

TANK SQUAD ALL SET FOR WINNING SEASON

New Men Easily Replace Stars Lost by Graduation; Backstroke Troublesome.

Some good swimmers are being developed on the varsity tank squad, and indications point toward a winning team this year. The squad started out the year looking rather weak in every event except the sprints, but new candidates have stepped in to the breaches left wide open by graduations and the only difficulty now is in breaststroke and backstroke swimming.

Several varsity men are on the squad, among them Dan Reed who is going out for plunging and distance swimming, and Captain Frank Hutton, who will enter in sprints. Jack Graebing, captain last year is out for practice occasionally.

In the diving exhibitions, the prettiest part of a swimming meet, there are several good men out. Chief among those competing in this event are Shildneck, Herb Ulrich, Frank and Jack Hutton, Goddard, Patterson, and Popejoy. The men in this event must qualify in four required dives, the plain front, back dive, front jack-knife, and back jack-knife. They must also choose four optional dives such as the flying dutchman, once and a half, somersault, and others.

Distance Plunging Heartbreaker—The distance plunging event is a heartbreaker, and requires men with a lot of lung power. Bill Abbot and Kenneth Martin are training hard for this part of the program.

Coach Frank Adkins thinks there are still some more men about the campus who would make good material for the team, and he urges all fellows with any swimming ability at all to come to the practice sessions at the Y, and take a fling at it with the others. One of the men on the team last year strolled around to practice in this fashion and became the best man on the squad. Adkins wants a lot of competition in each event to bring out the best in each man.

A few of the swimmers may go to the Midwestern A. A. U. meet scheduled for January 10, at Iowa City, Iowa. Another A. A. U. tank meet will be staged at Omaha on January 25, and several of the swimmers have signified their intention of going.

Acting director of athletics, Henry F. Schulte, who is out of the city at present, will have an announcement to make in regard to dual meets for the swimmers when he returns Saturday.
