WORKING STUDENTS BANQUET.

Students who are earning their way through the University will banquet at the Grand hotel Thursday. Employers of students will also be present and the main object is to bring about a better feeling between employers and employes, and alumni who worked their way through the University will be present to speak.

The University of Nebraska is one of the most democratic of the large institutions in the country, and it is estimated that forty to fifty per cent of the students are either earning their way or at least defraying part of their expenses. Those are remarkable figures and Nebraskans can be proud of an institution where such a condition exists.

A college education may be had by any high school graduate who has the ambition and the energy to realize it. There are every year many students who enter the University with practically no funds and with no income, and these students, both men and women, get along very nicely.

Many of the honor students are working in their spare time to defray their expenses. Many of our best athletes are totally dependent upon themselves for their support. Many of the most active and forceful students are here on their nerve, and working to stay in school.

This annual banquet and get-together, sponsored by the Y. M. C. A., is one of the best activities of that organization. It is good that the working students become acquainted with each other.

The Y. M. C. A. should extend the activities of their employment service. The surface has only been touched in this direction, and while it is true the "Y" is rendering a real service in this respect, there is room for a much greater expansion.

All working students should plan to attend the banquet.

INTERFRATERNITY BASEBALL.

The interfraternity baseball tournament is on. The fraternity clubs have been practicing for over a month, and a number of the first games were played Friday. Interfraternity athletic competition has a number of advantages. Good fellowship and friendliness among fraternities is stimulated. It provides all the features of recreation and sport and in addition is a developer of material for the varsity.

These interfraternity tournaments, when possible, should be held before the regular season begins. There is no question but that a lot of good athletic material is going to waste around the University. It is dormant and only needs some stimulus to bring it forth.

Coach Schulte has proved this in the past with his performances with track men. Many of the Nebraska track stars that have been developed in the past few years were never heard of before Coach Schulte dug them up and developed them. Many of these men did nothing in high school and had no experience. But they had the ability, and that was all that was necessary, for coaching will bring out the rest.

The athletic authorities should plan to hold these interfraternity meets earlier. It might be that a great deal of varsity material would be uncovered, and that's what we need. Given the material, our coaches will do the rest.

CANNED ESSAYS.
(Oregon Emerald)

The University of Chicago is getting its academic work down to a fine point, it seems. A circular appearing there recently disclosed the existence of a firm advertising as its wares pre-

The street car company is going to raise the fare to 10 cents. At least half a dozen people will be real indignant.

However, it's a cold, hard world, said the cake of ice.

Dean—Don't you know that late hours are not good for one.

Stude—Oh, but there were two of us.

Pity the poor senior girl that orpared term papers, theses, essays, and writings of all kinds particularly adapted to the demands of students.

"Let us do your thinking for you. Give us your subject and $10—we'll do the rest.

"We relieve you of all annoying details," reads the pamphlet. "Just tell us the subject, the length of the article required, and the credit is received for it. Our work is satisfactory. Many professors have complimented our clients on the masterly way in which they write. We intend no insult, but believe that our work will probably receive better recognition than your own."

Perhaps if the eastern field is successfully exploited, such a firm may establish western offices. But just now the prospects of any such venture locating here are not favorable. The enterprise might be welcomed by those encyclopedic devotees whose originality of compositions consists alone in their art in copying.

But there stands a majority on this campus, we would estimate, which measures the value of higher education by its ability to stimulate thought. "Canned essays" is a parallel problem with cribbing in examinations. The student cannot in the long run be benefited by such gross deception. The way to learn to think is not to have others do your thinking for you, but to make use of mental powers which at times are the source of infinite delight.

S'DEATH.

'Tis worse than the tooth of a serpent

That lives in the forest danks.

'Tis worse than the bite of the briar

That grandfather smoked in the ranks.

It's worse than the growl of a tiger,

Worse than a storm at the sea.

Worse than a shot from the cannon,

Worse than the sting of a bee.

It's worse than sudden panic,

More dread than a savage lance.

Worse than the doom of heaven

That garter that breaks at a dance.
