

TO HOLD TRYOUTS FOR KOSMET PLAY

Candidates Should Register in Cornhusker Office Before Saturday.

PRODUCTION CALLS FOR CAST OF SIXTY

Tryouts for the Kosmet Klub musical comedy, "The Wishing Ring," will be held at Teachers College next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights from 7:30 to 10 o'clock. Students wishing to try for parts should register at the Cornhusker office before the end of the week for a definite time.

The play calls for a cast of sixty. Of this number twenty are principal parts. There is a chorus of forty. An eight-piece band will also be needed. Students should state what they wish to try for when registering.

The Kosmet Klub will judge the tryouts. Rules for presentation will be the same as last year. The following rules will be used:

Announce Rules.
1. Students of the three upper classes are eligible for try-out for leading parts and for places in the chorus.

2. Applicants will be given five minutes to try out, and may choose their own time on either Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday evenings, from 7:30 to 10, by signing up in the Cornhusker office before the time for tryouts.

3. More than one person can try at a time. In case more than one wishes to give a skit, more time will be allowed by the judges.

4. Persons may try out with parts from any skit, play, song, or reading. The judges want a knowledge of the ability to play in a chorus or in a speaking part. No part with which to try out will be given. Each applicant must select his own.

Clever Parts Included.

Some very clever parts will be included in the cast, club members say. Some of the important leads are: Dolly Laron, feminine juvenile lead; Ted Morris, juvenile lead; Sampson, a dark complexioned strong man; Mrs. DePyster, a social leader; Mr. Hasmoney, an aged shiek; Timothy Ryan, a fortune teller; Calloway, manager of the circus; Jimmy and Betty, young and in love. The play also calls for gypsies, village people and several young men.

The production chosen by the Klub this year was written by C. L. Coombs '23, who wrote last year's comedy, "The Yellow Lantern." The book, lyric and music were all written by Mr. Coombs who will also direct the play. It is in three acts and takes place on a circus ground in front of a side show. The play has as its theme the finding of happiness by a little circus performer.

Miss Rosanna Williams, a junior in the University, has been selected as pianist for the comedy. Miss Williams played last year for "The Yellow Lantern." She will accompany any persons who wish to try out.

Advance ticket sales for "Smilin' Through," the comedy success by Allan Langdon Martin to be presented by the University Players tonight, tomorrow night, and Saturday, have been unusually large. A number of season tickets were sold the first of the year, and with the individual admissions now sold the Players are expecting capacity houses.

"Smilin' Through" has appeared in Lincoln four times, three times in the pictures with Norma Talmadge in the stellar role, and once on the stage with Jane Cowl playing the lead.

The cast includes Lewellen Hawley, Mrs. Carlisle Logan-Jones, and Harte Jenks in the leading roles. It is expected by the cast that the play will be the most popular one of the season.

FLING PAYS TRIBUTE TO WOODROW WILSON

Tells of Work at Paris in Making League of Nations Possible.

Dr. F. M. Fling, of the history department, spoke yesterday at the memorial services for Ex-president Woodrow Wilson held at St. Pauls church at 2 o'clock.

The keynote of his address was a quotation from a great Frenchman: "When great men have descended into the tomb, where passions and private interests have vanished, then, when envy is silent, the voice of posterity makes itself heard."

"Lying illusions disappear; vain clamours are no more; and if great talents and mighty virtues, persecuted and distained, were more than once the torment of him that nature raised above other men in his inmost soul, he at least knew his own worth."

"He divined the judgment of posterity; and the tardy tribute of our veneration and our praise teaches those that emulation draws into the thorny road of true glory that they will find themselves one day in the

Sixteen Former Y. W. C. A. Cabinet

Members Now Foreign Missionaries

Sixteen women who have served on the cabinet of the University Y. W. C. A. since 1908 have gone to foreign countries as missionaries. In China, they have gone to Shanghai, Nanking and Peking. In India they have gone to Calcutta, Burma and Lucknow. Some have started missions in South America and Poland.

Complying with a request sent out by the National Y. W. C. A. cabinet, the Freshman Commission has recently made a list of women graduates of Nebraska who were active in religious work while in the University and who have carried it on after graduation.

"Perhaps the greatest woman Nebraska has ever produced is Grace Coppock," Miss Erma Appleby, secretary of the University Y. W. C. A. stated as she commented yesterday upon the missionaries Nebraska had sent out. "Miss Coppock was from Superior, Nebr., and she was graduated in 1905. When she went to China there was no Y. W. C. A. or any representative of it. When she died all the larger cities and some of the smaller ones had Christian representatives."

Vera Barger, a Lincoln woman and a graduate of the class of '11, is the representative of the University of Nebraska among the missionaries in Shanghai and is supported by the

THIRD ROUND OF TOURNEY STARTS

Delta Upsilon and Sigma Phi Epsilon Are Victorious Wednesday.

WILL PLAY NO MORE GAMES UNTIL FRIDAY

Delta Upsilon beat Delta Chi 22 to 4, and Sigma Phi Epsilon beat Phi Delta Chi, 23 to 11, in the first half of the third round of the interfraternity basketball tournament yesterday afternoon.

On account of varsity practice in the Army this afternoon, no games will be played until Friday. At that time Delta Tau Delta will play Alpha Sigma Phi and Kappa Sigma will meet Phi Alpha Delta.

Only six teams are left in the tournament, the four which play Friday, and yesterday's winners. The semifinals will be played Monday and the finals Wednesday.

The first game, which the D U's won from the Delta Chis, was slow, especially in the first half, although the Delta Chis only scores came in this half. The D U's divided up their scoring very evenly, making 11 points in each frame.

Sig Eps Take Lead.

At the end of the first half, the Sig Eps had piled up a score of 16 points, while the only score on the other side was made by Stuhr at the very end of the half. The score of this half is not a true indication of the game. It was hard fought but the Phi Delta Chis could not locate the basket.

The Phi Delta Chis took a brace in the second half, but it was too late to overcome the 14 point lead of the Sig Eps.

Smaha and George divided honors for high point man in the D. U.-Delta Chi game. Smaha played a stellar game in the first half, totaling 7 points, while George made his baskets in the second frame.

McIntyre was high point man on the Sig Eps team. He made 7 points. His lead was closely followed by Heckt and Pickett, who both played very good games. Stuhr, Phi Delta Chi forward, did the best work for the losers and made 5 points.

More than fifty persons were present. A straw vote taken showed the men to be in favor of abolishing compulsory military training in the University.

SATURDAY IS LAST DAY FOR SENIOR PICTURES

"Saturday, February 9, is the last day scheduled for senior pictures," said senior editor, Ernest Schau, of the Cornhusker staff yesterday. "All proofs must be returned to Dole's studio by noon Tuesday, Feb. 12."

Organization pictures are still being scheduled at the Cornhusker office. Groups connected with the various colleges should see that their pages in the Cornhusker are reserved this week. Student groups representing activities should get in touch with the Cornhusker staff immediately.

"Practically all of the organization pictures have been taken. The few that have neglected to schedule pictures should realize that the Cornhusker staff is seriously hampered by their negligence," said Wendell Berge, managing editor of the Cornhusker.

DR. JASZI DESCRIBES PLIGHT OF HUNGARY

Declares That Country Needs a Democratic Form of Government.

That the introduction of some democratic form of government which will break the feudal estates, restore the faith of the people and give to all classes a unity and organization which they lack utterly under the present bolshevistic regime, would be the best solution of the state of affairs in Hungary, is the opinion of Doctor Oscar Jaszi as expressed in his address on "Red and White Bolshevism," given at convocation in the Temple theater yesterday morning. The policy of the white bolsheviks who hold sway in Hungary now after having overthrown the red element, is to restore the Hapsburg dynasty, to go to war if necessary to keep the old boundaries, and to preserve the estates of the feudal lords who exploit the lower classes. "Armed force has been substituted for national consciousness" asserted the speaker.

Doctor Jaszi, who was a member of the cabinet of the first Hungarian republic, the overthrow of which by the red bolsheviks resulted in his exile in 1919, believes that a confederation of states modeled somewhat after the plan of the United States is what is needed in Hungary in order to restore peace and prosperity.

ELECTION DATE IS SET FOR FEBR. 19

Will Select Class Presidents and Publication Board Members.

WOMEN WILL VOTE ON POINT SYSTEM

Second semester elections will be held Tuesday, February 19. Candidates must file their nominations in the student activities office by Friday noon, February 15. The offices open for election are presidents of the four classes, three members of the student publication board, and the Ivy Day orator. Women students will have an opportunity to vote on the new point system of activities outlined last week by Mortarboard. The elections are in charge of the Student Council.

The Student Council at its last meeting granted permission for a special vote on the point system. The plan was outlined last week by Mortarboard before the presidents of womens organizations, and has the approval of Dean Amanda Heppner. The system, if adopted, will limit to a certain number of points the activities each woman can take part in during college. Its supporters claim that it would result in more women taking part in activities, and would prevent a few from monopolizing most of the activities.

To Elect Ivy Day Orator.

The Ivy Day orator will be elected by members of the senior class. The class orator delivers the principle speech on Ivy Day following the coronation of the May Queen. Last year this office was the one most sought for in the second semester election. Nine candidates filed for the honor.

The senior, junior and sophomore classes of next year will each elect one member for the student publication board. The newly elected members do not take office until next year. They hold office the entire year. The student publications board controls all student publications and membership on the board is of considerable importance.

WORLD FORUM HEARS SPEECH BY COLLINS

Says Civilization Will Fall Unless War Is Abandoned.

"Many people may declare that plans to end war are all Utopian, but unless the thinking people of the nations take a firm and definite stand against warfare under any circumstances, our civilization will fall as have past civilizations," declared George Collins, former machine gun officer, speaking before 200 students at the world forum luncheon at the Grand hotel yesterday noon.

Mr. Collins stated that the only hope for the world lies in abandoning the old way of war and substituting a way of super-resistance, a spirit of fellowship and brotherhood as was taught by Christ.

"The last war, which more than any previous war was supposedly a war for justice, failed completely in its purpose," he said. "It did not make the world safe for democracy as is evidenced by the fact that since the war, power in European countries has been constantly concentrated in the hands of a few individuals. It left nine million war orphans and fifteen million men died fighting. Worse than all, it left more causes than ever for future wars."

When he attended the International Conference of Reconciliation in Austria, Mr. Collins said that he found that people in other countries were thinking along the same lines and that the universal hope seemed to be to find some method of banishing war from the earth.

Lefler Speaks to Phi Delta Kappa

The Nebraska chapter of Phi Delta Kappa, honorary educational fraternity, held a meeting last night at the Grand hotel at 6 o'clock. The society was addressed by Superintendent Lefler of the Lincoln City Schools on the subject, "Present Financial Conditions of the Lincoln Schools."
