

McMULLEN WILL SPEAK THURSDAY

Candidate for Gubernatorial Nomination Is Alumnus of University.

REPUBLICAN CLUB SPONSORS MEETING

Adam McMullen, '96, candidate for the republican nomination for governor, will speak on the "Value of Good Citizenship" at the special convocation for all students at the Temple Theater Thursday morning at 11 o'clock, under the auspices of the Nebraska University Republican club. Mr. McMullen is an alumnus of the University of Nebraska, having received his A. B. degree in 1896.

A committee of students from the University Republican club will meet Mr. McMullen at the train at 10:30 and escort him to the Temple Theater.

Mr. McMullen speaks to the students as a part of the program of the Republican club to bring to the University men of the party who are well acquainted with state and national political affairs. He will have something to say that will be of value according to the committee.

While in the University from 1893 to 1896 Mr. McMullen was quite prominent in school affairs. He was the leading orator of the class and a member of the debating team. He served as an editor on the Hesperian Student (The Daily Nebraskan) when Willa Cather was editor-in-chief. He also took part in athletics. He was one of the charter members of Delta Tau Delta. Mr. McMullen worked his way through the University of Nebraska as a newspaper reporter.

After graduating from Nebraska Mr. McMullen attended Columbia Law College and afterwards practiced law in this state. During the world war Mr. McMullen was in an officers training camp. He served three terms in the state legislature, twice in the house and once as state senator. Twelve years ago he retired from the practice of law to take up farming.

"Mr. McMullen is greatly interested in the University of Nebraska," said Frank Johnson, of the University Republican club, Tuesday. "Many students and faculty members have expressed a desire to hear him in the past few months and now that Mr. McMullen has consented to come I believe we will have a large turnout to hear him at 11 o'clock Thursday."

Boa Constrictor Is Held Captive in Bessey Hall

A boa constrictor from South America has been holding open house in Bessey hall this week. The constrictor arrived in a car of bananas and was donated to the zoology department by Grainger Brothers. Contrary to general belief, the boa is not poisonous but its danger lies in its strangling power. In its native haunts, it creeps up on deer, sheep, and pigs, crushes them, and swallows them. It is about five feet long. Dr. Wolcott has had difficulty in leading the boa because it won't eat dead things but insists on killing its own food, preferring live rats and birds.

Will Have Interclass Rifle Meet for Girls

An interclass rifle meet for women is to be held one or two weeks after spring vacation if a sufficient number of senior and junior girls try out for teams. The freshman and sophomore classes are the only classes with eight members on the squad.

Women are urged to fire ten targets this week if possible in order that those with the eight highest scores may be put on the class teams. The firing will all be done in prone position. W. A. A. points will be awarded for membership on class teams and extra points for the highest scores.

Weather Forecast

Wednesday—Fair and slightly warmer.
Thursday—Partly cloudy with probably snow.

Adam McMullen, '96, candidate for governor, who will speak at convocation Thursday morning.

Petroleum Received from New Mexico

A sample of remarkable petroleum sent by Dean E. Winchester, '07, has recently been received by the department of geology, Dr. E. H. Barbour announced yesterday. Mr. Winchester has just opened a new oil field in New Mexico from which this sample was obtained. Dr. Barbour states that this oil is almost as clear and as limpid as coal oil and it is said that it can be put directly into automobiles and used without refining. According to Professor E. F. Schramm it tests remarkably high, being 64.2. Dean Winchester, a professional petroleum geologist, and has his offices in Denver.

MICHIGAN—Several major problems have recently been concluded and are now being undertaken under the direction of the engineering research department. These include the study of the laws of ventilation, a study of the laws of natural illumination, and the art of cutting metals.

Sherwood Eddy to Bring Message Concerning the World Situation

To bring to the University of Nebraska students a message concerning the world situation, neither strongly religious in character, nor deeply concerned with the ills of college students, but rather profoundly interesting from the standpoint of serious matters, Sherwood Eddy will come here for a series of lectures April 9, 10 and 11.

Assuming that the college student is vitally interested in affairs of the world and above all the problems that now confront the world, Mr. Eddy has taken such problems into consideration and has given them critical surveys to find out their true status and a possible solution for them.

In his lectures he will speak on the questions:

Is Germany Broke?
Will France Break with England?
What About Evolution?
Can Business Prosper Under the Golden Rule?

In his second trip to Nebraska, Mr. Eddy has set a precedent. He is so much in demand for lectures before students of the various col-

One of the scenes in "The Rivals" which is to be presented in the Temple Theater March 24 by the Coffe-Miller players who are giving five different performances that week. Tickets are on sale at the Ross P. Curtice company for 75 cents.

Chappell to Speak at Student Mason Dinner

Grand Master Charles A. Chappell and Chancellor Avery will be the guests of honor and principle speakers at the student Masons' banquet, Friday evening at 6 o'clock, at the Grand hotel. All Masonic students are urged to attend this banquet which is held under the auspices of the Square and Compass club.

The program will be over at eight o'clock so that those students who have evening engagements will not be inconvenienced. Tickets for this banquet may be got for seventy-five cents at Professor Cochran's office, 203 Social Science building.

DR. Y. Y. TSU GIVES ADDRESS AT VESPERS

Will Also Speak at World Forum Luncheon This Noon.

"Christianity has taught China to see God, the Father; to understand human brotherhood; to enshrine Christian love; and to practice articulate power," said Dr. Y. Y. Tsu in his address at Vespers at 5 o'clock Tuesday evening in Ellen Smith hall.

Dr. Tsu will address the world forum luncheon this noon on "The New Pacific Era." He is traveling secretary of the Chinese Christian federation and professor in St. Johns college in Shanghai, China. He spoke before a group of Y.W.C.A. and Y. M. C. A. members at the Agricultural college Tuesday noon.

"Movements in China," was Mr. Tsu's subject at the Agricultural college. He dealt with the progress of industries and civilization in China and told how that country was rapidly becoming modernized.

Mr. Tsu came here from Madison, Wis., and leaves tonight for the University of Kansas at Lawrence, where he will lecture.

MINNESOTA—Extensive plans have been outlined for the medical college at Minneapolis. The plan would cost $500,000.

ANNUAL CALLS FOR ORGANIZATION COPY

Histories Must Be Handed in to Cornhusker Before Saturday.

All organizations must get their histories for the Cornhusker in before Saturday noon this week according to Wendell Berge, managing editor. If they do not have writeups in by this time they will have to accept ones given them by members of the Cornhusker staff and will not have the privilege of submitting their own.

This ruling was made yesterday by the managing editor because a number of the organizations have not turned in their copy and are holding up the progress of several sections in the book. The work of editing the copy has already been begun and a number of sections will go to press within a few days. The borders and subdivision pages have already been printed.

Some of the histories handed in do not come up to the required 250 words and such writeups are being expanded by the copy readers to meet the minimum.

"Students should realize that the work of collecting, organizing, and editing copy for over 200 organizations is a trying job and they should co-operate with the staff as much as possible," stated Berge last night. Each organization is required to submit a 250 word history, a key to its picture, and a list of its officers.

MARCH UNIVERSITY JOURNAL APPEARS

Issue Is Larger Than Usual; Includes Stories About Alumni.

The March issue of The University Journal, published this week, has thirty-six pages of news of the University and alumni. The number is larger than usual and contains some new features for graduates.

Sketches of the lives of Henry H. Culver, ex-'01, and Dr. C. W. Mason, '05, are among the leading articles. Mr. Culver is one of the leading real estate dealers in California and is now erecting a six-story building which will house the company of which he is the head. Dr. Mason has been a missionary in the Orient since his graduation.

A continuation of the list of Nebraska alumni who have appeared in Who's Who is given. Names from A to C are contained in the March issue. A summary of the basketball and wrestling seasons and co-ed gossip of the campus appear.

Comments on the Charter Day program sent in by graduates to the alumni office are printed. One hundred and forty-eight different towns "listened in" on the radio program.

The stations represented forty-two states and Canada. Alumni Clubs throughout the United States held meetings and heard the program.

MICHIGAN—Over 75 men from the Universities of Michigan and Ohio will participate in an entertainment to be staged at Cleveland the 22nd of March. The best singing, dancing and performing talent of the two Universities will be combined in the entertainment.

OFFER ANOTHER SINGLE TAX PLAN

Council Advances New Proposal for Support of Student Activities.

WOULD HAVE THREE DRIVES EACH YEAR

An alternative single tax plan which provides for three drives each year has been suggested by the student council as a result of the opposition which developed to the original proposal. The new plan involves three separate campaigns, one for athletics, another for activities, and a third for charities.

Clifford M. Hicks, president of the council, stated yesterday that the new proposal would enable students to save money and would reduce the number of drives on the campus, although there would be three instead of one as originally proposed.

The plan provides for the sale of athletic tickets for the year such as are now sold which would admit to all athletic contests but to no other events.

Activities tickets would be sold, for about six dollars, which would include the Cornhusker, Daily Nebraskan, Glee Club, Debate, Awgwan and miscellaneous activities.

A third drive would be conducted for all charities. The Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. would be requested to combine all their drives and all other charities would be included in a single campaign. The estimated allotment for charities per student would be about two dollars.

Students would be able to buy any or all of the three tickets offered. Any of the individual items included in the activities ticket could be purchased by students at the regular prices but a considerable saving would be made possible by the combination.

The student council hopes that students will express opinions on the matter freely and state which of the two plans which now have been presented they consider the more desirable.

SELECT COMMITTEES FOR FARMERS FAIR

Each Agricultural Student Is Given Specific Duty to Perform.

Every student in the College of Agriculture has been given some specific duty to perform for the Farmers Fair. The board plans to make the fair larger than ever, and requests the careful co-operation of all committees.

The demonstrations and educational exhibits will be under cover on the Midway this year instead of in the various buildings on the campus.

The parade will be large and decorative, according to present plans. A large number of students will be at work on the floats and they will be assisted by Dennison's Company in the decoration of them.

The board in charge of the fair this year is:

Allen Cook, manager.
Wilbur Shainholz, Howard Turner, assistant managers.
Cloyd Walker, secretary.
Claude Wieggers, treasurer.
Jeanette Gill and Ruth Groves, home economics representatives.

The complete list of committees follows:

Parade—Dean Higgins, chairman, John Davis, Walter Ruden, Harold Lett, Corwin Mead, Walter Tolman.

Publicity—Virgil Michael, chairman, Daniel Seibold, Emil Glaser, Hale Sennett, Florence McReynolds, Margaret Brown, Anna Barney, Esther Eisenbarth, Frances Weintz.

Guide Book—Joe Culbertson, chairman, Frank Huntoh, Gomer Jones, Helen Eiting.

Construction—Alfred Daniels and Elizabeth McVey, chairmen, Donald Dietz, Clarence Elliott, Charles Watson, Harry Kuska, Joe Kuska, Harold Douthitt, Leo Kellett, Marvin Layton, Paul Bass, Roland Wellman, Eugene Day, Edward Sheehan, Niels Buch-Jepsen, Gladys Trullinger, Regina Smith.
