

Students Hear Both Sides of Klan Question

Dr. Walter Riley, student Congregational pastor, will address students at the world forum luncheon to be held at the Grand hotel Wednesday noon. He will speak on "The Klan and Americanism."

F. L. Cook, klansman from Omaha, addressed the group on October 24, presenting arguments for the Klan. At the Wednesday luncheon, Dr. Riley intends to refute the arguments presented by Mr. Cook. In this way the students will get both sides of this important question.

Reservations for the meeting can be made at the Y. M. C. A. or Y. W. C. A. The price for the dinner is 25 cents.

Iowa Dean Speaks to Nebraska Faculty

Dean Seashore of the University of Iowa is visiting the University this week as a representative of the National Research Council. This organization has sent him here to talk to the faculty on the problems of the unusually gifted student and the means that should be utilized to help him. He talked to forty faculty members yesterday at a luncheon at the University club. He expects to spend today in interviewing small groups of faculty from each of the departments.

Dean Seashore's name is familiar to any student who has taken elementary psychology as his textbook on neurology is used in the course. He is professor of psychology and dean of the Graduate College at Iowa.

Art Association Elects Officers

At a recent meeting of the Practical Arts Association, an organization whose members expect to teach practical art subjects after their graduation, the following officers are elected:

Howard Reed, president; Turner McNickle, vice president; David Jolot, secretary, and Leo Fisher, treasurer.

This association was started over a year ago. Monthly meetings are held at which speakers talk upon subjects which are not included in the curriculum. The last talk was "Wood Fibers," by Dr. R. J. Pool.

Four Go to Meeting of Ag Engineers

E. E. Brackett, F. R. Nohavec, O. W. Sjogren, and I. D. Wood, all of the department of agricultural engineering at the Agricultural College, are in Chicago this week attending the annual meeting of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers.

Wood is on the program for a paper on "Extension Methods in Agricultural Engineering."

Report Experiments to Feeders' Meeting

(University News Service) Summer experiments reports in cattle and hog feeding were available to those attending the annual Feeders' Meeting last Tuesday at the College of Agriculture.

In these summer feeding trials various methods in cattle, hog, and sheep raising were investigated with an eye to the most satisfactory grains and foods.

Another feeding comparison of calves, yearlings, two-year-olds, and three-year-olds similar to those of the past two winters will be conducted again this winter. A hog winter will test the comparative feeding experiment to be run this feeding values of white and yellow corn and alfalfa and tankage.

corner," he said. "I was sure that the girls saw me as one of them jumped back, but the others got excited and jumped in front of the car. I tried to avoid hitting them my swinging across the street, but the girls were directly in front and I was helpless." Ketelhut remained at the scene of the accident until the police arrived.

Roscoe S. Lenge, manager of the Skelly Oil company, who was at the station at the time of the accident, corroborated Ketelhut in his statement in regard to his speed. "He had just left the filling station and didn't have time to get up any speed."

Said Driver Was Going Fast.
Myrtle Allen, maid at the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity house, who walking directly behind the three girls, said that she herself narrowly avoided being struck.

"The car came around the corner pretty fast," she said. "It hit the girls when they were about half way between the curbing and the street car tracks. I am sure that he didn't sound his horn."

The parents of the victims arrived in Lincoln yesterday noon. The remains of Miss Meier will be taken to Scribner for burial.
