

GOLFERS TUNING UP FOR TEAM TRYOUTS

Aspire to Take Part in Valley Tournament at Time of Track Meet.

Nebraska golfers can be seen most any time these days walking the greens around Lincoln, tuning up for the varsity team which goes into action next month in the Missouri Valley golf tournament at Lincoln at the time of the Valley track meet, and against Creighton university on the second lap for the cup donated by Creighton last year. The Husker team won the first lap toward possession of the cup at Omaha last year.

Tryouts for the team will be held soon. The Nebraska team will also probably enter in the state golf tournament which will be held at the Lincoln country club the second week in June, and the university boys are expected to make it interesting for the veterans who will compete in the annual state classic.

Two letter men back from the four-man team of last year are Bob Hinkleman and Jack Whitten, both of whom will probably make the team again this year. Some good prospects from last years freshmen include Allan Holmes and Fred Vette. Additional first class players will more than likely be uncovered in the tryouts.

Drake university is the golf champion of the Valley at present, having won the last two Valley meets, and the Big Ten meet two years ago. Nebraska was second last year and Kansas third.

The Hose that walked in the Easter parade on Fifth Avenue showed a decided difference of opinion as to color choice. For there are at least four shades in good standing: Peach, Beige-tans or gravel, very pale nude tones that are almost oyster white in shade, and titian blonde, a rich orange tan. You can buy the same colored hose at Rudge & Guenzel's for $1.85 and up.
