Final tryouts for the Kansas relays will be held on the stadium track today at 3 o'clock. All men must report!
CAPTAIN "MUD" GARDNER is fast rounding into shape for the Kansas relays, after his layoff on account of an attack of appendicitis. "Mud" is after some more records and firsts this year, judging from the way he has been burning up the track lately.

HUSKER TRACK ARTISTS are looking forward to the date when the new track will be in perfect condition. With a top dressing of soft coal ashes, the track will be firm and yet not too hard under both damp and dry weather conditions. A big feature of the new track is that only one turn is necessary for the quarter mile run. This is a distinct advantage over the Kansas track which has been rated as the best in the Valley.

TURNER of Nebraska and Poor of the Jayhawker school will again dig up the hatchet when they meet at K. U. relays Saturday. Both of these athletes have been clearing the bar consistently above the six foot mark. Poor was supreme last year, but "Hobb" jumped to a tie with him at the Illinois relays this spring.

"CHARGING BULL," better known as John Levi, of the Haskell Indian Institute, who gained national recognition as a football star, has been named as the best prospective all-round athlete in America for the Olympic team. Though he weighs over 200 pounds, Levi can jump, polevault, hurdle and run the dashes as well as the average college athlete. His best bet is the discus and shot events, where he is considered among the best.

JAVLIN THROWERS are in demand around the Nebraska path this year. Several men are working on the event, but none have shadowed the mark of 189 feet and 6 inches made by "Chick" Hartley last spring.

TRACK MANAGER Howard Buffett, during the occasional absence of "Indian" and because of the lack of work, takes part in the gentle art of track. Some say he is pointing for the Drake relays with the fond hopes of meeting Paddock in the 100-yard dash. At any rate he has challenged one of the milers for a race Saturday.

WILL PRACTICE THREE WEEKS BEFORE GAMES

Baseball Nine Not to Be Handicapped by Short Workouts for Next Series.

Three weeks of practice remain for the baseball squad before its next game. About forty men have been turning out for practice since the return of the team from the south. The team, under these favorable conditions, will not be handicapped by a lack of practice as it was on its southern trip.

A game has been scheduled with the University of Meiji of Tokyo, Japan, for May 21. His team won the championship of the Five-university league of Japan last year and is now sailing for the United States to play a series of games with universities all over the country.

Nine Games Left.

Nine games remain on the schedule for this spring. Two or three more may be taken to make up for the three games that were not played on the trip in the south because of rain. The schedule as it now appears is:

- May 2—Kansas Aggies at Lincoln
- May 3—Kansas Aggies at Lincoln
- May 9—Kansas Ag. at Manhattan
- May 10—Kansas Ag at Manhattan
- May 21—Uni. of Meiji at Lincoln
- May 26—Uni. of Okla. at Lincoln
- May 27—Uni. of Okla. at Lincoln
- June 7—Uni. of Kan. at Lawrence
- June 9—Uni. of Kan. at Lawrence
