The annual College of Pharmacy banquet, attended by approximately 150 students and faculty members, was held Thursday evening at the Lincoln hotel.

Prof. Martin Chittick, an alumnus of the Nebraska College of Pharmacy, at present a professor in the College of Pharmacy at Minnesota, gave a talk on "Men and Pharmacy."

"We must have more complete, concentrated training to elevate pharmacy. The responsibility rests on our shoulders," said Professor Chittick.

He compared the pharmacist of Europe with the pharmacist of America, mentioning the fact that the European pharmacist carries no sidelines in his business.

M. E. Rasdall spoke on "Living Our Profession," and Leona Crawford made a few remarks on "Your College and Mine," emphasizing the
