Notable Presenters of Stadium Concert on Annual Spring Tour

The Minneapolis Symphony orchestra which will appear in Lincoln at the stadium on May 14 is now in Jacksonville, Fla., in the midst of its annual spring tour. The itinerary includes forty-three of the larger cities in the east, south and middle west. The orchestra started from Minneapolis on April 1 and will finish the trip on May 21.

The first concert of the orchestra was given in Minneapolis on November 5, 1903. It was organized through the efforts of the city's Philharmonic club which desired a permanent body of musicians to accompany the club's annual series of concerts. The first organization contained forty-five musicians and was maintained by an annual guarantee of $10,000.

R. O. T. C. INSPECTION SCHEDULED THIS WEEK

Staff and Cavalry Officers to Review Cadets Friday and Saturday.

The Nebraska University R. O. T. C. unit will have its second "Blue Star" inspection Friday and Saturday. Colonel Herman Glade of the general staff and Major Walton Goodwin of the cavalry will be the inspecting officers.

This inspection has been formerly known as the "Gold Star" inspection, but the insignia worn by the cadets in one of the honor colleges has been changed from gold to blue since the last inspection at Nebraska.

The theory sections in the advanced course will be inspected Friday morning. All cadets are excused from classes Friday afternoon for the parade and inspection which will start at 1 o'clock and last until the inspectors are through. Several other theoretical sections will be examined Saturday morning.

Send Reviewers Annually.

The government annually sends out a board of inspectors to all institutions which are recommended for inspection by the various corps commanders. Last year, the first time Nebraska was inspected, this R. O. T. C. unit failed to get the distinction of the blue star.

Only twenty per cent of the R. O. T. C. units in the United States may be "Blue Star" units. The star is one inch in diameter and is worn on the right sleeve, one inch above the R. O. T. C. shields.

Major P. B. Peyson, the officer in charge of the R. O. T. C. units in this corps area, will make his semi-annual inspection at the same time as the other officers. The regiment will fall in with its usual formation on the drill field at 1 o'clock.

Made on Point Basis.

The inspection is made on the basis of 100 points. The support of the R. O. T. C. by the institution counts twenty points. This includes the adequacy of facilities for practical instruction, care of arms and equipment, and office, recitation, and assembly rooms.

The support of the R. O. T. C. by the student body counts twenty points. This includes the advance course enrollment and the acceptance of commissions. The efficiency of theoretical instruction counts twenty-eight and the efficiency of practical instruction thirty-two points.

Three Years of Preparation Preceded First Farmers Fair

After three years of planning and preparation the first Farmers Fair was held on the Agricultural college campus in 1917. The war occupied the attention of everyone the next two years and no Fair was held until 1920. Since then it has been held annually, the sixth exhibition coming this year.

The primary object of the Fair is to bring the College of Agriculture before the people of the state in a different light and to furnish an opportunity to put into practical use some of the things learned during the school year. Every student can take part in almost any line of activity, from participating in a Wild West show to helping on the construction gang. The Fair is managed by a board of seven members who are elected at the close of the year to serve the year following.

Rally Precedes Celebration.

The evening before the celebration a rally is held of all agricultural students and finals announcements for the "big day" are given. On the morning of the carnival a parade is held at 11 o'clock which marches through the downtown section. When the parade returns the shows, booths and other attractions are opened and the stunts and dancing begin, to continue until midnight.

"Devil's Slide Will Appear."

It is planned to make the Fair this year a gigantic amusement center. Many new attractions will make their appearance. The Snorpheum show will prove one of the most amusing Midway features. The Wild West show with some real western "bad" horses, and the "Cornfield Follies" presenting afternoon and evening performances, should draw huge crowds.

The "Devil's Slide," a new contrivance erected by the Ag engineering students will make its appearance Saturday. This is the largest feature ever used at a Fair and promises to cause a great deal of amusement and thrills.

Three popular orchestras of Lincoln will play from 3 to 11:30 for dancers. Two floors will be used, one in the engineering building and one under a huge tent. Several bands will also furnish music during the day. Among the latter is the Field Crops Fife and Drum Corps which will play some special numbers.

Jal Olsens minstrels will also furnish pep on the Midway. Several well known blackface comedians will appear with the minstrels. A clever act entitled "Yu' Cum Honey" is included in their program.

Along with these special attractions will be the usual line of exhibits, side shows, barbecue, pageant and stands which will help to make the 1924 Fair the biggest and best in history.

W. S. G. A. DELEGATES BACK FROM MISSOURI

Bring Reports of Mid-west Convention of Governing Association.

Barbara Wiggenhorn, Frances Mentzer, and Jean Holtz returned Sunday from the Mid-west W. S. G. A. convention at Columbia, Mo. The convention began Wednesday, April 23, and ended Saturday, April 26. The mornings were taken up with talks given by the delegates of the several schools on campus problems. Two of the problems discussed were: "Rules and Regulations for Women," and "Ways and Means of Raising Money."

The rest of the entertainment consisted of a dinner given for the delegates by the faculty, luncheons, a play given by the players of the school, and a vaudeville by members of W.A.A. One noon the delegates were entertained at luncheon by the fraternities.

Next year a national convention will be held at Eugene, Ore., and the following year another Mid-west convention will be held at the University of Indiana, in Bloomington.

California—Movement to establish an Italian chair of culture has been started at the University by a former Italian consul. Five hundred volumes have been collected already for an Italian library.

NOTED ENGINEER TO LECTURE WEDNESDAY

John W. Gorby, Vice President of National Transportation Body Will Speak.

Students in all colleges are invited to the lecture on "The Transportation Problem and Its Solution" to be given in Social Science auditorium Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock by John W. Gorby, vice president of the National Transportation Institute.

The transportation problem is one which touches the interests of every class in the United States, economics professors say. The National Transportation Institute was organized in 1923 as a body which would conduct non-partisan and impartial investigations into every kind of transportation and the relationship of transportation agencies to each other and to the various phases of our economic life. Its research bureau, directed by Dr. David Friday, has published several important studies of freight rates and similar problems.

Mr. Gorby will tell of some of the results of investigations which have been conducted by a staff of experts. He is on a speaking tour of the country and has recently spoken at Dartmouth, Princeton and other institutions.

Penalty Threatens Lazy Farmers

All Ags are to work the day before the fair, during the fair, and must clean up following the huge activities. In former years the large horse tank which was placed in front of Agricultural hall held terror for those who did not care to put forth efforts in a useful direction. Authorities of the University, who thought this penalty a bit too barbaric have placed a ban upon the system.

This year roll call will be taken when classes are excused for work. Students who are absent from work without excuse will be responsible for class attendance.

The Dippy Dixie Drum will again be on the Midway with more thrills and fascinations than ever, helping revive persons who have succumbed to the perils of numerous other special features on the grounds. Its effect is soothing and should prove especially invited after a trip to the Yellow Dog Saloon, nearby.

The Saloon is again to be placed accessibly, so that pleasure-seekers may now and then drink deeply of the wealth of concoctions on sale.

"Co' Boss," the official guide book of the fair was released recently for distribution, and many copies have been put in circulation. Others will be passed out by clowns and cowboys during the parade Saturday. In it will be found a list of activities, programs of acts to be presented, a list of prizes which will be offered, and details as to where each attraction may be found.
