OFFICE HOURS

Every afternoon with the exception of Friday and Sunday.

All Bized men are invited to the Commercial Club banquet tonight. This banquet offers students of the College of Business Administration an opportunity to make new friendships, and to become better acquainted with the college. Students who are trying to get the most out of their University career will not miss such affairs as the banquet tonight.

Tickets for the Cornhusker banquet Friday night are going fast. Cornhusker men who appreciate what the football team has done for Nebraska the past season will be there. Every loyal Cornhusker will attend. Are you one of them?

"The college of today teaches methods of education and provides the student with an acquaintance with learning. The development of initiative and progressive thinking must come from the student himself."

In the above lines are written in two steps the secret of success. The failure of many college graduates results from neglecting the second part. Too many take success for granted after they receive their college degree. All the knowledge stored up thru the ages is worth nothing to the student without the initiative and enterprise to make this learning work intelligently for him.

A new national fraternity, known as Phi Kappa Pi, was born at the interfraternity conference at New York last week. The founding of the fraternity resulted from the demand for a new national by the numerous locals throughout the nation. To fraternity men everywhere, the beginning of this new fraternity was especially pleasing. A definite policy of expansion and broadening is being followed now by practically all national fraternities, and the opening of this phase of college life to greater numbers of men by means of a new national society will have a healthful influence on both American colleges and fraternities.

An eight day schedule for mid-year exams has been approved at Illinois. At Nebraska exams are held over a four or five day period, single day, which makes careful review for the exams a difficult problem. An investigation of the Illinois system with a view towards its adoption is to be recommended.

A Phi Beta Kappa directory containing the names of 41,000 living members has just been published. It would be interesting to learn how many of these people, who earned the highest award in college, are achieving a like success in the world at large.

Students who bewailed the three dollar tax for the Military hall should go to Notre Dame. The regular price at the South Bend institution for Prom tickets is ten dollars.

Illinois may have one of the best football teams in the country, but their debate teams are at the other end of the ladder. The Illini debaters lost both to Minnesota and Iowa in a triangular debate last week.

The white-collar man struggling to make ends meet must be greatly cheered when he reads Judge Gary's statement that prosperity will continue.

Rockne Says--

Editor of the Daily Nebraskan Dear Sir:

I have been away for several weeks on some games and some very important business, hence I have not had time to write you on a matter which I consider very important.

One of our local boys on our Daily took it upon himself to write an editorial in the Notre Dame Daily here from which it might be inferred that the University of Nebraska student body did not act the part of the perfect host.

I am very sorry that this fellow took it upon himself to put forth his personal opinion as an expression of anyone here officially at Notre Dame University. The members of our team and myself feel very much hurt about this article in our paper and in behalf of them and myself I wish to assure you that we have nothing but the kindest feelings towards the University of Nebraska student body and the University of Nebraska. We have always been treated very fairly and courteously. I cannot see where anyone at the University can be held accountable for whatever remarks and actions might be made by outside hoodlums and small town sports who happen to attend the game.

There is always a tendency on the part of poor sports to be looking for alibis when they are beaten but I just wish to tell you that our team and myself and our student body realize that on Saturday, Nov. 10, the University of Nebraska was a great team, played wonderful football, and deserved to win.

Your sincerely,
K. K. ROCKNE.

HAVE you EVER sat up late AT night AND studied like the Very dickens and Then when you went TO CLASS felt sure THAT you knew everything AND HORRORS! the prof CALMLY asked all the funny LITTLE things you HAD considered unimportant AND so you flunked? NOW have you?

Daughter—Jack says he'll die if I refuse him.

Father—Well, let him die then. Daughter—Why Papa, don't you know he's heavily insured in your company?

A to B and B. to A—(Simultaneously) Bit warmer to day isn't it? Both: Yes, isn't it—Punch.

Dum: Why is love like a potato? Bum: Cause it shoots from the eyes.

Lovell of New York will be guest of honor. Tickets will be 50 cents and maybe secured at dinner.

World Forum Holds Luncheon Wednesday

Miss Mildred Inskeep, regional Y. W. C. A. secretary, will speak on "The Race Problem" at the world forum luncheon Wednesday at 12 o'clock in the small dining room of the Grand Hotel. Dr. S. J. Hollingsworth, previously announced as the speaker for this week, will give his address on "The Industrial Situation" on December 19.

Miss Inskeep has recently returned from Europe where she made a study of student problems. She attended the international conference of students held at Parade, Hungary, this past summer. She was given special opportunity to observe the work of the European Student Relief which is under the direction of Mr. Conrad Hoffman who spoke at convocation three weeks ago.

Tickets must be obtained at the association offices before 9 o'clock Wednesday morning. Persons not holding tickets will be charged an additional ten cents at the luncheon.

Commercial Club to Hold Dinner Tonight

The ticket sale for the University Commercial club dinner to be held at the Grand hotel this evening is progressing rapidly and over 100 are expected to be present. This is the second of the regular monthly dinners held by the club.

A good program will be held after the dinner. Bennett S. Martin will preside as toastmaster. Some very good talks will be given by faculty members, students, and business men.

Professor Kirschman will speak on the topic, "The co-operation of the faculty to produce better trained men." Arthur Latta will speak on "College Spirit." A well known business man from out of town will also talk.

The dinner promises to be a good one and students should get their tickets today if they expect to attend. The dinner is for Commercial club members only.

Psychology Class Takes Army Intelligence Test

To determine the relative mental capacity of the upper classmen and the freshmen was the purpose of an intelligence test given by Dr. Hyde Monday morning.

The tests were the same as those used during the war to predict the possibility of success in the several lines of work. By use of these tests Dr. Hyde is able to predict with reasonable accuracy the possibility of the student remaining in school for the four years.

These tests are divided into several smaller tests. Some are so simple as to be almost funny. Examples of each test are given the student so that he will not start out blindly.

dence is as artless as it sounds.

Ike: What's an ant eater?
Mike: An animal with a long nose that works like a vacuum cleaner.

She: What sort of a man is that fat Jones' boy?
He: Oh! He's an all-around fellow.

If all the clocks in this town rang when they reached the hour what a terrible bedlum we would have all the time.

We have come to believe that Western Union clocks have adopted an eight hour day.

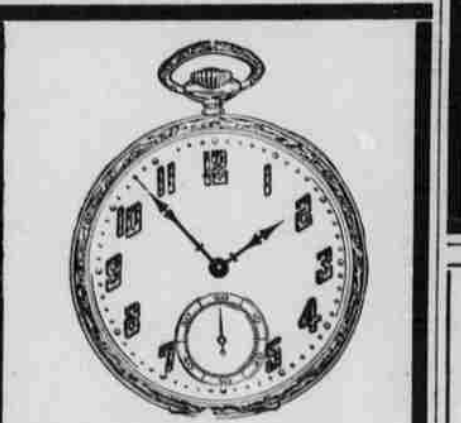

A little knows the student, Even though so prudent That in lectures he will doze. He knows things that he shouldn't, And he of ladies, I suppose, A little knows.

And then there are the girls, Some with "King Tuts" some with curls, Knowing nought except of clothes, Of men, of diamond rings, and pearls See her—Powdering—with a pose— A little nose.

Dr. Elmore to Speak on European Travels

Souvenirs of his European travels will be shown by Dr. W. T. Elmore at Vespers Tuesday night in Ellen Smith hall at 5 o'clock. Edith Olds will lead the meeting and Mary Ellen Edgerton will play a violin solo. Hostesses will be Marie Bowden, Laura Whelpley, Kathryn McWhinnie, Louise VanSickle and Edith Reed.

Dr. Elmore returned from his most recent trip last fall and his talk should be of especial interest to foreign students to whom a special invitation is extended.
