Interfraternity Meet.

Interfraternity competitions to determine the 1924 champions will be held in January, 5th to 19th. A prize will be offered to the winning fraternity. In connection with choosing of the fraternity teams Captain Huskea said that the fraternities have the sole right of selecting the team members, and that choice is not restricted to cadets. All material including rifles, ammunitions, will be furnished free by the military department. Men can come up and practice on the gallery range and schedule for fraternity practice will be arranged on request.

The balance of the first semester in gallery rifle practice will be devoted to completion of firing by freshmen, and selection of the team that is to represent Nebraska in the fifty or more intercollegiate matches scheduled for this winter.

Dean J. F. Duncan and his classes in education from Cotner College visited the schools of Lincoln for observation recently.

The annual football banquet was held Friday evening in the Woman's building at Cotner College. A program given by members of the football team.

SENIOR'S LAST GAME AROUSES EMOTION AND NEBRASKA SPIRIT

The Last Game

The last echo throbbed away, and the Senior lifted his head. The spectators gave one cheer, then scurried off to throng the entrances. Dust from the battle was settling on the field; the sky in the west was a chilly yellow. Everything was quiet and everything was cold. The Senior buttoned his coat around him to choose a deserted path through the campus, and as he made his way between the darkening halls of the University, he could feel a ghostly shifting of time. One moment it was twenty-five years ago; the next it was twenty-five or fifty or a hundred years hence. But through it all his surroundings retained their familiarity to him, despite the growth and physical changes.

"Nebraska is always Nebraska," the Senior told himself, half aloud. And it was no longer chilly.

TO HOLD ANNUAL BANQUET FRIDAY

has figured the banquet at nearly cost. Mrs. Roche of the Grand Hotel will serve the meal.

A full program of entertainment has been arranged by the Innocents which will include two orchestras, the Serenaders and the Kandy Kids. These two syncopated combinations will furnish music during the meal. The Varsity quartet sing.

John Hollingsworth is in charge of the decorating of the Scottish Rite temple and the Green Goblins will act as his committee.

At the weekly meetings last night all Fraternities on the campus voted to close their dinner tables Friday night.

Members of the Daily Nebraskan staff will be entertained at a Christmas party on December 12. This is an annual affair and in fact, quite the social event of the season in journalistic circles.

In keeping with the season, this will be a true Christmas party with a tree and Santa Claus in the person of—but, sh—, that's a secret, not to be revealed until the big night. Toys will be given to all the good little children. Many little ones have already sent in their letters to Santa Claus to make sure of receiving their heart's desire.

A scandal sheet, "The Ragger," will be given out at the party to the staff members only. In this you may find all the latest news about our friends. Perhaps they are trying to keep it a secret about that little party the other night, but nothing can escape the scandal sheet. Upon reading this you may find out things about yourself that you have never dreamed were true. Invitations will be issued within the next few days to those who have done active work on the paper.

MISSOURI: Dr. Stratton D. Brooks, president of the University of Missouri, was one of the principal speakers at the recent inauguration of Dr. H. C. Wyman as the seventh president of the William Jewell College at Liberty, Mo. Dr. Brooks stressed the fact that the over-crowding of the institutions of higher learning is presenting problems demanding prompt solution. He pointed out that the day of petty jealousies between educational institutions is passing and a keen desire for co-operation is shown.

COLORADO: More than 200 attended the third annual State High School Editor's Conference held here. Besides 150 high school newspaper editors, 50 editors and managers of high school annuals attended the sessions, which were arranged by Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalists fraternity. Fraternities, sororities and various university boarding houses gave their hospitality to the future students of Colorado University.
