

CAGERS SET FOR GRINNEL QUINT

Will Play First Home Game in Three Weeks at Coliseum Tonight.

INVADERS OUT TO WIN IS REPORT FROM IOWA

The Scarlet and Cream basket quintet will meet Grinnell at 7:30 tonight on the Coliseum court in the first Vallege cage contest played on local courts for three weeks. Two weeks ago the Huskers won from the Grinnell combination, 32 to 19, and Iowa reports say the visitors are out to win.

Plans are complete to make the contest tonight a home coming for the goal sharks. Several sections have been reserved for an organized rooting section and the Corn Cobs have a mystery stunt adrift. The band will lead the singing. Students are asked by the committee in charge to remember that "Nebraska honors the referees decisions."

The probable lineups for tonight follow:

| | | |
|-----------|------|-----------|
| Nebraska | r.f. | Grinnell |
| Usher (C) | | Benz (C) |
| Cosier | l.f. | Critchett |
| Goodson | c. | Boge |
| Tipton | r.g. | Gelven |
| Volz | l.g. | Winters |

Coach W. G. Kline sent his protégés through a tough series of workouts this week and reports his quintet to be in good shape. The Husker mentor finished preparation for the only game this week, Thursday afternoon in a short tossing practice and signal drill. The varsity squad has been working out daily and has developed a fast passing game form their showings against the freshmen. During the scrimmage Wednesday evening Coach Frank's freshmen were completely lost against the regulars.

Grinnell has been forced to satisfaction with the short end of most of the early season tilts but has come within lone counters of defeating Kansas, Washington, and Missouri. Reports have it that the Grinnell cagers met Nebraska on an off night two weeks ago and are coming to Lincoln with the sole purpose of smearing the Cornhusker five. All though the Kline quint is given the verbal advantage it is a known fact that when the two take the floor to exchange greetings tonight a hot contest is in store.

KOSMET COMEDY TRYOUTS CLOSE

To Announce Successful Third of 150 Applicants Next Week.

Tryouts for the Kosmet Klub play, "The Wishing Ring" ended last night, over 150 people having appeared before the judges. From this number 50 will be chosen to comprise the cast, announcement of which will be made next week.

The number competing this year is much larger than formerly due to a greater interest taken by students in the play. A line of applicants appeared each of the three nights and all times available for tryouts were taken.

Work on the scenery has already started. There will be some elaborate sets made specially for the comedy.

Rehearsals will start soon after the cast is chosen. C. L. Coombs, who wrote the book, music, and lyrics for the play will direct the production. Miss Rosanna Williams, pianist for the Kosmet presentation last year, will be at the piano again in "The Wishing Ring."

University Celebrates Charter Day as Tradition of Eighties

"The men who established the University had ideals but they had no realization of the possibilities of a state university," said Judge J. S. Dales, one of the first two graduates of the University of Nebraska, in commenting yesterday on the growth of the school.

The institution was built after an act passed by the legislature on February 15, 1869, providing for the establishing of an institution "to afford to the inhabitants of the state the means of acquiring a thorough knowledge of the various branches of literature, science, and the arts."

One-hundred-thirty people attended the official opening of the University of Nebraska on September 7, 1871, Judge Dales recalls. "It was quite an affair for those days," he said.

About seventy students were enrolled that first year, but very few were qualified to enter a college

STUDENTS AND FACULTY MEMBERS GIVE OPINIONS OF POINT SYSTEM

Limitation of Individual Student Activities as Proposed for Student Vote in Elections Tuesday, February 19 Arouses Discussion on Campus.

REFERENDUM NOT TO BE TAKEN ON SPECIFIC PLAN

Expressions of the opinions of about thirty faculty members and students on the point system to govern individual student activities proposed by the student council for a referendum at elections coming Tuesday, February 19, have been secured by Daily Nebraskan reporters.

The question has aroused so much discussion on the campus and in the student opinion column of the paper that it was felt that a summary of the various viewpoints be made. The vote is to be made on the principle of limitation of activities, and not on any particular plan. The opinions follow:

Chancellor S. Avery

"In theory, I believe the point system would be a good thing. When a man is capable, the tendency is to overload him. The point system would distribute the jobs more evenly, and give more people a chance to develop. Able students, though not quite so conspicuous, should be given responsible places."

Carl C. Engberg
Executive Dean

"The general point system is not a bad thing in principle but the machinery which is necessary to enforce it makes the system very bunglesome. If the system can be enforced, I believe it is a good thing and that it will justify its existence."

Amanda H. Heppner
Dean of Women

"I think the purpose of the point system is to protect the overburdened girls and to give the girls with less initiative more of a chance in activities besides protecting scholarship and the girls' health. I think that it will accomplish this purpose. I cannot see that it will cause the girls with initiative to loose their chance but it will bring more girls into activities."

M. M. Fogg
Director School of Journalism

"The general idea of limiting the number of a student's activities is, in my judgment, sound. Many students have I know whose obviously main business here—furnishing and training their minds—was largely wrecked by scatter-gun attention to matters into which they had drifted or been shoved. Furthermore, the plan gives more students a chance at really worth-while activities."

Harold Holtz
Alumni Secretary

"I am very much in favor of some system which would in a measure limit the amount of activities in which any one student could participate. The tendency has always been to overload, with the result that certain activities suffer. It seems to me that the University has a certain measure of responsibility for the development of as many individuals as possible. Controlling the number of activities in which any one person could participate would it seems to me give a larger number of students an opportunity which they do not now have under the present system."

Henry F. Schulte
Head Track Coach

"Any action that will create an artificial restraint in the possibilities of choice should be most carefully considered before it is made a law on our campus. Nebraska, needs the best of her students leading in all activities. The highest honesty coupled with natural selection is the only possible way. Such a plan may be necessary in the political side of campus activities, (I do not know), but if the point system is made to apply to Varsity athletics, it will hit Nebraska hard."

Dr. Winifred F. Hyde
Professor of Psychology

"I am very much in favor of trying the plan because I feel that some change should be made in the student activity system."

Paul McCaffree
Secretary Y. M. C. A.

"I believe that the point system is a tendency in the right direction. I believe that the point system is greatly needed here and is a great help to any school center. It protects those students who have made a success of one activity from being 'snowed under' with a lot of other appeals. Participation in many activities is incompatible with high scholastic standing."

Robert F. Craig
Editor Cornhusker; Cadet Colonel

"I believe the point system as presented by Mortarboard and W. S. G. A. is a step in the right direction. Other schools find such a plan highly successful and advantageous to school spirit and student work. I also believe the plan of the student council to work out a blanket system applying to every student in school should be endorsed. The details of the plans I assume, can be fairly regulated after a test of experience."

Clifford M. Hicks
President Student Council

"I favor the point system in principle. I do not consider the question of personal rights or liberty involved in this question. To my mind this is a practical method of securing a balance between activities and studies. Individual injustices may be done but as a general rule I believe this is a proper remedy for the present unequal distribution of student offices."

Grace Spadet
President Y. W. C. A.

"I am heartily in favor of the point system for it will extend to many the privileges that are now shared by a comparatively few. Every true Nebraska girl wants to do everything that is asked of her for her school, and the girl who has proved her ability is imposed upon to do many things. Many more girls of equal ability want to do things, but are not known and are not given an opportunity to participate in activities."

Marie Snavely
President Y. M. C. A.

"It has been stated that the point system is 'Contrary to Democracy.' Let the best man win! That is the very thing that the point system stands for. We all know a few share all the glory. Is this democracy I ask? Certainly, et the best man win, but give every man a chance to show up. There are unlimited talents, abilities, dormant in students wanting only for a chance of outlet."

David G. Richardson
Business Manager Cornhusker

"It is a good plan and has a good chance for development if worked out right. I don't think that the rules governing it should be adhered to too strictly."

William Altstadt
President of Y. M. C. A.

"As I understand the point system, it will give a greater number of students a chance to participate in activities. This plan is commendable."

Edwin Weir
Captain of 1924 Football Team

"I believe the point system are outlined is a good thing for several reasons. It will divide up the important positions which now command so much time of a few individuals. These people are forced to neglect their school work to a degree to handle the added responsibilities upon them. I believe some changes could be made in the present plan though, which would serve the purpose better."

Willard Usher
Basketball Captain

"I have not had sufficient opportunity to judge the merit of the plan, merely having looked it over in the Daily Nebraskan, and not having studied it. I am not favorably impressed with it, however, from what I did see of it."

Maurice Gardner
Captain 1924 Track Team

"I do not favor the point system for men at Nebraska. It seems to me that the arguments brought forward in its favor are weak and inconsistent wits facts. The eligibility rules of the university are ample guard against the holding of more offices than the individual is capable of handling. The difficulty of working out a fair plan of evaluation, is another drawback. No two offices have the same value to the individual or to the student body."

Verns Lawless
Football Captain, 1923

"I believe that a person should not be limited to a certain number of school activities, and as I regard it now I do not favor the point system."
