

FIRST FORMAL COMES TONIGHT

Season Officially Opened by Military Ball Featured by Grand March

CADET OFFICERS HELP DECORATE AUDITORIUM

The military ball will officially open the University formal season with a bang to-night, according to general chairman Monroe D. Gleason. The decoration committees and as many of the cadet officers association as could be present were decorating the Auditorium all day yesterday. The work will be continued today since the decorations are so intricate that it will require a large crew of men at least two days to complete them. Great quantities of streamers, serpents, balloons, and other decorations will be used. Sabers, machine guns, one pounders, flags and other military regalia will be evident in profusion at the ball. Several novel ideas in decoration stunts have been worked out and will enliven the party. A hundred pounds of confetti will make the last dance memorable.

Ten side booths containing furniture given by sororities will line the walls for use of the dancers. Another booth at the end will dispense refreshments. A ten piece orchestra will furnish the music.

Besides the three hundred couples admitted by tickets, sixty-two honorary guests will be present. Formal invitations were also sent to the student colonels and the members of all the R. O. T. C. units in the Seventh Corps Area.

The feature of the ball will be the presentation of the honorary colonel and the grand march of cadet officers. All who are not cadet officers will view the march and presentation from the balconies. The colonel and the honorary colonel will lead the grand march which will culminate in a dance for the cadet officers only. This ceremony is a very impressive and pretty one and is a tradition of the annual military balls.

WOMEN GIVE PARTY FOR POOR CHILDREN

Twenty-five Unfortunate Children to be Entertained by Association

The annual W. A. A. Christmas party for poor children is to be given either Tuesday or Wednesday, December 18 or 19, from 4 to 6 p. m. Every year the Women's Athletic association entertains about twenty-five children at a party. The association trims a tree and buys gifts for the children. Each child receives a toy; some needed article of clothing, such as gloves, underwear, or stockings; and candy.

The following committees have been chosen to arrange for the party: Family and gifts—Katherine Krieg, chairman, Margaret Hymer.

Transportation—Jessie Hielt chairman, Sylvia Kuncze.

Decoration—Claire Miller, chairman, Dorothy Supple.

Refreshments—Katherine McDonald, chairman, Bertha Erickson.

Entertainment—Dorothy Dougan, chairman, Meda Fisher.

COMMERCIAL CLUB SCHEDULES DINNER

The University Commercial Club will hold its second monthly dinner next Tuesday evening at the Grand hotel at 6 o'clock. The dinner will be open to Commercial Club members only, according to Bennett S. Martin, chairman of the banquet committee.

Prominent business men and faculty members will be on the toast list. After the speeches a short business meeting will be held.

Tickets for the dinner will go on sale soon. Philip Lewis has charge of the sale and announces that the price of the tickets will be 50 cents.

Senate Club Will Discuss Immigration

Immigration will be discussed by the members of the Senate Club this Friday evening, December 7, at 7 o'clock in Law 101. It is open to the public, and all are invited.

Should immigration be further restricted, and what should be done with Ellis Island, are questions that have been receiving attention in the press recently. They are also two of the most vital questions before the present Congress.

PLAYERS STAGE FAMOUS DRAMA

Miss Alice Howell, Hart Jenks
Herbert Yenne are in Leading Roles.

HAUGSETH DESIGNS SCENERY FOR PLAY

With a prologue that approached being humorous, and a conclusion which, in its dramatic and human appeal, moved the audience to tears, the University Players presented the famous melodrama "Madame X" in the Temple auditorium last night.

Taken as a whole, the acting was superb, with Miss Alice Howell, Herbert Yenne and Hart Jenks in the leading roles. Cyril Coombs did some very good acting and received many laughs.

In comparison with the rest of the play, the prologue was decidedly poor, but as the play progressed, it improved until it approached perfection at the denouement.

The scenery which was specially designed by Mr. Haugseth, instructor in the School of Fine Arts, was good. The setting in the last act, that of the court room, was exceptionally well done and appropriate.

The play "Madame X" is one of the best known to modern audiences. It deals with a mother who is turned out of her husband's house because of her desertion and who finally sees and is saved by her son to whom she is unknown.

The acting was very difficult but was done very satisfactorily. The court room scene, which was by far the most difficult of all, was so realistic and so well done, that nothing but a god impression could have been left with the audience.

COSMOPOLITAN CLUB TO BE REORGANIZED

Society of Foreign Students
Revived; Will Receive New Members Soon

The Cosmopolitan club, a society mainly for foreign students, which was organized at the University before the war but has been inactive since that time, is being revived and will soon receive new members.

The first steps in the reorganization were taken last year but the club was not made operative at that time. Earl Smith, who was elected president last spring, is directing the work.

Membership has been restricted to men, but this year the plans are to admit women also. All foreign students and a limited number of American students are eligible to membership. The club endeavors to foster a spirit of cosmopolitan friendship between foreign and American students.

The club will hold an open meeting Sunday afternoon, December 9, at 3 o'clock in Faculty hall. Dr. Louis Gray will speak on, "Religions of India."

Engineers Hear Fee and Engberg Speak

O. J. Fee and Dean Carl Engberg spoke Thursday morning at the monthly meeting of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

Mr. Fee discussed the many engineering problems with which he has to deal. He emphasized the fact that in the present age, any profession calls for a certain amount of salesmanship ability.

Dean Engberg gave a fifteen minute talk on "Know these things well of which ye speak lest ye not have faith."

All Because She Had Waited

She came to the business manager, crying,—crying because she had made a mistake; because she had been negligent.

Her picture was not in the 1924 Cornhusker.

She had disregarded repeated warnings. She had laughed at the requests made by the staff. That was in January. Today, May 15, she came to the business manager, crying knowing that it was useless to feel repentant, but gaining consolation from telling him the lesson that she had learned.

And, above all, she had sold the Cornhusker on the campus. She had bought one and she had been vitally interested in the progress of "the Pioneering Cornhusker," but she had neglected to go to Dole's.

You will have plenty of opportunity to have your picture taken—but the sales campaign ends today. Be certain that your name is on the list of those who have ordered their 1924 Cornhusker.

Each subscription entitles the subscriber to vote for five men and five women who he thinks are representative Nebraskans. The vote has been very heavy so far, and the race is close among the leading twenty. This morning is the last chance to vote, as the balloting closes at noon. The ten leading men and women at the close of yesterday's balloting, were the following:

Women

Amy Martin, Ruth Miller, Ruth Small, Josephine Schramek, Helen Kummer, Jean Holtz, Emily Ross, Edith Olds, Gertrude Thomson, Julia Sheldon.

Men

Verne Lewellen, Dave Noble, Dietrich Dirks, Charles Mitchell, Welch Pogue, Carl Kruger, Herbert Brownell, Kenneth Cozier, Robert Craig, Stephen King.

A page in the Cornhusker will be given to each of the ten leading students. These pages will constitute a special section in the annual of 1924.

Plans for the 1924 book, according to the editor, are for a larger and more representative yearbook. The size will be the enlarged to 9 by 12 inches in contrast to the 8 1/2 by 11 of previous years. The number of pages will also be increased. The price of the book, however, is not increased, and remains at $4.50, with an initial payment of $2.50.

The two winning sororities will be announced in Sunday's Daily Nebraskan, and the trophy books will be awarded them when the Cornhuskers are published. The twenty representative Nebraskans will also be announced Sunday. The ten who receive the most votes will not be announced until the Cornhusker is issued.

Work on the book is well under way and will probably be distributed earlier than usual.

Four Girls Elected to Literary Society

Four new members, Corine Anderson, Elizabeth Thrallkill, Marie Mengers, and Lillian L. Fitzpatrick have been elected to Chi Delta Phi, national literary sorority. Chi Delta Phi is organized as an alumni association with a student membership. Such prominent Nebraskans as Dorothy Canfield, Bess Streeter Aldrich, Dr. Louise Pound, Dr. Laura Pfeiffer, Mrs. Keene Abbott, Mrs. John E. Almy, Ruth Bryan Owen, and Elsie Cather are members of this chapter. Membership is based on literary ability and recommendation of faculty members.

Y. W. PLANS ANNUAL BAZAAR NEXT WEEK

The annual Y. W. C. A. bazaar will be held in Ellen Smith hall next week on December 12, 13, and 14. A meeting of the general committee, composed of representatives from every sorority, rooming house, and dormitory, was held Tuesday evening and plans were made, and sub-committees were appointed for the affair.

The purpose of the bazaar is to raise money to buy food for poor families at Christmas and to send girls to the national Y. W. C. A. convention to be held next summer in New York City.

CORNHUSKER PARTY COMES NEXT WEEK

Award Prizes for Costumes at Annual Affair
December 14.

Prizes will be awarded to the girls who wear the prettiest, the funniest, and the most unique costumes at the girls' annual Cornhusker party to be held in the Armory December 14.

Every girl present may cast votes on the costumes, for all girls will be judges. The party will begin at 7 and last until 10:30, and the judging will take place early in the evening. All girls must come in costume. The admission is 25 cents.

A skit by the University Players will be the main feature of entertainment. The Pollyanna Syncopators, a girls' orchestra, will furnish music for dancing. The Silver Serpent's annual circus will be held at this party, instead of being held in the spring, and there will also be other side shows. The Silver Serpents and the Mortarboards will have concessions.

The Girls' Cornhusker party has become a tradition, and it is an annual project of W. S. G. A. The men's Cornhusker banquet will be held the same night at the Scottish Rite Temple.

Will Give Party for Post Graduate Women

A party for post graduate women will be given by Mortarboard today at Ellen Smith hall from 4 to 6 o'clock. Invitations have been sent out. A program has been arranged and refreshments will be served.

DE MOLAY TO HOLD MEMORIAL SERVICE

Lincoln chapter, Order of DeMolay, will hold a memorial service to which the public is invited at 3 o'clock Sunday, at the Scottish Rite Temple. The ceremony will be to honor the memory of the two boys who have died in the history of Lincoln chapter, Emil Deuser and Luther Norris.

This service is one of the few DeMolay ceremonies that is open to the non-Masonic public. It will be staged by the officers in full ceremonial dress, under the direction of Wendell Berge, master counselor.

There will also be special music on the program, including numbers by the DeMolay quartet. In addition to the regular officers, Robert F. Craig, past master counselor, will assist in part of the ceremonial work. The entire service will last less than an hour.

BURROUGHS GIVES DINNER TO GRIDMEN

Members of the 1923 Cornhusker football team and coaching staff wish to extend their appreciation to Mr. Burrough of the Burrough's Cafe for his kindness.

Mr. Burrough gave a banquet Thursday evening in honor of the twenty-one letter men of the Husker grid team and the coaching staff last evening at his cafe and the table spread was rated as "best yet" by all gridsters present.

ANNUAL BANQUET IS NEXT FRIDAY

Letter Men and Coaching Staff to Be Honored at Season Windup.

TRADITIONAL AFFAIR TO BE LARGER THAN EVER

The annual windup of the Nebraska football season will be held next Friday evening, December 14, at the Scottish Rite Temple when it is expected that 1200 University men will celebrate the successful 1923 gridiron season at the Cornhusker banquet. The twenty-one football letter men of the past season will be present, and together with the coaching staff will be the honored guests of the coming feast.

This is the one big chance for all University men to rejoice over the recent grid season as well as the successful completion of the Memorial Stadium. Last year's banquet was the largest ever seen at Nebraska and plans are well under way to make the coming event even better than the 1922 affair. The committee of innocents in charge of the Cornhusker banquet has a full program for next Friday night including two orchestras, the Serenaders and the Kandy Kids, who will furnish music during the banquet.

Tickets for the Cornhusker banquet will be put on sale today in the Student Activities office for $1.00 and for the convenience of the students each fraternity house has been issued tickets.

The Vikings and Iron Sphinx will also sell tickets on the campus during the coming week. "Buy your ticket early" is the appeal of the committee in charge. By setting the price at one dollar the committee gives the banquet at nearly cost and in order to handle the meal in the most economical way, it will be necessary to know how many will attend by Thursday afternoon.

Next Friday night has also been set aside for the annual co-ed's cos-

DE MOLAY VARIETY SHOW DATE FIXED

Annual Performance Comes
January 7-8; Coombs is Author of Revue

The annual DeMolay variety show will be held at the Orpheum theater Monday and Tuesday, January 7 and 8. The performance will be given in the form of a musical revue written and directed by C. L. Coombs.

Tryouts for the leads and chorus of the production will be held Monday evening, December 10, in room 24, Teachers College at 8 o'clock. The committee in charge of the variety show is anxious to have any girl with singing and dancing ability to try out. Those interested in the coming show should call Gregg Watson, manager, at the DeMolay office between 12 and 1:30 today and tomorrow at B1571. Tryouts will also be held for a ten minute introduction play with a cast of three.

SIX HUNDRED "HUSKS" INVITED TO Y. W. PARTY

Dancing and Games Will be Entertainment for Second of Series

Six hundred invitations have been issued to the "Husks" for Saturday as the second of the three parties being sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. membership and social committees under Ruth Small and Lois Thompson. The "Kernels" had their party last week as the opening one of the series.

Dancing and games will be the entertainment from 2:30 to 4:30 at Ellen Smith hall. A program will be given by the freshman commission. Josephine Altman and Winifred Steele are on the membership committee and Gertrude Lynch and Viola Forcell are working on the social committee for this party.

Promotion of closer friendships and of a spirit of unity among University women are the purposes of these parties. Discussions and more practical programs will probably be adopted by these groups after they are more fully organized.

Cosmopolitan Club Holds Open Meeting

Dr. E. L. Hinman, professor in the department of philosophy, will speak on "Theistic Development in Buddhism" in comparison with Christianity at the first open meeting of the Cosmopolitan Club Sunday, December 9, at 8 o'clock in the Temple building.
