HUSKER CRIPPLES GIVEN DAYS REST

No New Wounds From Battle
With Orange; Second String Scrimmages.

OLD INJURIES STILL WORRYING COACHES

The crippled Husker football machine enjoyed a much needed rest Monday afternoon when Head Coach Dawson declared a recess for all pigskin warriors who saw service in the Syracuse fray. A short scrimmage with the freshmen was staged by a second string combination.

The coaching staff are fighting frantically to recuperate the injured cogs in the Husker machine for the Turkey day encounter with the forward-passing eleven from Manhattan.

No new injuries are reported as a result of Saturday's battle, but many on the squad are suffering from injuries received in the Ames game.

Injuries Still Numerous

Ced Hartman's ankle is bothering him and he cannot be on it for any length of time.

Captain Lewellen has a sore leg and a bruised arm.

Dave Noble's ankle is whipping into good shape but at present he is afflicted with a severe cold.

Herb Dewitz's leg is sore and painful as a result of some of the bumps he received Saturday, and it is doubtful if he will be able to don a uniform before the game Thursday.

MacGlasson may be able to get in suit Wednesday night for a light workout. The rest of the squad will be in good shape for the last game.

Line Played Great Game

The Husker forward wall played a wonderful defensive game against Syracuse. Noble, who played left end for Syracuse, said, "Without a doubt Nebraska has the best line we have struck this year. We used plays that were good for first downs against strong eastern teams but the best they would yield us was one or two yards." He said further that if Syracuse hadn't resorted to the aerial game in the last quarter they wouldn't have scored because everyone on the team realized the power of Nebraska's line and the speed of her backfield. It was his opinion that Nebraska would have little trouble in turning back Colgate.

The Kansas Aggie football team has, without a fraction of doubt, the best forward-passing combination in this section of the country. Schwartz was given all-Valley quarter last year. He can kick, pass with either hand, hit the line, and run the ends. His running mate, Stark, takes great delight in pounding the line.

Aggies Not Pushovers.

Many fans seem to think this game will be sort of a one-way affair but condition of the squad will handicap the players considerably and no one should think that this game is going to be anything but the hardest fought game of the year.

Everyone knows how another team in the Valley fights to beat Nebraska. Kansas Aggies also hold that record. If they win from Nebraska it takes from the Huskers the Missouri Valley title which they have held for several years. This game will be for Nebraska, the crucial game of the season. The Aggies have a good record behind them this year. They were ringside spectators at the Syracuse-Nebraska game and they have Nebraska's formations and plays down in their little books for future reference. Every man could be seen taking notes on just what his man did on every play. Last week, the Aggies played their game with Oklahoma a day ahead of schedule so they could take in the game up here the following day.

Everything points to a hard battle and gloom in the Husker camp as long as the team is carrying severe injuries.

Library Staff Will Hold First Regular Meeting Tonight

In accordance with the plan of Librarian Malcolm G. Wyr, the first of a series of monthly meetings of the staff of the University library will be held Tuesday evening. Following dinner various problems of library work will be discussed. With the addition of a political science library this year the staff was increased to thirty members.

To Give Series of Parties for Co-eds

A series of three parties will be given for all University women, who have been divided into three groups, "kernels," "husks," and "tassels." Saturday afternoon the kernels will have a party at Ellen Smith hall from 2:30 until 5 o'clock. The freshman commission will give a skit. The social and membership committees under Lois Thompson and Ruth Small are planning these parties jointly.

OFFER FREE ANNUAL IN SLOGAN CONTEST

Best Name or Saying to Advertise
1924 Cornhusker to Win Copy of Book.

A free copy of the 1924 Cornhusker, Nebraska's year book, will be given to the student submitting the best slogan or name for the annual, before next Friday night. A similar contest was held last year and the name "Your Cornhusker" was chosen.

Boxes will be placed at the main entrance of Social Science building and University hall to receive contributions. Students are not limited to one suggestion but may hand in as many as they choose. A staff committee headed by the editor will be the judges and the winner will be announced next week in the Daily Nebraskan.

"Names which are short and catchy which will fit the big annual, and which will attract attention, are the ones which will be most favorably considered." David Richardson, business manager, said yesterday.

A certificate will be awarded to the successful contestant, entitling him or her to a free copy of the book when it comes out next spring. The editors wish to emphasize the fact that an annual as well as a football team needs a name by which it will be known more popularly.

The winner of last year's contest was T. Pierce Rogers, a senior in the college of Arts and Sciences. His title, "Your Cornhusker," was chosen from about five hundred suggestions turned in. The staff hopes that even more students will compete this year.

AGAIN OFFER NIGHT CLASSES IN OMAHA

Extension Division Institutes
Business Courses in Nebraska Metropolis.

To give a thorough training in the science of business the College of Business Administration in co-operation with the University Extension division, has instituted evening classes, so that business men and women of Nebraska who cannot attend the regular day classes may have a share in the advantages offered.

For the past three years evening classes have been held in Omaha under the auspices of the Omaha Chamber of Commerce, giving instruction in accounting, advertising, business English, and salesmanship.

The membership of the five classes has exceeded 1,600. Because of the interest shown by the people of Omaha, the work will be continued this year and additional courses will be given.

For the first semester, beginning November 26, two new courses are offered. Dean LeRossignol is giving a course in economics. Professor Weber of the department of philosophy is teaching industrial psychology. There will be one lecture by each man every week.

Dean LeRossignol's latest book, "Economics for Every Man," which has just been published, will be used as a textbook in the course.

Professor Weber's experience in the mental testing division of the army, in the University of Nebraska psycho-clinic, in the Boston Hospital, and in Harvard University has given him much practical knowledge of group psychology and personnel administration.

The University will also offer extension courses during the second semester, beginning February 18, in accounting, business English, dramatic literature, economics, education and psychology.

Fight, Nebraska, Fight!

"BEAT NEBRASKA" is the battlecry which has been ringing in the ears of the Kansas Aggie grid warriors ever since their defeat by the Cornhuskers last year!

"BEAT NEBRASKA" is the slogan which followed the Aggies thru every workout and practice during spring football!

"BEAT NEBRASKA" is the war whoop which has echoed back and forth across the Aggie campus before and after every Aggie or Nebraska football game this season!

Students, the Kansas Aggies are invading Cornhusker land Thursday to "Beat Nebraska!" The Aggies are coming with a great football team,—a team with perhaps the greatest forward-passing attack in America today,—a team composed of veteran fighters,—a team in perfect physical condition,—a team moulded and developed for the express purpose of "beating Nebraska!"

Nebraska! Students! The distant echo of that ominous chant, "Beat Nebraska" is sounding in Cornhusker land! What are you going to do, students?

Fight, students! Fight, Nebraska!

At the rally Wednesday night, Nebraska's Fighting Student Body must arise and drown out the threatening cry of the oncoming Aggies with a glorious song of victory for Nebraska!

So long as the seating capacity of the stadium is sufficient to accommodate all paid admissions to football games, this plan of letting Lincoln school children into the games free of charge can be followed.

The club is an organization of Lincoln school children between the ages of nine and fourteen. There is no qualification on membership except this age limit. Membership cards may be obtained at the city Y. M. C. A. for boys and the city Y. W. C. A. for girls.

To Postpone Festival on Account of Rally

To the Students:
The "Know Nebraska" festival has been postponed at the request of the coaches in favor of the great rally the school holds this Wednesday night. Within the next few weeks the festival will be staged as it has now been planned. The question is, how well do you know Nebraska? This festival will help you answer that question and make you realize the greatness of Nebraska U. For that rally—let every Cornhusker be there. Wednesday night, November 28, at 7 o'clock.

Evans of Hastings college lead the field to the finish, but by mistake went fifty yards out of the way and placed second. Tanner was the third man to finish.

In the high school division of the Y.M.C.A. meet Hastings was victor, placing a first, second, third, fifth, and sixth. Wilber took second place. Walker, Likely and McLean were the first three men to finish in the high school.

The races were started in front of the Y.M.C.A. The college section ran four miles and the high school section two.

Five hundred mavericks are to be branded at the Red Triangle ranch in the annual roundup of the city Y.M.C.A. on November 26, 27, and 28, under the direction of George Christian, general boss, and John Fuhrer, wrangler.

"Ride 'em cowboy," is the slogan for the campaign, and many thrills are promised in a big parade sporting cowboys in full regalia. The purpose of the round-up is to present the special feature of a Y membership to the business men and young men of Lincoln.

Prof. Scott, and Capt. Lew-ellen Are Speakers.

HOLD FINAL GATHERING IN ARMORY WEDNESDAY

The last football rally of the year will be held tomorrow night at the Armory. Students will have their last chance to show their appreciation and confidence in the team before the Huskers face the Kansas Aggies on the gridiron Thursday.

Speakers at the rally will be Coach Henry F. Schulte, Professor R. D. Scott, Coach Fred Dawson, and Captain Verne Lewellen. The band and the cheer leaders will lead the songs and cheers. Welch Pogue, president of the Innocents, will preside.

This will be the last rally for many of the team. The Thanksgiving battle is expected to call forth the utmost from every man on the team in order to retain a hold on the Valley championship. The Kansas Aggie team and the whole school is determined to win. They are out in earnest to avenge last year's defeat and their team is well capable of playing a strong game, according to scouts.

"Be at that rally and back the team," is the slogan adopted for the last football rally of the year.

CONFERENCE TO FORM NATIONAL FRATERNITY

Greek Organizations Will Meet
in New York November 30 and December 1.

New York.—A full-fledged national college fraternity, stretching from coast to coast, will be formed at the annual interfraternity conference to be held at the Hotel Pennsylvania November 30 and December 1. This will be the first time that a national society will have been brought into being full grown.

The formation of the new fraternity follows a lengthy investigation by the interfraternity conference which led it to the opinion that far too few college men are given the opportunity of fraternity fellowship. Invitations were sent to most of the local fraternities in the United States to be present at a meeting held in conjunction with the annual interfraternity conference for the purpose of forming at least one new national fraternity.

More than fifty locals have already signified their intention of being present for that purpose. In addition thirty-two interfraternity councils are sending undergraduate delegates, some coming from as far as California. A score of educators, among them several college presidents, will be present to join in the discussions of college and fraternity problems with the conference delegates, who will number about 250.

Former Student Dies As Result of Burns

Alberta VanKleek, formerly a student in Teachers College, died late Saturday evening as a result of severe burns acquired while starting a fire in her school room about a week ago. She has been teaching in Walt Hill, Nebr.

What's the Matter With This Picture?

Another amusing wrong answer received in the Kosmet Klub contest for the prize answer to, "What's the Matter with the Picture?" follows:

"In my observation of the picture I note that the girl is leading. This brings out the fact that more students should learn how to dance. I have noticed at the mixers there are many wall flowers. Girls are willing to teach fellows how to dance."

That may be true, but you'll find a better and the correct answer in the Thanksgiving edition of the Nebraskan.
