HUSKERS WILL BE HANDICAPPED IN GAME WITH AMES

Farmers Play at Home and Have Seen Nebraska in Action.

ABSENCE OF NOBLE TO CRIPPLE CORNHUSKERS

When the Huskers from the Corn State cross headgears with the Farmers from Ames, the Amesites will hold three distinct advantages; the most important one being the fact that they will be combatting on their home soil, another is Ames saw the Nebraska-Notre Dame game and consequently know just what their opponents will do in such a play, the third advantage is the great handicap to the Huskers of the absence of Dave Noble from the Husker backfield.

Big Dave will see the game from the sidelines because of the severe sprain he received in the first few minutes of the game with the invading Irish. Dave was clipped from behind and as a result is hobbling around on crutches. It will be remembered by all Husker followers that it was against the Ames aggregation last year that Dave hung up a record of three touchdowns in five minutes. Ames figures that Dave being out of the lineup brings their stock to a high peak.

In the workouts this week Gip Locke and Ced Hartman have been performing in Noble's station and have been reeling off some nice gains against the first-year men. It is a question just who Coach Dawson will start in Saturday's conflict. He may start with Captain Lewellen at quarter, the Dewitz brothers at half backs and Hartman at full or he may switch Rufe to full and use Locke and Herb at halves.

Ames cannot be under rated in the coming contest. They have a good team. They defeated the Missourians, who tied Nebraska 7 to 7. Ames will be out there fighting Nebraska (Continued on Page 4)

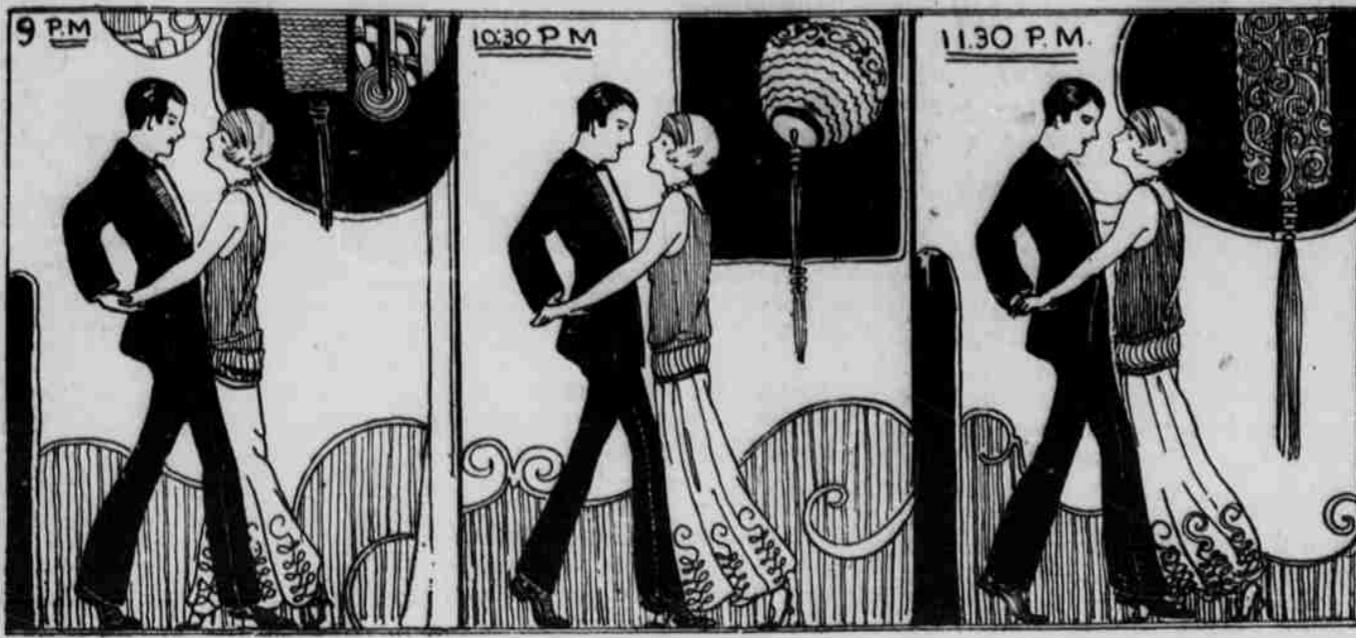

SOPHOMORES GET IN SHAPE FOR OLYMPICS

Final Tryouts for Athletes Will Be Held Sometime Next Week.

The sophomore class is rapidly moulding into a fighting organization. Already several of the athletes who are to enter the Olympics have been selected. With a wealth of material to select from the sophomores feel sure of winning most of the athletic events. The final tryouts for the remainder who will participate come off next week.

A list of all sophomore men is being secured and their presence Saturday, November 24, will be closely checked. It is absolutely necessary for every sophomore man to be there. The flag rush will be a contest between all of the representatives of both classes and since the winners get 25 points it will be hotly contested.

What's the Matter With This Picture?

A prize of three dollars will be awarded to the University student giving the best answer to the question, "What's the Matter With This Picture?" Kosmet Klub is sponsoring the contest. Answers shall be not over fifty words. The Klub reserves the right to reject any and all answers not satisfactory. Answers should be addressed, "Kosmet Klub, in care Student Activities Office, University of Nebraska, Lincoln, Nebraska," and must be received there by November 20. The picture represents a situation at our University and the answer must be in keeping with the picture.

TWENTY-NINE WIN POSITIONS ON RIFLE TEAM

Military Officers Chose Girls on Basis of Scores Made.

TO TAKE PART IN TELEGRAPHIC MEETS

Twenty-nine girls have been chosen for the All-University Nebraska Girls' Rifle team. Of this number the seven shooting the highest score will form a team which will be entered in intercollegiate meets.

About the first of January, Nebraska's team is planning to compete with some twelve other schools in a telegraphic meet. Each girl on the team will fire ten targets, after which the team scores will be added and compared with the scores of other schools. The school with the highest score wins the meet.

Thus far the officers of the Military department are producing some expert shots. Five girls have fired perfect scores. They are Kathro Kidwell, Irene Faulder, Jessie Hiett, Luella Reckmeyer, and Mary McCarthy.

Following is the team given in scores made; the highest being first: Kathro Kidwell, Irene Faulder, Jessie Hiett, Luella Reckmeyer, Mary McCarthy, Mary Ames, Florence Steffes, Betty Webster, Lois Putney, Helen McCarthy, Angela Fangman, Ruth Douglass, Dorothy Zust, Lois Richardson, Ruth Schrank, Helen Hansen, Pearl Safford, Jean Issenhuth, Irva Kirk, Alice Yoder, Jean McKay, Gertrude Kraxberger, Ruth Wright, Millie Kresensky, Elizabeth Armstrong, Marjorie Cowan, Zella Roope, Gladys Foster, Marie Hermanek.

H. P. K. Agersborg, formerly instructor in zoology at the University, has been appointed instructor in Williams College.

TO THE STUDENTS OF THE UNIVERSITY.

The Student Publication Board will receive applications until Saturday, November 17, for appointment to the following six positions on the editorial staff of The Daily Nebraskan for the second half of this semester:

Editor,
Managing Editor,
Four News Editors.

Information concerning the duties of these respective positions may be got at the office of the chairman (University hall 112).

Applicants are requested to submit evidence as to their qualifications for discharging the specific duties of the position for which they apply.

Application blanks may be got at the office of the chairman and of Secretary J. K. Selleck.

M. M. FOGG,
Chairman, Student Publication Board.

APPOINTMENTS TO STAFF OF ANNUAL MADE BY EDITOR

Helen Kummer, Marjorie Wyman and Paul Richardson Are Associate Editors.

EXECUTIVE STAFF BOOK ALSO SELECTED

Associate editors, the executive staff and the art and engraving editors and their assistants for the 1924 Cornhusker have been announced by Robert F. Craig, editor-in-chief.

The associate editors are Helen Kummer, Paul Richardson, and Marjorie Wyman. The executive staff consists of five persons: Knox Burnett, Amy Martin, Reed Reynolds, Buelah Butler, and Audley Sullivan. The work of the associate editors will consist in editorial work and they will act in an executive capacity; while the executive staff will consult with the editor on plans and details of the book.

Buelah Butler is to be the art editor of the book, Edward Buck is engraving editor and Charles Warren is his assistant, while Merle Hale is to be photographic editor, and as was announced yesterday Ruth Small will be office manager.

Everyone on the staff has had experience in his particular line of work either at this school or at some other. Helen Kummer was associate editor of the Daily Nebraskan last semester. Paul Richardson is at present one of the news editors of the Nebraskan, and also had experience on the "Illio" at the state university of Illinois. Marjorie Wyman served on the Nebraskan staff several semesters and was managing editor of the paper last semester.

The members of the executive staff have also had practical experience. Knox Burnett is now managing the "Blue Print" the engineering magazine. Amy Martin has been on the Cornhusker staff the past two years as has Reed Reynolds. Buelah Butler has been art editor of the annual (Continued on Page 4)

University Club Entertains Team

Nebraska's fighting Cornhuskers, the coaches, and a few other guests were entertained at a turkey dinner by the University Club last night. A huge table, in the form of a football, was set for the squad.

A four-course dinner (the menu of which it was said Coach Dawson made out) was served. During the dinner, the new members of the football squad were asked to give three minute talks on any subject that they might choose. Most of them took the opportunity to tell Coach Dawson what positions they thought that they had ought to play. The entire evening was spent in a jovial manner as a contrast to the severity and rigors of the training prior to the Notre Dame game.

Dr. Lida B. Earhart, chairman of the department of elementary education, spoke before the teacher's convention at Broken Bow last week.

"The Dover Road" to Be Presented Tonight

Tonight, the University Players will present "The Dover Road" at the Temple Theater. This is a play that was chosen by the patrons last year as one that they wished to see presented this year by the Temple Stock company.

The cast, under the direction of Miss H. Alice Howell and Herbert Yenne, has been working for several weeks in preparation for the presentation of this comedy. Tickets may be purchased at the Ross P. Curtice company or at the ticket office tonight.

CONKLIN BREAKS ANKLE IN OLYMPICS TRYOUTS

Accident Occurs While Freshman Is Engaged in Boxing Match.

Donald Conklin, freshman, was injured during the Olympic tryouts yesterday afternoon. His ankle was broken and badly dislocated, according to Doctor Harry Everett, who attended him.

Conklin was working out in the Armory in preparation for the Olympics. He was engaged in a boxing match, trying for a place on the frosh team which will oppose the sophomores on the day of the Syracuse game.

After his injury he was removed to the basement of the Armory where "Doc" McLean declared that he should be removed to the Lincoln Sanitarium. Conklin came to the University this fall from St. Paul, Nebr. He is a member of the freshman football squad, working at the left wing position. He is a member of Alpha Tau Omega.

MIDSEMESTER REPORTS TO COME IN SATURDAY

Delinquency in More Than Half of Hours to Merit Dismissal.

Midsemester reports are due at Dean Engberg's office Saturday noon. The scholarship committee will meet Thursday to consider delinquencies. Delinquency in one-half or more hours without an excuse acceptable to the committee will merit dismissal from the university.

Executive Dean Engberg said yesterday that chronic cases of bad eyesight will begin to evidence themselves next week as various students leave for home because their eyesight is failing. The dean said that the scholarship committee is composed of kind hearted men and women who are lenient to deserving students who have good excuses for being down in their studies, and who show determination to do better next semester. The committee is not disposed favorably to the sluffer. The professional sluffer will find no mercy at their hands.

Gold Watch Stolen From "Doc" McLean

A gold watch belonging to "Doc" McLean, who takes care of the Cornhusker football team, was taken from a drawer in Mr. Shade's desk in the basement of the Armory during the Notre Dame game last Saturday.

CORNCOB'S SELL MANY TICKETS FOR AMES TRIP

Pullmans Must Be Reserved by Students Before 6 p. m. Friday.

PEP ORGANIZATION IN CHARGE OF SALE

Over four hundred tickets for the special train to Ames were sold by the Corncobs on the first day of the sale, according to members of that organization last night. The pep organization is in charge of the ticket sale.

All holders of tickets should go to the city ticket office of the Burlington on Thirteenth street and exchange them for their round trip ticket to Ames. Holders of tickets must make Pullman reservations before 6 p. m. Friday.

Seven hundred seats have already been reserved and the Corncobs have adopted the slogan "700 to Ames." Information about the trip can be got from any Corncob. Tickets are also being sold at the student activities office and at Latch Brothers.

Corncobs selling tickets must check in unsold tickets and cash to Stow Witwer by 5:45 Friday. Money and tickets may be turned in after Friday noon at the Temple from 1 to 1:30 and from 4:30 to 5:45 p. m. The price of round trip tickets has been reduced to $10.70.

The Corncobs will handle all concessions on the train to and from Ames. Sandwiches, hot coffee, candy bars, peanuts, and apples will be served to hungry Huskers.

The special will leave Lincoln at 6 o'clock Saturday morning. By leaving at this time the students will have ample time to eat before the game. The train will start back after the parties Saturday night.

The stunt which the Corncobs gave between halves at the Notre Dame game was so well received that they will present it again for the crowd at Ames.

SYRACUSE TICKETS ARE SELLING FAST

Six Thousand Additional Seats to Be Ready for Next Game.

Tickets for the Syracuse game, November 24, are selling faster than they did for the Notre Dame game, according to John K. Selleck, athletic treasurer. Mail orders are coming in fast although the game is more than a week off.

The stadium and temporary bleachers accommodated 23,000 people for the Notre Dame game. By the time of the Syracuse game there will be 6,000 more seats in the stadium itself, but from indications all of the seats will be sold long before the day of the game.

Omaha wired yesterday for the third block of tickets. Two thousand reserved seats have already been sold in that city alone. Mr. Selleck advises that all students who have friends or members of the family who intend to see the game get their ticket right away, or they will not get very good seats, and perhaps will not get any at all.

Dean Engberg Asks That There Be No Hazing Before Class Battle

Students of the University of Nebraska:

It is with great sorrow that I have just read in this morning's issue of the Nebraskan an implication that there may be hazing after 9 p. m., Friday, November 23. I wish to call your attention to the fact that the Olympics were instituted to take the place of hazing and that the student body at that time gave the university a solemn promise that there should be no hazing in the future. We trust that the students of this year will be honorable enough to live up to this pledge of the past. The University cannot afford to have its name blackened by anything that may eventuate as did the hazing at the Northwestern University some two years ago. As the honor of the University depends on the action of each individual student, I sincerely trust that there is no one connected with the University this year who does not love the institution sufficiently to do all in his power, not merely to keep a promise in an honorable way, but also to do his best to secure from the remaining students true allegiance to the University.

I wish also to call your attention to the rally that will be held on the evening before the Olympics. The experience of the past has been that where two of our classes are afraid of each other the rally is a failure. I trust, therefore, that every student in the University will do his best to refrain from anything that will interfere with the first and most wonderful rally we have had yet. We need a united family in order to give the football team the strength necessary to beat Syracuse which I have been told has a stronger team than Notre Dame.

Very sincerely yours,
CARL C. ENGBERG,
Executive Dean.

MAKE SELECTIONS FOR CONVENTION MEMBERS

Thirty to Attend Student Volunteer Convention From University.

Thirty delegates to represent Nebraska at the Student Volunteer convention will be chosen this week from names recommended by the student pastors and those who have been handed to Miss Appleby or Mr. McCaffree. Some of the delegates were picked by the committee last night but no announcement will be made until all are chosen.

The Student Volunteer convention of Canada and the United States is said to be the largest gathering of students in the world. There will be delegates from every college in the country and many hundreds foreign students. Sherwood Eddy, Paul Harrison and Mary Baker, are among the leaders of the convention.

Maintain That Fight

Do not let that pre-Notre Dame spirit die students. You are not ready to relax. The team is not relaxing or even thinking that it can drift through the Ames battle. The Cyclones from Iowa are not set-ups, nor are they inferior. But they must be beaten!

Concede nothing, students. Just think that you are going to fight, that Nebraska must win his game, that your help will shove that ball across for the touchdown that will win the game. You must fight, every one of you. This will be an uneven battle, for Nebraska has more to win than Ames has.

Sing upon every opportunity. Give the chant, the cheers, and follow the team to Ames if possible. This is a critical period.

Nebraska must fight to beat Ames and you are a Nebraskan.
