WILL HUSKER QUINTET WIN?

Nebraska students must pack the Armory to the roof tomorrow night for the Missouri-Nebraska basketball game, which will open the 1924 Husker cage season.

Although the Husker basketball team played a practice game at Kansas City during the holidays against the Blue Diamonds, Saturday's contest with the Tigers will be the first regular game of the season.

Prospects for a victory in the Missouri contest, despite a number of favorable reports, are not so bright. Coach Kline and his squad of tossers have been drilling hard for the last month in preparation for the 1924 season. Kline has been seriously handicapped in his efforts to turn out a winning cage team.

It is Kline's first year with the team. Veterans are lacking, since none of the men of the team have played more than one year of varsity basketball. These men lack the finish of the three-year veteran.

Missouri, on the other hand, is doped to win. The Tigers have a team composed mainly of veterans. The Tigers came within three points of defeating Kansas for the valley title last year. In 1922 the Missouri team won the valley championship.

Basketball is much like football in some ways. The grid team with the student body behind it wins its games. With school support the Husker football eleven was victorious. For a winning basketball team, this same student backing is imperative. Nebraska wants a winner in basketball. Proper student support will make winners out of the 1924 cage team.

Go to the game tomorrow night!

Holding a faculty dinner night is a custom that is kept by the social organizations of many Universities. At the present this usage is not in vogue at Nebraska. Such a practice has many advantages which commend it to the serious consideration of sororities and fraternities. The weekly entertainment of faculty members by these organizations would tend to promote better feeling and understanding between the faculty and the students.

Also the meeting and knowing of the great personalities among the university faculty is one of the biggest educational opportunities that college offers. A faculty dinner night would develop this important feature of university life. The opportunity of making worthwhile friendships and of getting close-up views of great minds of the teaching profession should not be passed up. Action on the idea of a faculty dinner night by the social organizations is advocated.

Only two short weeks are left before final exams begin. Students will do well to take cognizance of this fact, and act accordingly. Now is a good time to begin reviewing for "finals". Two weeks of hard work and conscientious effort will help wonderfully toward a high grade in the final examinations. The worry and overwork resulting from "cramming" for the last tests may be largely eliminated through comprehensive review extended over a longer time.

American millionaires in the last few years have contributed more than $200,000,000 to endowment funds of leading Universities, according to a report issued by Northwestern University. This total includes all contributions of $6,000,000 or more. Endowment donations are responsible for the high standing and great development of many of the leading American Colleges.

RAG CARPET

1924 PHOPHECY.
The same number of young men will be proposed to as were during 1923.

The Rag Doll says that a good way to start the New Year is to begin at the beginning.

This space was meant to be filled by a joke but on the way over we lost the point. So, as the ministers say, kindly bear with us in this unfortunate circumstance.

While schools on every side of Nebraska have been the recipients of large endowment funds, Nebraska University has received practically no help from this source. With these endowments, Nebraska could establish scholarships, build a new museum and gymnasium, and make other long needed improvements.

The new motion picture services at the First-Plymouth church, 13th and L streets, are proving a fine success. Even in last Sunday evening's blizzard the house filled up and "The Sky Pilot" was greatly enjoyed. Next Sunday evening at 7:30 sharp it is "The Homecoming of Jim." The following week it is the masterpiece of Charles Rann Kennedy, "The Servant in the House." It is safer to be early, safer still to be very early.

ENGINEERS PICK CITY FOR INSPECTION TOUR

Result of Vote to Be Announced This Afternoon; Favor Chicago.

Results of the voting held yesterday afternoon in the College of Engineering to determine the city to be visited during the annual engineering inspection tour will be announced late this afternoon, according to the inspection trip committee. The preliminary ballot taken early in December showed the majority of coming engineers in favor of visiting Chicago. Denver was second, Kansas City third and St. Louis fourth.

The trip this year will be made the latter part of March; about fifty engineering students are expected to go. Last year the tour was made in the state only and, as it is the custom to alternate a long and a short distance trip, Chicago or St. Louis will likely be chosen.
