

EUROPEAN STUDENTS ARE MANUFACTURING

"Self-Help" Enterprises Are Now Sponsored by the Relief Organization

The sponsoring of "self-help" enterprises is one of the most important methods by which European Student Relief carries on its work of aiding students of central Europe to educate themselves against tremendous odds.

Student manufacturers are pioneers in Poland. A small shop for the manufacture of soap, ink, and shoe dressing was established in Warsaw less than two years ago. Today a carpenter shop, a university press, and a book-binding establishment have been included in a program which provides also for an enlargement of the original schemes. At first the students confined their activities to small enterprises, but in the autumn of 1922 they secured and filled a contract from the government calling for 30,000 kilograms of shoe dressing. Their ink, soap, and shoe dressing are known in the markets of Warsaw as the purest obtainable.

Ten homes house 750 students in Prague, Czechoslovakia. When Czech students found that lodgings were unobtainable, they went to work with pick and spade, hammer and saw, to provide shelter for themselves.

This building enterprise was such an innovation that thousands flocked to see the students at work. Profiting from this curiosity, the students placed a temporary fence around the grounds and charged admission of all desired to make a close inspection of men students wielding picks and women students cooking meals for these workmen.

No one is permitted to live in these dormitories who gave less than 200 hours of work to their erection. The majority of students now occupying them gave 800 hours or more.

Wilson Addresses Y.W.C.A. Vespers

"The Relation of Christianity to Labor and Industrial Problems," was the subject of a talk made by Ben Wilson, well known lecturer, at Y. W. C. A. Vespers Tuesday. Ruth Carpenter led the meeting. Special music was furnished by a trio made up of Burdette Taylor, Alice Miller and Dorothy Compton.

Wilson says that labor has the problem of organizing itself so that every man, woman and child will have a just share of the material things that make life worth while. This labor problem is the basis of every other problem that is bothering the world. It wrecked the peace treaty. It has plunged us into the wars that are such a terrible commentary on civilization.

A western poet visualizes "that great day to come when we will no longer use men to make money but use money to make men." Commenting on this non-material attitude, Mr. Wilson feels that the industrial problem must be adjusted by educating men to a spiritual way of thinking which must then be made to function politically through organization.

Factory labor problems are studied in a course recently inaugurated by the department of industrial education and applied arts of the University of Wisconsin.

Prof. J. B. Burt is conducting a research in collaboration with Dr. Kremers of the University of Wisconsin into the "Effect of Sunlight on Citric Acid in the Presence of Ferric Salts." This explains the liberation of carbon dioxide from citric acid in the presence of sunlight from such mixtures as elixir of iron, quinine and strychnine and all elixirs of iron where they are rendered soluble by the presence of citric acid.

The Nebraska Board of Pharmacy examiners held its yearly examination at the College of Pharmacy, November 13 to 16. Twenty-two applicants appeared before them.

To Postpone Festival on Account of Rally

To the Students:
The "Know Nebraska" festival has been postponed at the request of the coaches in favor of the great rally the school holds this Wednesday night. Within the next few weeks the festival will be staged as it has now been planned. The question is, how well do you know Nebraska? This festival will help you answer that question and make you realize the greatness of Nebraska U. For that rally—let every Cornhusker be there. Wednesday night, November 28, at 7 o'clock.
STUDENT COUNCIL

Co-Eds Organize Friendship Clubs

"Kernels," "Husks," and "Tassels" are three new co-ed clubs to be organized for the purpose of promoting spirit and friendship among women students. These clubs will be sponsored by the Y.W.C.A. membership and social committees under Ruth Small and Lois Thompson.

Every woman student will be asked to affiliate with one of these three clubs. Meetings will probably be held once a month, and no membership fee will be charged.

Invitations to 700 students will be issued today for the "Kernels" party which will be given Saturday afternoon from 2:30 to 5 o'clock at Ellen Smith Hall. The program will include an original skit, given by the freshman commission, and attractive games. Earlyne Herriott, Josephine Purcell, Mary Wigton, and Helen Thompson are in charge of this party.

The "Husks" will organize at a Christmas party on December 8, and the "Tassels" will give their initial party on December 15.

Prof. J. B. Burt of the College of Pharmacy has been chosen one of the twelve men in the United States by Dr. A. G. Dumez to assist him in the editing of the "Yearbook of the American Pharmaceutical Association." This book is a report on the progress of pharmacy in its particular field of science.

Supt. J. A. True of the McCook public schools addressed thirty-five active members of Phi Delta Kappa, honorary educational society of the University, at the Grand hotel Thursday evening, on phases of the financing problem in public education. Superintendent True is one of a committee which is making a special study of conditions of public school finance in this state.

Dean W. E. Sealock of Teachers College and Principal C. W. Taylor of Teachers College high school spoke last week at an education-week teachers convention at Peru.

J. M. Craig of Kentucky has sent to the College of Pharmacy plants of sassafras and phytolacca with the request that the cultivation of them be attempted in the college drug plant garden.

The University of Nebraska branch of the American Association of University Professors met at luncheon at the Grand hotel Wednesday.

Big business needs big men

There is room and need for capable men in all the allied activities of big business. But nowhere is there greater need or greater opportunity than in that very essential service to all business—Insurance (Fire, Marine and Casualty).

Insurance, as a profession, affords contact with the most vital activities of the commercial and industrial world.

The Insurance Company of North America, the oldest American Fire and Marine Insurance Company, has been an integral part of big business since 1792 and the earliest beginning of national affairs. Out of this long experience it urges those who are about to choose a calling to consider the world-wide influence of the insurance field.
