NEBRASKA BEATS AMES.

Nebraska's "Fighting Cornhuskers" cleared another obstacle between them and the Valley charapionship yesterday when the Scarlet defeated the Ames Cyclones. As was expected, the Iowa team put up a hard fight, but the Huskers, still imbued with the spirit that enabled them to defeat Notre Dame in that never-to-be-forgotten contest last Saturday simply outclassed the Farmer eleven.

With the Ames game safely out of the way, Nebraska begins today to prepare for the most important task of the grid season, that of defeating Syracuse Saturday and avenging the defeat handed the Huskers by the Orange team last year.

Nebraskans may do well to realize that the Syracuse game will be the supreme test of the Husker eleven. Smarting under their defeat at the hands of Colgate, the Orange team, with only the one defeat on its record, is coming to Lincoln determined to whip the Huskers. Syracuse has one of the greatest teams in the east, and Nebraska must win.

If Nebraska would lose, the glory of the Notre Dame victory would be largely lost, and Husker prestige in the east would disappear.

Nebraska fight won the Notre Dame and Ames games, Nebraska fight can win the Syracuse game. Nebraska must peel the "Orange."

DO IT FOR NEBRASKA!

During your college career you will have occasions to display your ability and you will have opportunities to display the little bit of ill that is in you. Upon every occasion, at every opportunity, in every way, think that what you do will be done for Nebraska. Bear the great word, "Nebraska," in mind and always, Do it for Nebraska.

You are Nebraska, your actions are those of a Nebraskan, your honors are Nebraska honors, your failings are Nebraska failings, but you are here to work for this institution. You have a definite place in its progress. You are expected to give all that you have, as the athlete does, as the coach does, as the professor does. Whether your action be minor or great, whether your duty be difficult or easy, remember that you Do it for Nebraska.

With the true Husker fighting spirit, the Nebraska harriers "came back" yesterday by finishing third in the Valley run against eight schools. The Husker runners had not scored a victory all season, and were scheduled to finish in the cellar position. The same spirit that defeated Notre Dame last Saturday carried the Scarlet runners into third place, and so today Nebraska is celebrating the fine performance of the hill and dale team.

"Agricultural Insurance" by J. O. Rankin, associate professor of rural economics at the College of Agriculture, is the leading article in a recent number of The Journal of Insurance and Financial Statistics. Of this journal it has been said by one insurance writer, "It seems to fill the same place in insurance circles that the North American Review, or the Atlantic Monthly, does in literary circles."

Dr. Cliff S. Hamilton, assistant professor in the department of chemistry, has, in the November issue of the Journal of the American Chemical Society, a paper on "Arsenated N-Arylamino Alcohols." This article is a report of the work done by Dr. Hamilton while working in the department of pharmacology of the University of Wisconsin.

Chester P. Burt, A.B. (Certificate of Journalism), '23, is in charge of editorial work on the Aurora Republican.

G. W. Rosenlof of the department of education, Teachers College, spoke on "The Teacher and His Task" before the weekly conference of Sunday school workers at the Y.W.C.A. Friday evening.

The department of geography is receiving many requests from teachers in Nebraska for sets of specimens to illustrate the structure and soils of the state. These are furnished free, except the expense of packing and mailing.

Prof. C. J. Frankforter of the department of chemistry, lieutenant-colonel of infantry of the reserve officers corps, was elected first vice-president at the recent meeting of that organization.

Dr. Charles Fordyce of Teachers College spoke at father-and-son banquets at Peru and Seward recently. On Friday evening he addressed the Parent-Teacher association of West Point on "Tom and His Teacher."

cur, it is obtainable in almost every town and hamlet in the country. The Buick has all the features of the high class car, yet sells for much less than other cars of the same class. Next time your father or mother are in Lincoln take them on an inspection tour through the Nebraska Buick Auto Company, which is one of the largest businesses of its kind in the world.

Hats for Happy Occasions.

Everyone likes to celebrate occasionally. And there is no better way to invest your money for celebrating purposes than in a new hat. I know where you can find the loveliest ones of satin, taffeta, and faille in all the gay new colors or in black with bright flowers. There are metallic and brocaded ones as well. Just think you can get one of these hats for $5.00 on the third floor of Ben Simon & Sons.

Greetings for Christmas.

Do you know that you can have your own greeting and name beautifully embossed on Christmas cards for the same price as for the name only? Latsch Brothers, whose store is a 1118 O street, are featuring this correct and attractive style of Christmas Greetings. This is in much better taste than engraving or printing on cards that already have a greeting, as it is impossible to match types perfectly. Your own greeting and name in the same type gives your cards a more personal touch, and shows that you are giving your personal greeting cards particular consideration. Latsch Brothers have 100,000 Christmas Kards from Keating on display at their store and you should most assuredly look over their large selection.

Duty Made Pleasant.

Do you dread writing letters? The new stationery at Rector's Pharmacy will make you so anxious to send it to your friends that the old bugaboo will disappear. For men they have the large gray sheets with the deckled edge. For women they have paper with beautiful lined envelopes. Some are so lovely and delicate that they have outside envelopes to keep them from being soiled.

In the College World

UTAH—A challenge has been received by the captain of the rifle team for a match between the University of Nebraska and the Utah Agricultural College team. The match will be a telegraphic shoot, a regular United States army officer to certify to scores at both institutions. The challenge was quickly accepted and the team which will shoot against the Cornhuskers will be selected soon.

MINNESOTA—Deep maroon and brilliant gold balloons tightly held in small gloved hands of excited co-eds and enthusiastic alums will express the festive feeling of all legal Minnesotians at their Homecoming game. The balloons are to be released from the crowds simultaneously at the moment of the Kick off, thus filling the air with a splendor of color strikingly symbolic of the hopes which go up from the hearts of the spectators.

MINNESOTA—Dean F. J. Kelly of University of Minnesota has presented a report compiled from a survey of the colleges of liberal arts of thirteen representative colleges
