IN SECRET DRILL TEAM PREPARES FOR NOTRE DAME

Four Men Lost by Team the Cornhuskers Defeated Last Year.

HOOSIERS OUTWEIGHED ON LINE BY NEBRASKA

Behind gates closed to everyone except coaches and managers, the Fighting Cornhuskers are laboring and battling for the big game of the season Saturday with Coach Knute Rockne's football warriors from Notre Dame.

With the exception of four men, this is the same team that Nebraska whipped so decisively last year. The men lost to the Notre Dame squad are Captain Carberry, Degree, McNulty, and Cotton, but their places have been ably filled with the services of Kizer, Back, and Crowe. All of these men are linemen, and other stars available at Rockne's summons are: Captain Brown, Mayl, Walsh, Collins, Regan, Vergara, and Miller.

Notre Dame's backfield this year is classed by all critics as the greatest in the country. The quartet upon which they base their opinion is: Stuldreher, Don Miller, Crowley, and Layden. Maher and Bergman are fast backfield men that have played in every contest this year and have made a record for themselves.

Last year Nebraska's line outweigned and completely outplayed the Irish. They outweigh them again this year but the question is will the inexperienced Nebraska forwards get the edge on the invaders in this game.

Notre Dame has, in every game except one, the Army game, depended upon its speed for gains. They have been holding back on their passes. They no doubt will be called to use everything they have next Saturday. The odds are very much against Nebraska, but the Cornhuskers are going to fight.

BULLDOGS TAKE LEAD IN VALLEY SCRAMBLE

Last Week's Results.
Drake 21, Ames 0, at Des Moines.
Kansas 7, Oklahoma 3, at Norman.
Missouri 4, Kansas Aggies 2, at Manhattan.

Games This Week.
Washington vs. Kansas at Lawrence.
Oklahoma vs. Missouri at Columbia.
Kansas Aggies vs. Grinnell at Grinnell.

Following another week of close scores in the Missouri Valley football scramble, the Drake Bulldogs from Des Moines stepped into the calcium glare and lead the conference with a pair of wins. The decisive victory over the Iowa stagers from Ames at Des Moines Saturday came as a surprise to local grid followers and stamps the northerners as one of the foremost contenders for the Valley gonfalon.
Drake recently trounced Grinnell, but the win was of minor importance since the latter are considered weak opponents, but from the week-end showing, Drake seems to have grasped firm hold on the mid-season titular laurels. From reports, Drake is well represented in every department of the gridiron game this fall and bids fair to keep a clean slate with but Kansas and Oklahoma remaining in the championship path.

Never before in the history of Valley competition has the dope been so upset as it has during the present season. Numerous teams have been crowned by bare two point "safety" margins. Missouri got a credit registered Saturday when the Aggies fell through the mud to lose after numerous fumbles, 4 to 2, and thus the Tigers overcame early season defeat at the hands of Ames, by the same two point separation.

Predictions Useless.
Oklahoma led at the half 3 to 0, against Kansas on their home play grounds, only to lose 7 to 3 to the Jayhawks. All conference tilts were played on muddy fields last week, thus making future predictions of less value than ever. Nebraska sat idle over the week end and watched the close mixes while Washington stepped over Drury to the tune of 6 to 0 and Grinnell romped away over a second-rate eleven.

Three important contests are on the bill for this week with the Missouri-Oklahoma tussel seeming to be the most promising. Kansas is expected to have a little trouble in disposing of Washington at St. Louis, while Grinnell is not likely to cause the Kansas Aggies much worry. The newcomers from Drake meet Coe College and are expected winners, while the Nebraska-Notre Dame tussel, although outside the Valley, is attracting the majority of optics.

The Cornhuskers, Kansas, and Drake hold the upper hand on the Valley standings, and the Huskers and Drake seem to have the edge over the Jayhawks. Should Drake defeat the Kansans in their meeting in the near future the Bulldogs would virtually have a Valley bunting tucked away, but should Kansas trounce the Drake combination, Nebraska would have the lone ownership of the Valley, providing the southerners would be downed before Turkey day.

Democrat students of Columbia University have united and formed a club. They are interested in practical politics and are anxious to participate in the forth coming election. They hope the Republican students will form a like club so that speaking contests can be held.

CROSS-COUNTRY RACE SCHEDULED THURSDAY

Every Entry May Represent Both College and Fraternity.

A cross-country race for anyone who may desire to run, will be held on Thursday of this week. The only men not eligible to compete are those having represented Nebraska in competition this fall and cross-country letter men.

The fraternity winning first place will be awarded a cross-country skin, and the first five freshmen to finish will be awarded special cross-country medals. The race will be three miles on the short course.

Each man who runs will represent his college, making it an inter-college meet, while each fraternity man who runs will be eligible to represent his fraternity, making it an inter-fraternity meet. The first five men to finish will score for their college, and the first three fraternity men will score for their fraternity.
