ONE HUNDRED ATTEND BANQUET FOR BIZADS

Kirshman Speaks on Interest of Faculty in Students After Graduation.

About one hundred students were present at the second monthly dinner of the University Commercial Club held at the Grand hotel last evening. Bennett S. Martin acted as toastmaster.

Professor J. E. Kirshman spoke on the interest the faculty has in the student after he graduates. He said that each professor has a personal interest in the student. Professor Kirshman commented on the fact that the university is the place to learn leadership.

Arthur Latta, a junior in the College of Business Administration, spoke upon the subject, "College Spirit." He stated that the college spirit shown by the student while he is in school will probably stay with him through his life. This spirit will help him in obtaining success in his business career.

Dr. Hilton Speaks.
Dr. D. C. Hilton, a physician of the city, had as his subject, "The History of Medicine in America." He traced the history of those in the profession from the time it started in England to the present day.

"We anticipate trouble. Don't meet it—avoid it," were Dr. Hilton's words. He urged the development of real leadership in the men. The school is the greatest thing in the community he stated in closing.

Dean J. E. LeRossignol urged students to build up their college spirit and keep up their scholarship.

Invitations Mailed for Tassels' Party

Invitations for the first party of the Y. W. C. A. Tassels which will be held Saturday afternoon at 2:30, are being mailed out today. Tassels will be entertained with a program of music and games. Refreshments will be served.

The Kernels and Husks have been entertained the two preceding Saturday afternoons. The membership and social committees of the Y. W. C. A. under the direction of Ruth Small and Lois Thompson have charge of the initial parties of the new organizations.

The Kernels, Husks and Tassels have as their purpose the fostering of friendship and acquaintance among university women as well as the provision of groups where discussion of campus problems may take place.

N Club Initiates Twelve Letter Men

The N club, Nebraska's honorary organization for letter men, held an initiation yesterday noon for men who have earned their letters this fall. Twelve were initiated, eleven football men and one cross-country letter man. The new members are: Harold Hutchison, Joe Wostapoul, Roland Locke, Elbert Bloodgood, John Rhodes, Rob Roy Robertson, Melvin Collins, Edwin Weir, Emil Hendrickson, Warren Ogden, Laddimer Hubka, and Paul Zimmerman.

At the meeting held two weeks ago Dr. Everett was initiated as an honorary member. Dr. Everett has been the physician who has charge of Nebraska's athletes for eighteen years.

FRESHMEN DATE FOR CORNHUSKER BANQUET

But Girls Hesitate Between Costume Party and Annual Banquet.

Once again the University freshmen have shown signs of greenness when numerous Nebraska co-eds have been continually asked for dates to the annual Cornhusker banquet since the announcement of the traditional affair. Freshmen have been urged throughout the week to "get dates early" for the banquet by some college jokers until the talk of the town is concerned with dating for the Cornhusker banquet.

The Friday night feast is for all University men only, with the corresponding co-eds' costume show at the Armory.

Co-eds Not Admitted.
For those who are still in doubt about the banquet, it might here be stated that freshmen and their dates will not be admitted to the Scottish Rite Temple. The Cornhusker banquet has gradually become one of the most cherished traditions of the Husker institution and is held at the end of each football season. This year the banquet will be on the order of a celebration of the new memorial stadium and a rejoicing over the success of the football team together with the winning of positions on all-star elevens by Nebraska gridsters. Freshmen who have already secured dates are urged to bring their fellow classmates instead of their flapper partners.

BULLETIN TELLS OF ENTRANCE DEMANDS

Only Applicants from Accredited High Schools Are Not Examined.

"All applicants, other than those from the accredited schools, for admission to the University are required to take entrance examinations." This was the announcement made in the University Extension News Bulletin dealing with general information concerning the University of Nebraska.

The University examiner holds such examinations during the entire week in which registration occurs. Graduates of non-accredited four-year high schools may be excused from taking the academic examination by passing the intelligence test given University freshmen.

Must File Letters.
Applicants for admission from other universities or colleges must file with the Registrar a letter of honorable dismissal, an officially certified statement of the college work already accomplished, and an officially certified record of the secondary school work satisfying the admission requirements of that college of the University which they seek to enter. Full credit is given for work completed at institutions which maintain standards of admission and graduation equal to those of Nebraska. At least thirty of the last thirty-six hours required for the Bachelor's degree from the University must be carried therein and the student must be registered in that college of this University which recommends the granting of the degree.

In a letter to a friend at Nebraska, Herbert H. Vaughan, formerly of the Modern language department, stated that he would be at Lincoln December 20 for a short visit here while on his way from Berkeley to the east.

Cadet Regiment Is Inspected by Major

Major P. B. Peyton, seventh corps area officer in charge of the R. O. T. C., made an inspection of the university cadets yesterday. Companies that had regular drill periods were inspected on the parade grounds and watched in execution of platoon movements. The indoor instruction classes were visited also.

Major Peyton was well pleased with the showing made by the regiment, and commented on the interest taken in drill by the cadets, and the state of efficiency reached in the short time since last September.

The inspection was the routine semi-annual inspection made by the area R. O. T. C. officer. Companies observed by Major Peyton were Company B in the morning and C and D in the afternoon.

Writers Needed for Cornhusker Banquet

They will get their meal free, will receive fifty cents, and will have an opportunity of hearing the speakers. The work will take about one hour. Applicants should see Bennett Martin, employment secretary of the Y. M. C. A., in the temple building.

SANTA WILL APPEAR AT PARTY SATURDAY

Childhood Hero to Mingle with Students at All-university Affair.

Santa Claus will pay his first announced visit of the year to the University Saturday night when he will arrive at the All-university party at the Armory amidst a jingle of sleighbells and bearing Christmas goodies which he will distribute.

The identity of Santa will be kept secret until the night of the party, according to the plans made at a meeting of the committee Tuesday evening. He will arrive at the dance during the early part of the evening and will mingle with the students, affording all present an opportunity to see the greatest of all childhood heroes.

Snow, which probably will be lacking at all other places in the city Saturday night, will be present at the party. Weather men on the entertainment committee have been led by pangs of rheumatism in their limbs to predict that the snowfall will be quite heavy during the latter part of the program although no snow is expected until after the intermission. The storm is not expected to interfere with the program, it is even hoped it will afford much enjoyment.

Decorate Christmas Tree.

A large Christmas tree will be decorated with tinsel and electric lights and will occupy the center of the floor. Smaller trees similarly adorned will be placed around the hall. Christmas colors will be used in the decorations. As has been the custom at former all-university parties this year, the refreshments will be in keeping with the occasion.

The chairmen for the party will select their committees and will meet with them Wednesday evening to complete the final plans. A general meeting of the All-university party committee has been called by Chairman Kenneth Cozier for Friday evening.

The following are members of the University party decorating committee for Saturday night: Laddimer Hubka, chairman; Harry Chusing, Harold Grosshans, John Gray, Kenneth Conrad, Fred Luchsinger.

MORE SCHOOLS SIGN FOR RIFLE MATCHES

Additional Colleges Signed Bring Total Up to Fifty-Three.

Eight additional colleges have signed contracts for inter-collegiate rifle matches with Nebraska this winter. The total number of schools that will be engaged in telegraphic meets by the all-university rifle team is now fifty-three with a prospect that several more will be added in the near future.

The all-university rifle team will be selected within three or four weeks, following the inter-fraternity tournament in the first part of January. The basis of selection will be the showing by the men in the preliminary shoots, in addition to the practice scores made from day to day.

Schedule Porto Rico Team.

The University of Porto Rico at Ria Piedras is one of the schools added to the rifle team schedule. The others are North Carolina State College of Agriculture at West Raleigh during the week of February 9; Mississippi A. & M. on February 9; University of North Dakota, Grand Forks, on March 1; Northwestern University, Chicago, February 23; St. John's College, Annapolis, Maryland, February 2; Iowa State College, Ames, March 1; and Connecticut Agricultural College, Storrs, on January 12.

Tickets to the annual Cornhusker banquet must be obtained today or Thursday at the Student Activities office or from members of the Vikings and Iron Sphinx, it was announced yesterday by the committee of innocents in charge of the traditional affair. To date, the cardboards of admittance have failed to be in great demand and it is absolutely necessary to know the number of Cornhuskers who will be present at the Scottish Rite Temple Friday night by tomorrow in order that accommodations can be made.

Banquet Attracts Attention.

The week-end affair is attracting much attention on the campus but thus far the ticket sale has been slow. Plans have been made to make the 1923 Cornhusker banquet the "best yet" and it will be possible to accommodate 1200 enthusiasts in the dining room. A feast de luxe is being arranged with Mrs. Locke of the Grand hotel preparing a three-course meal. The committee has set the price at one dollar, which is at nearly cost, and in order to purchase the meal on the most economical basis it is necessary to know just how many will be present by Thursday.

All fraternity houses have been requested to close their tables Friday night and attend the banquet. Thirty tickets have been sent to each fraternity house for the convenience of students and may be obtained from the various presidents.

NEW FRATERNITY IS FORMED ON CAMPUS

Alpha Delta, Literary-Social, to Take Place of Pen and Key

Alpha Delta, a literary social fraternity was recognized by the committee on student organizations, on November 5. This fraternity succeeds an organization known as the Pen and Key, which was sponsored by Doctor H. B. Alexander of the Department of Philosophy. Alpha Delta will continue the activities of its predecessor in encouraging writing and the study of literature among students.

The members make no claim to special literary gifts, but are interested in literature, and in improving their own ability by practice. Many of them are in the School of Journalism, and several are interested in debate. All colleges are represented, however, and it is hoped that a representative group may be maintained as a nucleus of literary interest on the campus.

The fraternity has secured a house at 405 North 25th Street as its residence.

The following comprise the charter membership:

- John A. Cameron, Edward W. Crissman, Martin J. Ekberg, Jacob H. Gable, Jr., Librarian, Thomas V. Garrett, Treasurer, Lloyd S. Green, Emil G. Hendrickson, House Manager, John E. Hook, Steward, Robert Hook, Ole Jacobsen, President, Wendell Krieg, Theodore C. Linden, Emory H. Mace, Frank M. Moore, Gaylord J. Neff, Leslie N. Raak, Albert F. Roth, Frank Scriven, Vice-President, Mathew H. Shoemaker, Robert E. Slattery, John W. Starr, Secretary, Ivan N. Stone.

Disclose Appalling Condition of Poverty Among College Students

"Who were the gentlemen talking to you on the street corner, young lady?"
"Oh, one was a student, and the other didn't have any money, either."
Later:
"Who were the girls talking to you on the street corner, sir?"
"Oh, one was a co-ed, and the other was hungry, too."
Yes, that came from the vaudeville stage, but it's more sternly realistic than poetical anyway, we fear.
Listen:
We ended our last downtown date in an ice-cream parlor, as usual. We were barely settled in our places when our companion made herself heard with a mono-syllable:
"Huh?"
When two minds are a telepathic unity, many words are unnecessary. We followed her gaze, which was resting on two of our neighbors who were distinguishable by evening dress.
"Formal season opens tonight," we murmured in explanation, still somewhat weary from the recent process of wrestling change for a dollar bill from a street-car conductor.
"Oh, that's what's the matter, is it?"
We rebuked her for this crudity by ignoring her cleverness, and became diverted by the arrival of the refreshments which the neighbors under discussion had ordered. Crushed fruit, nuts, fruit ice-cream, sirups, whipped cream, and an enormous cherry were attempting to defy the physical law that two objects cannot occupy the same space at the same time, in the combination which was to furnish pastime for the young lady.
Our friend watched the commencing demolition for a thoughtful moment, then licked her lips and turned to the menu.
"I wonder what that is," said she.
Our heart dropped many inches. We glanced at the order of the tuxedo-attired gentleman. We brightened.
He was drinking a cup of hot chocolate.
