10,000 VISITORS AT FARMERS FAIR

Agricultural College Event Draws Enormous Crowd Afternoon and Night.

PROGRAM OPENS WITH BIG PARADE AT NOON

A crowd estimated at 10,000 attended the sixth annual Farmers fair held at the Agricultural College Saturday night. In the afternoon more than 6,000 persons viewed the exhibits and midway. The program opened at noon with a parade of more than thirty floats.

Led by the "rube" band, the procession, which extended for ten blocks, proceeded from the farm to Tenth and O, north to the University and back to the Agricultural college.

Following the band was the "Goddess of Agriculture" on a throne in a huge ear of corn, and surrounded by four attendant maidens.

A jitney bearing the invitation "Meet Me at the Yellow Dog" carried a typical old-time farmer within. A truck carried a standard asserting that "Even Pigs Like to be Clean" where a pig in whitewashed quarters ran up and down on a green grass runway.

Clowns in Parade.

The fife and drum corps, scores of mounted cowboys and cowgirls, a prairie schooner, and numerous clowns furnished the amusement for the bystanders while more serious floats furnished information of an educational nature.

One float illustrated the difference between a sprayed and an unsprayed fruit tree, another carrying attractive young ladies demonstrated the proper ingredients for healthful food, and still another illustrated the correct way to "treat your potatoes well."

Pick Champion Riders.

Round-up contests were held during the afternoon and Lee Beatty, of Valentine proved to be the champion all-around rider. The herd of bucking steers were ridden by experienced riders, Miles McCullough, of Diady, taking the prize in this event. Merile Anderson, of Waverly, was champion broncho-buster.

About 6,000 visitors viewed the midway and numerous exhibits from the domestic science, animal husbandry, agricultural engineering, chemistry, and other departments, in the afternoon. "The Forest Princess," a pageant with a cast of fifty-five, supervised and directed by Belva Timmerman and Mary Baily, was seen by more than 3,000 persons at both performances. The costumes were designed by the home economics department.

Dance Floor Crowded.

The serenaders furnished music in the afternoon. Both dance floors were crowded to the limit.

The crowd grew to about 10,000 in the evening and filled the two dance floors, the "Yellow Dog," and the various stands and side shows. The "Cornfield Follies" and "Jal Olson's Foot and Mouth Artists" were feature side-show attractions, while the Nebraskans and the Kandy Kids filled the air with music until 11:30 when the fair closed.

WICKS WILL ADDRESS STUDENT CONVOCATION

Editor of Manchester Guardian Weekly to Speak on "Labor and the Labor Party."

"Sidney F. Wicks' address on the British Labor Party is one of the most remarkable addresses I have heard in a long time. There is in it a profound insight into the spiritual meanings that party," says Rev. James C. Baker of Urbana, Illinois, in recommending the speaker for a general student convocation in the Temple theater, Monday at 11 o'clock. Mr. Wicks, who is one of the editors of the Manchester Guardian Weekly, will talk on "Labor and the Labor Party."

Prof. P. H. Crummann of the School of Fine Arts, who has charge of the convocation, states that Mr. Wicks has been actively engaged in educational, political and religious life in England and is well qualified to speak on this subject.

The Faculty Dinner club will hold a dinner Monday night at the Grand hotel in honor of the visiting editor.

University Student Will Represent District at Republican Convention

Frank M. Johnson, law '25, was elected, according to official returns just completed, to represent the sixth congressional district as a delegate to the Republican national convention which meets at Cleveland in June. So far as is known, this is the first time in the history of the University that a student while in school has been elected by his constituents as a delegate to a national convention.

The official vote in the "Big Sixth" district stood as follows:

- Coolidge delegates—
- N. P. McDonald—11,883.
- H. A. Copey—9,882.
- Johnson delegates—
- Frank M. Johnson—10,853.
- M. L. Fries—6,818.

Although running on the Hiram Johnson slate, Johnson will follow the instructions of his district and support President Coolidge in the convention. His home is at Cozad, Nebr., and he is well known throughout the sixth congressional district which is the largest district in the state, comprising thirty-four counties. He conducted no campaign at all and did not spend a cent to be elected.

Johnson is a member of Acacia fraternity, president of the University Republican club, president of the Square and Compass club, and on the law section of the Cornhusker staff. He is employed in the office of County Attorney Charles E. Matson during the hours that he has no classes.

To Start Third Round of Baseball Tourney

The third round of the interfraternity baseball tournament will start Monday afternoon. No games were played either Friday or Saturday.

Phi Alpha Delta protested the game which they lost to the Phi Kappa Psi's because Beerke, varsity basketball man, played for the Phi Psi's. The protest was upheld and the game will be played again the first part of the week.

ARMY OFFICERS MAKE THOROUGH INSPECTION

Include Every Branch of Infantry Training in Annual Examination.

Colonel Herman Glade and Major Walton Goodwin of Washington, D. C., inspected the R. O. T. C. regiment Friday, in every branch of infantry training offered in the military department. The principal event of the day was the regimental review and inspection in the afternoon. Classes of juniors and seniors were examined in the morning and Company M was further inspected on Saturday morning.

Close order drill, bayonet drill, "setting up" exercises, machine gun, Stokes mortar, one pounder, automatic rifle drill, extended order drill, and tent pitching were topics covered by the inspecting officers. A field problem carried out by Company C and machine gun, trench mortar, and one pounder squads of junior officers, ended Friday's work.

The inspectors were entertained during their stay by Major and Mrs. Sidney Erickson at a dinner on Friday night. All members of the military department together with the visiting officers were entertained at the Country club by Major and Mrs. Erickson on Saturday evening.

Colonel and Mrs. Mueller of Omaha made an informal visit to Lincoln Saturday. Colonel Mueller is chief of staff of the Seventh Corps Area. Major and Mrs. Peyton of Fort Omaha accompanied the inspectors during their visit to Lincoln.

PLAN ANNUAL HIGH SCHOOL FETE DAY

Schedule Track Meet, Debate Tournament, and Scholastic Contests.

ABOUT THREE HUNDRED STUDENTS TO COMPETE

The twenty-second annual high school athletic meet, the seventeenth annual contests of the Nebraska high school debating league, and the second annual interscholastic academic contests will bring approximately three hundred high school students to the University this week-end. All of the events will be concluded on Saturday, May 10, which has been designated as high school fete day.

Some new records for Nebraska high school tracksters are expected this year because the meet will be held in the stadium on a new track that is much better than the old one. Twenty-two schools have already entered the meet and about thirty more are expected. One and one-half fare for the round trip will be granted to track teams by all railroads.

District Winners Coming.

The winners in each of the eleven districts of the Nebraska high school debating league will compete for the state championship in the tournament beginning Thursday evening and ending Saturday morning.

The district-championship contestants will be: central district, Geneva; eastern, Omaha Central; east-central, Lincoln; north-central, Albion; northeastern, Wayne; southern, Superior; southeastern, Pawnee City; southwestern, Nebraska School of Agriculture at Curtis; western I, Elm Creek; western II, Perkins County High School, Grant; west-central, Comstock; Sidney, championship winners in the northwestern district, is not sending a team to the tournament.

The thirty-three state-debate contestants were picked from several hundred in the ninety-one league schools that since January have been discussing the proposition that "the United States should further restrict immigration."

KOSMET COMEDY WELL ATTENDED

"Wishing Ring" Presented Before Packed Houses at Two Cities.

NEARLY EVERY NUMBER HEARTILY APPLAUDED

Playing before crowded houses at the Orpheum Friday night and at the Gayety in Omaha Saturday, "The Wishing Ring", 1924 Kosmet Klub musical extravaganza, was one of the most popular school productions for many years. The play, presented by a cast of over seventy University people, proved a hit with the audiences and every number was called back for encores again and again. The story and music was written by Cyril L. Coombs, Law '23, author of the 1923 play.

The theme of the play relates the experiences of Dolly LaRon, a circus performer, with a magical wishing ring given to her by Tim, a fortune teller with the show. The ring allows her to make three wishes. Ted Morris, another performer, with whom Dolly is in love has left the circus for some unaccountable reason without telling her. Dolly wishes that she may be free to roam over the world, that she may make her debut into society and that she and Ted find a home in the west when he returns.

Wishes Portrayed.

The second and third acts show her wishes as being fulfilled in a gypsy camp, in a society reception and finally in her cottage in the west. Although she makes her wishes they do not come true and she gives the ring back to Tim. Just as she has lost her faith in everything, Ted returns and tells her that he has gone into business in the west and has a cottage for her. Everything turns out right and the wishing ring is used as her engagement ring.

The part of Dolly was played by Marguerite Munger and her solo, "The Wishing Ring" was one of the features of the comedy. Ward Wray took the lead opposite her and their love duet, "Shadow Time," in the last act was one of the many pretty song numbers.

Give Dance Numbers.

Some attractive dance numbers were presented. The dances were directed for the play by Miss Donna Gustin who appeared in a dance entitled "Memories of Cinderella." Miss Gustin and Herbert Yenne also gave a dance, "A La Argentine."

Orville Andrews as Samson the black-face comedian sang an amusing number entitled, "Dear Old Virginia." He was supported by a male quartet and was called back several times. Helen Cowan, taking the part of Mrs. DePyster also sang "One Little Word Dear."

Llewellyn Hawley, playing the part of Tim, an Irish fortune teller, inspired Dolly to have faith in the wishing ring until her wish came true.

A duet and dance was given by Katherine Saylor and Ralph Ireland in the third act. The school days dance given by the "school kids" and the appearance of John R. Baylor, three-year-old actor, in person were other features of the last act.

Other leading parts included Lord Algy Odlewell taken by Armin West and Rosa by Harriet Cruise. The choruses of over forty people gave several song and dance numbers.

Grace Coppock pledges are due and should be paid at once so that the committee can complete its report before the end of the semester, according to Margaret Williams, chairman of the last annual drive.

Weather Forecast

SUNDAY—Fair and slightly warmer.

Students will vote only for the candidates from their own colleges, except the juniors who will vote on the two men and two women senior representatives in addition to the college representatives.

This banquet is being inaugurated under the sponsorship of the student and alumni members of the interfraternity council and is the first of its kind to be attempted. It will mark the peak of the campaign, originated by the interfraternity council, to raise fraternity scholarship.

EDITOR OF BEE TO SPEAK AT BANQUET

Ballard Dunn Will Address Students at Interfraternity Meeting.

Ballard Dunn, editor of the Omaha Bee, will be principal speaker at the interfraternity banquet, Wednesday May 7, at the Grand hotel. Chancellor Samuel E. Avery and Prof. R. D. Scott will speak and scholarship awards will be made to the fraternities showing a minimum number of failures in scholarship.

At this time bronze plaques, will be presented to the fraternities having the lowest number of delinquencies for the school year. The plaques have been designated by Paul Laune of Lincoln and depict the figure of a student seated before an open book in the foreground with a mounted gladiator symbolic of energy and action in the background.

About 500 tickets have been sold up to the present time, according to Addison Sutton, chairman of the program committee.

CONVENTION DISCUSSES STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Midwest Convention Closes a Three-Day Session at Knoxville.

(Special to the Daily Nebraskan) Knoxville, Tenn., May 3.—The midwest student conference closed here this afternoon after a three-day session, the last two of which were devoted to the problems of student government. The discussion was inaugurated by an address to the convention by Dean Clark of Illinois. Dean Clark stated that the point of view in dealing with the student problems must be from the basis of principle rather than expediency. He challenged the effectiveness of student government at least in the matter of disciplinary measures, because of the students having to shoulder the necessary responsibilities which went with the work.

It was reported by the members of the conference that the single-tax fee was in general use either for all ac- (Continued on Page 3)

HUSKERS WIN AND LOSE TO AGGIES

Kansas Team Profits by Nebraska Errors in Opener But Drops Second Game.

FIRST HOME GAMES DRAW BIG CROWDS

Nebraska won from the Kansas Aggies, 9 to 8, in a game at the Farmers fair Saturday but dropped the opener to the visitors, 8 to 5, at Rock Island park Friday. Large crowds were on hand for both games.

The Cornhuskers ran up a three-point lead in the first three innings of the opening game, but blew-up in the fourth inning when the Aggies crossed the plate four times. Volz slammed the ball over the right field fence for a home run in the fifth after the Aggies had added two more points to their total. Neither team scored during the eighth and the Kansas athletes did the same in the ninth. Lewellen and Lang were the Nebraska battery, with Hubka going in as a substitute for Lang.

Two home runs by Bloodgood and two by Volz featured the Saturday game. Peterson was on the mound for Nebraska with Hubka catching. Cunningham, Aggie pitcher, was easy for the Huskers, and Conroy, who pitched Friday, was finally sent in. The score was tied at the end of the sixth but Nebraska made a run in the eighth. The Kansas team failed to score during the first of the ninth and the game was over.

The score by innings on the game Friday:
Kansas Aggies... 000 421 001—8
Nebraska 012 010 010—5
The score by innings on the last game:
Kansas Aggies... 410 021 000—8
Nebraska 501 200 01x—9
