your turn to take the initiative.

Welcome K. U. The students and the team will be here as your guests.

LEST WE FORGET

Not far back in our memories there is still a vivid recollection of the trying days of war. We, who have lived and experienced those days, will never completely forget them. We may forget the horrors of war—for time inevitably dims the clarity of past events—and it is better so, for in this great, imperfect world there is so much that could better be forgotten. Yet there are those memories which we, and those who follow us, will always retain. Instead of becoming vague, they will become mellowed and beautified with age.

In this category is the memory of the part that America, and nearer home, Nebraska played in the war. Even when we are no longer here to perpetuate by word of mouth this tradition, it will continue to exist. In Nebraska's stadium it will be immortalized in enduring stone and cement, the service of her sons. Just as its massiveness is characteristic of their strength, so is its majesty symbolic of their sacrifice. Oblivion will never swallow this past as long as the stadium stands.

IS IT AN ACCIDENT

The figures of the United States Bureau of Education show that the United States maintains the most comprehensive system of public instruction in the world.

The per capita income in the United States is higher than for any other nation. Farmers in the United States produce per worker 2.3 times as much as the farmers of the United Kingdom produces; 2.5 times as much as the German farmer produces; 3.2 times as much as the French farmer produces, and 6.5 times as much as the Italian farmer produces. Is it an accident?

Farmers of the United States send their children to school less regularly and fewer days per year and fewer years than commercial, clerical, banking and professional classes.

Agricultural workers constitute 28 per cent of the total occupational workers and get 17.4 per cent of the national income. Commercial, clerical, banking, professional and miscellaneous classes constitute 32 per cent of the occupational workers and get 40 per cent of the national income. Is it an accident?

California enrolls a higher percentage of the population in high school than any other state. The state university at Berkeley enrolls twice as many farm bred students as any other state university.

Out of the fifty agricultural counties in the United States realizing the highest net income, California has thirteen, and out of the ten highest counties California has four. Is it an accident. L. V. D.

NEBRASKA MEETS KANSAS

Tomorrow the Cornhuskers and the Jayhawkers meet in the new stadium. In the last two years Nebraska has beaten Kansas by a 28 to 0 score. Coach Clark expressed the opinion last year that he was tired of that score and that he intended to change it this year.

Kansas has never given a game to the Huskers easily. The southerners have always been considered contenders for the Missouri Valley title and they are out every year to whip Nebraska. The team needs support to beat Kansas. Meet at the rally tonight and meet again in the stadium tomorrow. The team needs your support.

RAG CARPET Conducted by Carolyn Atry

The Rag Carpet was taken out of the "Rag" Wednesday and given a beating. It is as fresh and clean now as the mountain air

The Rag Doll says that she has heard of the Missing Link, but last Friday night was the first she had ever been asked to look at a missing face.

University girls are taking up rifling to protect themselves from the Indians and wild beasts, said by a New Yorker to infest Nebraska plains. We've heard it so often we're beginning to believe it ourselves.

"Did you like that batch of foreign jokes that Wagge brought back from his European vacation?" "Nope, too far-fetched."

Cheer up, freshies, you're not the only green things on the campus. Look at the grass.

After that first home-sick feeling wears off, you'll want to spend the rest of your life here. Some students like it so well, they've been here ten or twelve years.

She (to midnight toiler): Are you working on a master's degree?

Midnight Toiler: Now, the only master's degree I'll work on will be a shirt.
